Crime and Society in England Clive Emsley, 2013-09-13 Acknowledged as one of the best introductions to the history of crime in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Crime and Society in England 1750 1900 examines the developments in policing the courts and the penal system as England became increasingly industrialised and urbanised The book challenges the old but still influential idea that crime can be attributed to the behaviour of a criminal class and that changes in the criminal justice system were principally the work of far sighted humanitarian reformers In this fourth edition of his now classic account Professor Emsley draws on new research that has shifted the focus from class to gender from property crime to violent crime and towards media constructions of offenders while still maintaining a balance with influential early work in the area Wide ranging and accessible the new edition examines the value of criminal statistics the effect that contemporary ideas about class and gender had on perceptions of criminality changes in the patterns of crime developments in policing and the spread of summary punishment the increasing formality of the courts the growth of the prison as the principal form of punishment and debates about the decline in corporal and capital punishments Thoroughly updated throughout the fourth edition also includes for the first time illuminating contemporary illustrations " Art in the North of England, 1979-2008 "

Gabriel N. Gee, 2017-07-05 Based on rare archival material and numerous interviews with practitioners Art in the North of England 1979 2008 analyses the relation between political and economic changes stemming from the 1980s and artistic developments in the principal cities of the North of England in the late 20th century Looking in particular at the art scenes of Liverpool Manchester Leeds Sheffield and Newcastle Gabriel Gee unveils a set of powerful aesthetic reactions to industrial change and urban reconstruction during this period on the part of artists including John Davies Pete Clarke the Amber collective Richard Wilson Karen Watson Nick Crowe Ian Rawlinson John Kippin and the contribution of organisations such as Projects UK Locus East Street Arts the Henry Moore Sculpture Trust and the Bluecoat Gallery in Liverpool While the geographical focus of this study is highly specific a key concern throughout is the relationship between regional national and international artistic practices and identities Of interest to all scholars and students concerned with the developments of British art in the second half of the 20th century the study is also of direct pertinence to observers of global narratives which are here described and analysed through the concept of trans industriality The Photo-beacon ,1893 Television and

British Cinema Hannah Andrews, 2014-05-07 Undertaking a thorough and timely investigation of the relationship between television and cinema in Britain since 1990 Hannah Andrews explores the convergence between the two forms at industrial cultural and intermedial levels and the ways in which the media have also been distinguished from one another through discourse and presentation Liverpool and Manchester Photographic Journal ,2004 Understanding and Responding to Child Sexual Exploitation Helen Beckett, Jenny Pearce, 2017-12-15 The issue of child sexual exploitation CSE has received intense scrutiny in recent years following a number of high profile legal cases serious case reviews and inquiries

This has resulted in increasing expectations that those working in the field will know how to appropriately manage and respond to this form of abuse. Of course this is no easy task given the widely acknowledged difficulties of identifying and responding to sexual abuse and the particular complexities associated with the gain dynamic within CSE and the predominantly older age of children affected by it. This edited collection draws on the latest research evidence and academic thinking around CSE to consider issues of understanding and response. Written by researchers from The International Centre Researching child sexual exploitation violence and trafficking at the University of Bedfordshire. Part I considers issues of understanding and conceptualisation. Part II considers the practical implications of some of this thinking sharing learning from research and evaluation on prevention identification and response. Understanding and Responding to Child Exploitation presents critical learning for academics and students and for those working in the fields of policy practice and commissioning. It is relevant to a wide range of disciplines including social care youth work education criminology health and social policy.

Picture Sources UK Rosemary Eakins, Elizabeth Loving, 1985      The Rage Julia Ebner, 2017-09-30 The early twenty first century has been defined by a rise in Islamist radicalisation and a concurrent rise in far right extremism. This book explores the interaction between the new far right and Islamist extremists and considers the consequences for the global terror threat. Julia Ebner argues that far right and Islamist extremist narratives. The West is at war with Islam and Muslims are at war with the West complement each other perfectly making the two extremes rhetorical allies and building a spiralling torrent of hatred. The Rage By looking at extremist movements both online and offline she shows how far right and Islamist extremists have succeeded in penetrating each other's echo chambers as a result of their mutually useful messages. Based on first hand interviews this book introduces readers to the world of reciprocal radicalisation and the hotbeds of extremism that have developed with potentially disastrous consequences in the UK Europe and the US.

The Directory of Directors, 1996      Hollywood Spectatorship Melvyn Stokes, Richard Maltby, 2019-07-25 This is an examination of the concepts of spectatorship in the light of historical accounts of audience reception. The book looks at how audiences have historically talked about Hollywood movies and the ways in which word of mouth responses have affected the reception of individual movies.

The Wars of the Roses Anthony James Pollard, 1995-08-07 This collection of nine essays including the introduction by leading British scholars addresses recent debates concerning the Wars of the Roses especially their origins and the balance between self interest and principle in the motivation of the participants. The collection brings these issues forward for the consideration of sixth form and undergraduate students. While offering a summation of current viewpoints the collection also offers new interpretations on several points.

The Man With Maradona's Shirt Steve Hodge, 2010-05-20 Intimate behind the scenes account of the last age of innocence in football just prior to the Premiership based on the England midfielder's diaries. This is not a straightforward autobiography it's a snapshot of a vanished era of football. The 1980s and the early 1990s was the last era of relative innocence in football. Steve Hodge played alongside Hoddle Waddle and Ardiles in the lauded mid 1980s Spurs midfielder he was a dressing room witness to the vagaries charm whims and downright venomous side of Brian Clough he was at two World Cups being instrumental in the hand of God episode and hanging out with the likes of Gazza and Lineker four years later in Italy He won the last League Championship medal with Leeds then languished in the reserves with a somewhat shy cultured Frenchman As the balls would fly over the midfield Howard Wilkinson being a disciple of route one Eric Cantona would turn to him and repeatedly ask Hodgey why are we here THE MAN WITH MARADONA S SHIRT is a fascinating behind the scenes glimpse of life at the top

The Effects of Personal Involvement in Narrative Discourse Max Louwerse, Don Kuiken, 2014-05-22 Over the last several decades the study of discourse processes has moved from the complementary efforts characteristic of multidisciplinary research to the explicitly integrative focus of interdisciplinary research Some organizations have supported the methodological and conceptual merger of areas like literary studies psychology linguistics and education As evident in this special issue research concerning personal involvement in narrative discourse has benefited from these developments The five studies supported in this issue examine a range of potential determinants of personal involvement in narrative discourse These include overt verbalization of thoughts and feelings foregrounding preference for genre and protagonists relevance of the content of a text to the reader and identifying with a character These studies also examine different aspects of what is absorbed by the reader including sophisticated forms of questioning lasting appreciation of story points involvement with story characters commitment to story consistent beliefs and changes in the sense of self Collectively these studies challenge the conception of what it means to understand media presentations of fictional narratives as well as the conception of the strategies through which such understanding is attained

Dreaming of Fred and Ginger Annette Kuhn, 2002-11 One of the leading voices in cultural studies today examines the habits of British cinema audiences in the 1930s to reveal the role that cinema played in shaping their lives

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals, 1995 Avery Library, 1997-02 Studies in the Art and Imagery of the Middle Ages Richard Marks, 2013-12-31 Bedfordshire ... Clifford Gore Browne Wyatt Chambers, 1917 The National Interest in Question Christopher Hill, 2013-08-22

For three decades multiculturalism has been the focus of fierce debates At the same time Europeans have worried at the national level and at that of the European Union about how to relate to a world in which their influence has been steadily reducing But the two discussions on society and on foreign policy have rarely intersected The events of 11 September 2001 did shock the citizens of Western countries into an awareness that international politics could literally explode onto their home streets and generated fear and suspicion about and among minority groups But the excessive focus on terrorism and on Islam which followed hardly did justice to the deeper processes of transnationally induced change which were at work This book attempts to go beyond the emotive political debate to show how foreign policy and domestic society have been becoming more entangled with each other for some time It focuses on the more established Member States of the European Union and the varying paths which they have taken in coping with the new domestic environment fostered by increased migration ethnocultural diversity and transnational relations It investigates the contrasting approaches taken by the European states to what is loosely called multiculturalism and analyses their impact on the interplay between foreign policy and domestic society something which is now a structural feature of political life It concludes with the argument that since domestic society is now taking on some of the diversity associated with international relations governments can no longer assume a national consensus in their relations with the outside world let alone the steady homogenisation of world society     The Guardian Index ,2000     The British Journal of Photography William Crookes,T.A.
