Lampton, 2001-10 Three countries China Japan and the United States and relations among them are likely to have a disproportionate impact on prospects for peace and prosperity in Asia Pacific in the twenty first century If the differences among these major actors are managed successfully the prospects for the region are bright indeed Conversely if the three fail to manage their relationship successfully or if relations between any two of the parties are seen to threaten the third the risks for the region and beyond will increase dramatically

The Major Powers of Northeast Asia Tae-Hwan Kwak, Edward A. Olsen, 1996 The remnants of Cold War politics stand in the way of Northeast Asia's adjustment to the post Cold War era This book examines the security policies of Japan China Russia the US and Australia in the Northeast Asia region with reference to attempts to reunify the two Koreas

Security Cooperation in Northeast Asia T.J. Pempel, Chung-Min Lee, 2012-06-14 Defining and conceptualizing Northeast Asia's security complex poses unique quandaries The security architecture in Northeast Asia to date has been predominately US dominated bilateral alliances weak institutional structures and the current Six Party Talks dealing with the North Korean nuclear issue There has been a distinct lack of desire among regional countries as well as the US to follow in the footsteps of Europe with its robust set of multilateral institutions However since the late 1990s there has been burgeoning interest among regional states towards forming new multilateral institutions as well as reforming and revitalizing existing mechanisms Much of this effort has been in the economic and political arenas with the creation of bodies such as the East Asian Summit but there have also been important initiatives in the security sphere This book offers detailed examinations about how this potentially tense region of the world is redefining certain longstanding national interests and shows how this shift is the result of changing power relations the desire to protect hard won economic gains as well as growing trust in new processes designed to foster regional cooperation over regional conflict Presenting new and timely research on topics that are vital to the security future of one of the world's most important geographical regions this book will be of great value to students and scholars of Asian politics regionalism international politics and security studies

Japan and the Sino-Russian Entente 日本、中国、ロシア, Michael B. Yahuda, 2017 Examines the shifting relations between Japan China and Russia and assesses how the emerging dynamics between these three countries could shape major power relations in Northeast Asia and beyond
