

The Raven

Edgar Allan Poe - January 18, 1809-October 6, 1849

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered, weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore—
While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door—
"Tis some visitor," I muttered, "tapping at my chamber door—
Only this and nothing more."

And, distinctly I remember it was in the bleak December;
And each separate dying ember wrought its ghost upon the floor.
Eagerly I wished the morrow;—vainly I had sought to borrow
From my books surcease of sorrow—sorrow for the lost Lenore—
For the rare and radiant maiden whom the angels name Lenore—
Nameless here for evermore.

Make Something! Greig Means, 2003      Circulating Communities Paula Mathieu, Stephen Parks, Tiffany Rousculp, 2012-01-01 Circulating Communities The Tactics and Strategies of Community Publishing edited by Paula Mathieu Steve Parks and Tiffany Rousculp represents the first attempt to gather the myriad of community and college publishing projects providing not only history and analysis but extended samples of the community writing produced Rather than feature only the voices of academic scholars this collection features also the words of writing group participants community organizers literacy instructors librarians and stay at home parents as well In libraries community centers prisons and homeless shelters across the US and around the world people not traditionally understood as writers regularly come together to write offer feedback revise publish and most importantly circulate their words The vast amount of literature that these community publishing projects create has historically been overlooked by scholars of literature journalism and literacy Over the past decade however higher education has moved outward off campus and into the streets Many of these efforts build from writing and publication projects that extend back over decades are grassroots in nature and are independent of college efforts Circulating Communities offers a unique glimpse into how neighbor and scholar teacher and activist are using writing and publishing to improve the daily lives on the streets they call home      Anthology of 20 Stories: Crime Anish Deb, 2020-06-26 20 ace criminals involved in 20 mind boggling fictional crimes penned by the Masters of the Game such as James Hilton Arthur Conan Doyle G K Chesterton Dorothy L Sayers Frederick Brown Ross McDonald Stanley Ellin This anthology is sure to keep you at the edge of your seat while you enjoy your crime time      2018 Poetry & Short Story Anthology - Oregon Writers Edition David Meisburger, 2022-02-03 My plan is that this Anthology become an annual compilation of aspiring OregonaEURbased writers of Poetry and Short Stories for all genders and ages This initial edition finds fortyaEUReight Oregon writers from twentyaEUReight different Oregon cities submitting their original offerings spanning a wide variety of genres      Girl Zines Alison Piepmeier, 2009-11-18 Stroll through any public park in Brooklyn on a weekday afternoon and you will see black women with white children at every turn Many of these women are of Caribbean descent and they have long been a crucial component of New York s economy providing childcare for white middle and upper middleclass families Raising Brooklyn offers an in depth look at the daily lives of these childcare providers examining the important roles they play in the families whose children they help to raise Tamara Mose Brown spent three years immersed in these Brooklyn communities in public parks public libraries and living as a fellow resident among their employers and her intimate tour of the public spaces of gentrified Brooklyn deepens our understanding of how these women use their collective lives to combat the isolation felt during the workday as a domestic worker Though at first glance these childcare providers appear isolated and exploited and this is the case for many Mose Brown shows that their daily interactions in the social spaces they create allow their collective lives and cultural identities to flourish Raising Brooklyn demonstrates how these daily interactions form a continuous expression of cultural preservation as a weapon against difficult working conditions examining how this process unfolds through the use of cell phones food sharing and informal economic systems Ultimately Raising Brooklyn places the organization of domestic workers within the framework of a social justice movement creating a dialogue between workers who don't believe their exploitative work conditions will change and an organization whose members believe change can come about through public displays of solidarity

Todd Haynes Rob White, 2013-02-15 Todd Haynes's films are intricate and purposeful combining the intellectual impact of art cinema with the emotional accessibility of popular genres They are also underpinned by a serious commitment to feminism and queer theory From his 1985 student film about Arthur Rimbaud to his shapeshifting portrait of Bob Dylan in I'm Not There 2007 and the riveting HBO miniseries Mildred Pierce 2011 Haynes has made films whose complex weave of stories and characters reveals dark painful intensities His taste for narrative experimentation and pastiche is haunted by anguish Rob White's highly readable book which includes a major new interview with Haynes is the first comprehensive study of the director's work Special attention is paid to the fascination with music culture from the Carpenters to glam rock and to the rich pattern of allusions to or affinity with predecessor filmmakers Fassbinder Ophüls Sirk and many more But White's chief concern is the persistence of a queer impulse to explore social coercion and the possibility that there may be some way of escaping its cruelty
