Making History A Novel:

Making History Stephen Fry, 1997 Those of us who have already discovered Stephen Fry know him as the brilliant British comedian behind TV series such as Jeeves Wooster and Blackadder and the author of two enormously funny novels The Liar and The Hippopotamus But his new film in which he plays Oscar Wilde and his new novel this one represent a somewhat alarming departure from his previous work They are more serious Though humor is still an essential ingredient of both Fry's fans are finally getting to witness the emotional depth that this brilliant polymath usually keeps hidden In Making History Fry has bitten off a rather meaty chunk by tackling an at first deceptively simple premise What if Hitler had never been born An unquestionable improvement one would reason and so an earnest history grad student and an aging German physicist idealistically undertake to bring this about by preventing Adolf's conception And with their success is launched a brave new world that is in some ways better than ours but in most ways even worse Fry's experiment in history makes for his most ambitious novel yet and his most affecting His first book to be set mostly in America it is a thriller with a funny streak a futuristic fantasy based on one of mankind's darkest realities It is in every sense a story of our times From the Hardcover edition

Making History Richard Cohen, 2022-04-19 A supremely entertaining The New Yorker exploration of who gets to record the world's history from Julius Caesar to William Shakespeare to Ken Burns and how their biases influence our understanding about the past There are many stories we can spin about previous ages but which accounts get told And by whom Is there even such a thing as objective history In this witty wise and elegant The Spectator book Richard Cohen reveals how professional historians and other equally significant witnesses such as the writers of the Bible novelists and political propagandists influence what becomes the accepted record Cohen argues for example that some historians are practitioners of Bad History and twist reality to glorify themselves or their country Scholarly lively quotable up to date and fun Hilary Mantel author of the bestselling Thomas Cromwell trilogy Making History investigates the published works and private utterances of our greatest chroniclers to discover the agendas that informed their and our views of the world From the origins of history writing when such an activity itself seemed revolutionary through to television and the digital age Cohen brings captivating figures to vivid light from Thucydides and Tacitus to Voltaire and Gibbon Winston Churchill and Henry Louis Gates Rich in complex truths and surprising anecdotes the result is a revealing exploration of both the aims and art of history making one that will lead us to rethink how we learn about our past and about ourselves

Constructing a World Martha Tuck Rozett, 2012-02-01 Taking its title from Umberto Eco's postscript to The Name of the Rose the novel that inaugurated the New Historical Fiction in the early 1980s Constructing the World provides a guide to the genre's defining characteristics It also serves as a lively account of the way Shakespeare Marlowe Raleigh Queen Elizabeth I and their contemporaries have been depicted by such writers as Anthony Burgess George Garrett Patricia Finney Barry Unsworth and Rosalind Miles Innovative historical novels written during the past two or three decades have transformed the genre producing some extraordinary bestsellers as well as less widely read serious fiction Shakespearean scholar Martha Tuck Rozett engages in an ongoing conversation about the genre of historical fiction drawing attention to the metacommentary contained in Afterwords or Historical Notes the imaginative reconstruction of the diction and mentality of the past the way Shakespearean phrases names and themes are appropriated and the counterfactual scenarios writers invent as they reinvent the past

Timothy Findley's Novels Between Ethics and Postmodernism Dagmar Krause, 2005 Timothy Findley 1930 2002 is one of the most important contemporary Canadian writers His novels have been classified as postmodern exhibiting characteristic features such as parody historiographic metafiction and hybrid genres This classification of Findley as a postmodern writer however largely neglects the fact that Findley is deeply committed to the exploration of certain ethical and political themes Recurring topics in his work are for instance fascism environmental concerns and the problem of responsibility Sparked off by the fascinating question of how postmodernism and ethics can be reconciled at all and inspired by the so called ethical turn in the literary theory of the 1990s this study supplies a closer look at Findley's ethics with regard to its postmodern potential A detailed analysis of five of his novels The Wars Famous Last Words Not Wanted on the Voyage The Telling of Lies and Headhunter explores the ethical dimension of Findley's work and its consequences for his categorization as a postmodern writer

Mount Rainier Bryan Knedler and Jimmy Tarlau, 2016 Mount Rainier began its history as an incorporated town in 1910 with the merging of several subdivisions that straddled Bunker Hill Road a major route between the ports of Georgetown and Bladensburg Before the Civil War Thomas and Anna Clemson owned a 100 acre farm that fronted on that important road Their family letters provide some of the earliest writings about the area In 1891 Elizabeth and Estcourt Sawyer purchased the Clemson farm and named their subdivision Mount Rainier In 1899 the real estate became especially attractive to commuters when the District of Columbia's streetcar system was extended through the heart of the present day city that route now known as Rhode Island Avenue later became part of US Route 1

Boxing in Atlantic City John DiSanto and Matthew H. Ward, 2021 During the early years of Atlantic City AC boxing the fight game was bustling An array of ring talent from club fighters to champions came to the shore to compete at thriving venues like the Northside's Waltz Dream Arena and Convention Hall on the boardwalk Although ring action was plentiful the biggest fights were still happening elsewhere and boxing was just one of many entertainment options in AC However everything changed once gambling came to town As casinos popped up along the boardwalk Atlantic City fights got bigger and bigger By the late 1970s boxing was on the rise and within a few years business was booming Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson ushered in the city's peak era in the late 1980s a time when more than just fight fans turned their attention to Atlantic City for some of the biggest sporting events ever Although AC never again topped the impact of those days boxing action at the shore remained vital for decades to come From publisher

1964 Flood of Humboldt and Del Norte, The Greg Rumney and Dave Stockton Jr.,2014 The 1964 flood in the Eel and Klamath Rivers drainages represents an extreme weather event Both the Northern California and Southern Oregon coasts are host to many floods but the 1964 flood stands out as a representation of the perfect storm Three events occurred that led to the flood First a cold front moved in and dropped several feet of snow Second a warm front called the pineapple connection moved in and released lots of rain while melting the snowfall local measurements varied from 20 to 32 inches of rainwater in three days And third the highest tide of the year had backed up debris and water for several miles At its peak the Eel River was discharging more than 800 000 cubic feet per second Another contributing factor was that besides being one of the fastest rising and falling rivers in the world the Eel River has the heaviest sediment load second only to the Yellow River in China

Weir Farm National Historic Site Xiomáro ,2019 Weir Farm National Historic Site is

Connecticut's first national park and the only one in America dedicated to painting. No other book chronicles the property's rescue from residential development to its establishment as a park. Weir Farm was the home of Julian Alden Weir, 1852-1919, a leading innovator of American Impressionism. The farm's landscape inspired countless masterpieces created by Weir, his famous painter friends, two subsequent generations of artist owners, and contemporary artists who continue to create at the park. Westminster Nick Popadiuk, 2023-05 Westminster Colony was founded in 1870 by Presbyterian minister Rev. Lemuel P. Webber. The colony, based on Protestant Christian tenets and temperance, was one of the earliest settlements in what would later become Orange County, California. It developed into an important agricultural area until farmlands gave way to suburban tract homes during the county's population boom of the late 1950s and 1960s. In 1947, it became the background for the important Mendez v. Westminster case, which helped pave the way for the national dismantling of segregation in schools. A little more than a century after the first settlers arrived in Westminster, Little Saigon became the heart of Orange County's Vietnamese immigrant community. This latest group of settlers continues to make notable and unique contributions to this historic city.

Catholic New Hampshire Barbara D. Miles, 2020-07-06 In 1855, Rev. David W. Bacon became the first bishop of the Diocese of Portland, which included Maine and New Hampshire. Between the two states, six priests and eight churches ministered to a few hundred Catholics. In the following years, Bacon founded 63 churches, ordained 52 priests, built 23 schools, and attended to a Catholic population of about 80,000. In 1884, New Hampshire became an independent diocese. By 1903, founding bishop Denis Bradley introduced over 30 missions, parishes, schools, including Saint Anselm College, and charitable services. Since its inception in 1884, ten bishops selected from New Hampshire and other states have honored the Diocese of Manchester with their leadership. Throughout most of the 20th century, New Hampshire experienced growth in vocations and education. Starting in the 1970s, there was a decline of parochial students, vocations, and sacramental reception. Today, over 250,000 Catholics worship in the Granite State within 89 parishes.

Kordalski, 2015 Named for Versailles Palace in honor of the French allies during the American Revolution, Versailles Township was one of the original seven townships of Allegheny County. Francisco's lost treasures also include the popular Hamm's sign, the former two-toned foghorn, and the first insect to go extinct in the United States due to human behavior.
