Film/Music Analysis Emilio Audissino, 2017-10-14 This book offers an approach to film music in which music and visuals are seen as equal players in the game The field of Film Music Studies has been increasingly dominated by musicologists and this book brings the discipline back squarely into the domain of Film Studies Blending Neoformalism with Gestalt Psychology and Leonard B Meyer's musicology this study treats music as a cinematic element and offers scholars and students of both music and film a set of tools to help them analyse the wide ranging impact that music has in films

Poetics of Cinema David Bordwell, 2012-11-12 Bringing together twenty five years of work on what he has called the historical poetics of cinema David Bordwell presents an extended analysis of a key question for film studies how are films made in particular historical contexts in order to achieve certain effects For Bordwell films are made things existing within historical contexts and aim to create determinate effects Beginning with this central thesis Bordwell works out a full understanding of how films channel and recast cultural influences for their cinematic purposes With more than five hundred film stills Poetics of Cinema is a must have for any student of cinema

Post-Theory David Bordwell, Noel Carroll, 2012-11 Since the 1970s the academic study of film has been dominated by Structuralist Marxism varieties of cultural theory and the psychoanalytic ideas of Freud and Lacan With Post Theory David Bordwell and Noel Carroll have opened the floor to other voices challenging the prevailing practices of film scholarship Addressing topics as diverse as film scores national film industries and audience response Post Theory offers fresh directions for understanding film

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory Edward Branigan, Warren Buckland, 2013-12-04 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an international reference work representing the essential ideas and concepts at the centre of film theory from the beginning of the twentieth century to the beginning of the twenty first When first encountering film theory students are often confronted with a dense interlocking set of texts full of arcane terminology inexact formulations sliding definitions and abstract generalities The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory challenges these first impressions by aiming to make film theory accessible and open to new readers Edward Branigan and Warren Buckland have commissioned over 50 scholars from around the globe to address the difficult formulations and propositions in each theory by reducing these difficult formulations to straightforward propositions The result is a highly accessible volume that clearly defines and analyzes step by step many of the fundamental concepts in film theory ranging from familiar concepts such as Apparatus Gaze Genre and Identification to less well known and understood but equally important concepts such as Alain Badiou's Inaesthetics Gilles Deleuze's Time Image and Jean Luc Nancy's Evidence The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an ideal reference book for undergraduates of film studies as well as graduate students new to the discipline

Film Criticism, the Cold War, and the Blacklist Jeff Smith, 2014-03-26 Film Criticism the Cold War and the Blacklist examines the long term reception of several key American films released during the postwar period focusing on the two main critical lenses used in the interpretation of these films propaganda and allegory Produced in response to the hearings held by the House Committee on Un American Activities HUAC that resulted in the Hollywood blacklist these films ideological message and rhetorical effectiveness was often muddled by the inherent difficulties in dramatizing villains defined by their thoughts and belief systems rather than their actions Whereas anti Communist propaganda films offered explicit political exhortation allegory was the preferred vehicle for veiled or hidden political comment in many police procedurals historical films Westerns and science fiction films Jeff Smith examines the way that particular heuristics such as the mental availability of exemplars and the effects of framing have encouraged critics to match filmic elements to contemporaneous historical events persons and policies In charting the development of these particular readings Film Criticism the Cold War and the Blacklist features case studies of many canonical Cold War titles including The Red Menace On the Waterfront The Robe High Noon and Invasion of the Body Snatchers

Cognitive Media Theory Ted Nannicelli, Paul Taberham, 2014-03-26 Across the academy scholars are debating the question of what bearing scientific inquiry has upon the humanities The latest addition to the AFI Film Readers series Cognitive Media Theory takes up this question in the context of film and media studies This collection of essays by internationally recognized researchers in film and media studies psychology and philosophy offers film and media scholars and advanced students an introduction to contemporary cognitive media theory an approach to the study of diverse media forms and content that draws upon both the methods and explanations of the sciences and the humanities Exploring topics that range from color perception to the moral appraisal of characters to our interactive engagement with videogames Cognitive Media Theory showcases the richness and diversity of cognitivist research This volume will be of interest not only to students and scholars of film and media but to anyone interested in the possibility of a productive relationship between the sciences and humanities

Film Style and Story Lennard Højbjerg, Peter Schepelern, 2003 Style and story are two of the most debated concepts in film studies today Taking a cognitive perspective the anthology Film Style and Story focuses explicitly on the stylistic portrayal of human behavior in film ranging from studies of specific visual patterns to sound montages Contributions to this volume all share two characteristics they explore the ways in which styles and stories interact and they are inspired by the work of Torben Grodal professor of Film and Media Studies University of Copenhagen

Reading Hollywood Deborah Thomas, 2019-07-25 This book examines the treatment of space and narrative in a selection of classic films including My Darling Clementine It's a Wonderful Life and Vertigo Deborah Thomas employs a variety of arguments in exploring the reading of space and its meaning in Hollywood cinema and film generally Topics covered include the importance of space in defining genre such as the necessity of an urban landscape for a gangster film to be a gangster film the ambiguity of offscreen space and spectatorship how an audience reads an unseen but inferred setting and the use of spatially disruptive cinematic techniques such as flashback to construct meaning

The West in Early Cinema Nanna Verhoeff, 2006-01-01 Verhoeff investigates the emergence of the western genre made in the first two decades of cinema 1895-1915 By analyzing many unknown and forgotten films from international archives she traces the relationships between films about the American West their surrounding films and other popular media such as photography painting pulp literature Wild West Shows and popular ethnography Through this exploration of archival material she raises new questions of historiography and provides a model for historical analysis These first traces of the Western film reveal a preoccupation with presence and actuality that informs us about the way in which film as new medium took shape within the context of its contemporary visual culture

In The West in Early Cinema gaat Nanna Verhoeff op zoek naar de nog onbekende beginjaren van het westerngenre tijdens de eerste twee decennia van het medium film 1895-1915 Aan de hand van onbekende en vergeten films uit internationale filmarchieven traceert zij de relaties tussen films over het Westen omringende filmgenres uit deze periode en andere populaire media als fotografie schilderkunst pulp literatuur Wild West Shows en populaire etnografie Deze sporen van het genre tonen een grote actualiteit en variatie die laat zien op welke manier de film als nieuw medium een vorm vond binnen de toenmalige visuele cultuur

Arnheim for Film and Media Studies Scott Higgins, 2010-10-18 Rudolf Arnheim 1904-2007 was a pioneering figure in film studies best known for his landmark book on silent cinema Film as Art He ultimately became more famous as a scholar in the fields of art and art history largely abandoning his theoretical work on cinema However his later aesthetic theories on form perception and emotion should play an important role in contemporary film and media studies In this enlightening new volume in the AFI Film Readers series an international group of leading scholars revisits Arnheim's legacy for film and media studies In fourteen essays the contributors bring Arnheim's later work on the visual arts to bear on film and media while also reassessing the implications of his film theory to help refine our grasp of Film as Art and related texts. The contributors discuss a broad range of topics including Arnheim's film writings in relation to modernism, his antipathy to sound as well as color in film, the formation of his early ideas on film against the social and political backdrop of the day, the wider uses of his methodology and the implications of his work for digital media. This is essential reading for any film and media student or scholar seeking to understand the meaning and contemporary impact of Arnheim's foundational work in film theory and aesthetics. Valuing Films L.

Hubner, 2011-04-05 This volume gets to the heart of what films mean to people on personal, political and commercial levels. Exploring value judgements that underpin social, academic and institutional practices, it examines the diverse forms of worth attributed to a range of international films in relation to taste, passion, morality and aesthetics. Noël Carroll and Film

Mario Slušan, 2019-01-30 Noël Carroll is one of the most prolific, widely cited and distinguished philosophers of art, but how specifically has cinema impacted his thought? This book, one of the first in the acclaimed Film Thinks series, argues that Carroll's background in both cinema and philosophy has been crucial to his overall theory of aesthetics. Often a controversial figure within film studies as someone who has assertively contested the psychoanalytic, semiotic and Marxist cornerstones of the field, his allegiance to alternative philosophical traditions has similarly polarised his readership. Mario Slušan proposes that Carroll's defence of the notions of truth and objectivity provides a welcome antidote to anything goes attitudes and postmodern scepticism towards art and popular culture, including film. Carroll's thinking has loosened the grip of continental philosophers on cinema studies, from Maurice Merleau-Ponty to Gilles Deleuze and Jacques Lacan, by turning to cognitive and analytical approaches. Slušan goes further to reveal that Carroll's methods of evaluation and interpretation, in fact, usefully bridge gaps between these opposing sides to look at artworks anew. Throughout, Slušan revisits and enriches Carroll's definitions of popular art, mass art, horror, humour and other topics, and concludes by tracing their origins to this important thinker's relationship with the medium of cinema. Action and Image

Roy Armes, 1994 The concern of film theorists to read films as texts has led them to neglect the equally pressing need to see films as drama. Roy Armes sets out to redress the balance by drawing on the insights offered by recent developments in the theoretical study of drama and performance.

Film Moments James Walters, Tom Brown, 2019-07-25 Film is made of moments. In its earliest form, the cinema was a moment: mere seconds recorded and projected into the darkness. Even as film has developed into today's complex and intricate medium, it is the brief, temporary and transitory that combines to create the whole. Our memories of films are composed of the moments we deem to be crucial touchstones for our understanding and appreciation. Moments matter. The 38 specially commissioned essays in Film Moments examine a wide selection of key scenes across a broad spectrum of national cinemas, historical periods and genres, featuring films by renowned auteurs including Alfred Hitchcock, Jean Renoir and Vincente Minnelli, and important contemporary directors such as Pedro Costa, Zhang Ke Jia and Quentin Tarantino.

addressing films including City Lights Gone with the Wind The Wizard of Oz The Night of the Hunter Wild Strawberries 8 1 2 Bonnie and Clyde Star Wars Conte d t United 93 and Lord of the Rings Return of the King Film Moments provides both an enlightening introduction for students to the diversity of approaches and concerns in the study of film and a dynamic and vibrant account of key film sequences for anyone interested in enhancing their understanding of cinema The
