Male Domination and Power among the New Guinea Baruya. Maurice Godelier, 1986-01-01 Claude Lévi-Strauss Maurice Godelier, 2018-08-07 Anthropologist Claude Lévi Strauss was among the most influential thinkers of the twentieth century In this rigorous study Maurice Godelier traces the evolution of his thought Focusing primarily on Lévi Strauss's analysis of kinship and myth Godelier provides an assessment of his intellectual achievements and legacy Meticulously researched Lévi Strauss is written in a clear and accessible style The culmination of decades of engagement with Lévi Strauss's work this book will prove indispensable to students of his thought and structural anthropology more generally

Women of the Place Margaret Jolly, 2014-06-11 Women of the Place is a study of gender relations in the kastom communities of South Pentecost Vanuatu It considers kastom in these communities not as an eternal tradition but rather as a way of life an identity in relation and in resistance to the forces of European development The way in which Christian missions the labour trade and the development of Western political institutions had a divergent impact on women and men is explored The relations between persons and things is highlighted in an examination of the myths and rituals of the life cycle and of grade taking The significance of this ritual is located in the context of colonial history particularly the impact of pacification on men Finally the book considers more generally kastom and gender in the post colonial state The

Kaleidoscope of Gender Catherine G. Valentine, Mary Nell Trautner, Joan Z. Spade, 2019-03-07 The authors are proud sponsors of the 2020 SAGE Keith Roberts Teaching Innovations Award enabling graduate students and early career faculty to attend the annual ASA pre conference teaching and learning workshop The Kaleidoscope of Gender Prisms Patterns and Possibilities provides an accessible timely and stimulating overview of the cutting edge literature and theoretical frameworks in sociology and related fields in order to understand the social construction of gender The kaleidoscope metaphor and its three themes prisms patterns and possibilities unify topic areas throughout the book By focusing on the prisms through which gender is shaped the patterns which gender takes and the possibilities for social change the reader gains a deeper understanding of ourselves and our relationships with others both locally and globally Editors Catherine Valentine Mary Nell Trautner and the work of Joan Spade focus on the paradigms and approaches to gender studies that are constantly changing and evolving The Sixth Edition includes incorporation of increased emphasis on global perspectives updated contemporary social movements such as BlackLivesMatter and MeToo and an updated focus on gendered violence Thicker Than

Water Melissa Meyer, 2014-02-04 Blood is more than a fluid solution of cells platelets and plasma It is a symbol for the most basic of human concerns life death and family find expression in rituals surrounding everything from menstruation to human sacrifice Comprehensive in its scope and provocative in its argument this book examines beliefs and rituals concerning blood in a range of regional and religious contexts throughout human history Meyer reveals the origins of a wide range of blood rituals from the earliest surviving human symbolism of fertility and the hunt to the Jewish bris and the clitoridectomies given to young girls in parts of Africa The book also explores how cultural practices influence gene selection and makes a connection with the natural sciences by exploring how color perception influences the human proclivity to create blood symbols and rituals

Perspectives on the Bird's Head of Irian Jaya, Indonesia ,2023-07-31 The Bird s Head Peninsula of Irian Jaya has long been an area neglected by New Guinea Studies Only in the late seventies interest began to focus more intensively on this scientifically important border area between Austronesian and Papuan languages and cultures In the early nineties this led to the creation in The Netherlands of the Irian Jaya Studies programme ISIR which organizes and coordinates multi disciplinary research on the Bird s Head Peninsula Within this framework study of the peninsula has reached a peak with research being conducted in the area by scientists from different disciplines anthropology archaeology ethno botany demography development administration geology and linguistics The diverse perspectives of these disciplines are subject to constant internal debate Through ISIR and other research initiatives there is a growing body of data on and insights into the various disciplines concerned with this fascinating area with each discipline developing its own specific perspectives on the Bird s Head These perspectives were presented during the First International Conference Perspectives on the Bird s Head of Irian Jaya Indonesia organized by ISIR in cooperation with the Indonesian Institute of Sciences LIPI Jakarta and the International Institute for Asian Studies ILAS Leiden and held at Leiden University 13 17 October 1997 Researchers were informed on current perspectives in many disciplines to facilitate integration of findings into wider interdisciplinary frameworks and to stimulate international debate within and between disciplines As a result of the Conference the forty two contributions in these Proceedings present a wealth of recent developments from various disciplines in New Guinea Studies

Theorizing Masculinities Harry Brod,Michael Kaufman,1994-06-13 A new field of inquiry and growing interdisciplinary area men s studies is just now beginning to develop its own distinctive methodologies and perspectives as demonstrated in the pages of Theorizing Masculinities This first major compilation of new theoretical work on men begins by presenting ideas borrowed from the disciplines that have fostered the study of masculinities sociology psychoanalysis ethnography and inequality The following chapters explore many issues central to the study of men such as power ethnicity feminism and homophobia The contributors also provide theoretical explanations of some of the institutions most closely identified with men such as the military sports and the men s movement The contributors to this volume come from disciplines as diverse as sociology political science industrial relations philosophy education anthropology gender studies and literature Together they make this benchmark volume the guiding set of theories on masculinities Theorizing Masculinities is a comprehensive volume that will appeal to a wide range of students and scholars especially those interested in gender sociology social theory family studies counseling and psychology

Pentecostalism and Witchcraft Knut

Rio, Michelle MacCarthy, Ruy Blanes, 2017-10-29 This open access book presents fresh ethnographic work from the regions of Africa and Melanesia where the popularity of charismatic Christianity can be linked to a revival and transformation of witchcraft. The volume demonstrates how the Holy Spirit has become an adversary to the reconfirmed presence of witches, demons and sorcerers as manifestations of evil. We learn how this is articulated in spiritual warfare in crusades and in healing or witch killing raids. The contributors highlight what happens to phenomena that people address as locally specific witchcraft or sorcery when re-molded within the universalist Pentecostal demonology vocabulary and confrontational methodology. Handbook on Gender and Health Jasmine Gideon, 2016-05-27 This Handbook brings together a groundbreaking collection of chapters that uses a gender lens to explore health, health care and health policy in both the Global South and North. Empirical evidence is drawn from a variety of different settings and points to the many ways in which the gendered dimensions of health have become reworked across the globe. This collection includes insightful contributions from 56 leading authorities from Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe and the Middle East, offering a wealth of knowledge, theoretical reflection and empirical detail on the essential elements surrounding gender and health. Topics covered include theoretical approaches to understanding gender and health, migration, sexuality, ageing, masculinities, climate change and sexual and reproductive rights. Split into four thematic sections, this book strives to develop a clear road map towards achieving gender justice in health. The Handbook on Gender and Health will be an important resource for researchers, students and instructors of health policy and family and gender studies. The Imagined, the Imaginary and the Symbolic Maurice Godelier, 2020-01-28 What you imagined is not always imaginary, but everything that is imaginary is imagined. It is by imagining that people make the impossible become possible. In mythology or religion, however, those things that are imagined are never experienced as being imaginary by believers. The realm of the imagined is even more real than the real; it is super-real, surreal. Lvi Strauss held that the real, the symbolic and the imaginary are three separate orders. Maurice Godelier demonstrates the contrary: that the real is not separate from the symbolic and the imaginary. For instance, for a portion of humanity, rituals and sacred objects and places attest to the reality and therefore the truth that God, gods or spirits exist. The symbolic enables people to signify what they think and do, encompassing thought spilling over into the whole body, but also pervading temples, palaces, tools, foods, mountains, the sea, the sky and the earth. It is real. Godelier's book goes to the strategic heart of the social sciences for to examine the nature and role of the imaginary and the symbolic is also to attempt to account for the basic components of all societies and ultimately of human existence And these aspects in turn shape our social and personal identity The Melanesian World Eric Hirsch, Will Rollason, 2019-03-28 This wide ranging volume captures the diverse range of societies and experiences that form what has come to be known as Melanesia It covers prehistoric historic and contemporary issues and includes work by art historians political scientists geographers and anthropologists The chapters range from studies of subsistence ritual and ceremonial exchange to accounts of state violence new media and climate change The Melanesian world assembled here raises questions that cut to the heart of debates in the human sciences today with profound implications for the ways in which scholars across disciplines can describe and understand human difference This impressive collection of essays represents a valuable resource for scholars and students alike Mixed Blessings Amanda Whiting, Carolyn Evans, 2006-05-01 The essays in this volume explore some of the diverse and contradictory ways that the lives of women in the Asia Pacific region are shaped by two powerful regimes religion and law and by the interactions between them They show that for women laws customary colonial post independence and international and religions indigenous or introduced Buddhism Christianity Islam and Confucianism have been a mixed blessing These diverse legal systems and religious doctrines and institutions have variously denied women authority and the capacity to participate fully in the public organization of social political and religious life they have furthermore constructed gender and familial relations in ways that subordinate women Yet they have also offered promises of women s empowerment and provided rules and procedures norms values and interpretations of sacred traditions to deliver those emancipatory promises Each chapter is devoted to a single state first the history and current framework of the national legal system is introduced then the place of religion in the state is explained and finally by means of precise and detailed case studies or examples each author explores how these sometimes competing sometimes colluding regimes constructed women and how women interpreted this positioning and sought to resituate themselves Population, Reproduction and Fertility in Melanesia Stanley Ulijaszek, 2008-03-01 Human biological fertility was considered a important issue to anthropologists and colonial administrators in the first part of the 20th century as a dramatic decline in population was observed in many regions However the total demise of Melanesian populations predicted by some never happened on the contrary a rapid population increase took place for the second part of the 20th century This volume explores relationships between human fertility and reproduction subsistence systems the symbolic use of ideas of fertility and reproduction in linking landscape to individuals and populations in Melanesian societies past and present It thus offers an important contribution to our understanding of the implications of social and economic change for reproduction and fertility in the broadest sense Kinship, Networks, and Exchange Thomas Schweizer, Douglas White, Douglas R. White, 1998-06-13 This collection of articles aims at revitalizing the study of kinship and exchange in a social network perspective It brings together studies of empirical systems of marriage and descent with investigations of the flow of material resources in societies of

Africa Asia the Pacific and Europe Restudies of classic ethnographic cases and fieldwork studies of kinship and exchange demonstrate how the social and material aspects of society are related and address issues of concern to anthropology and the neighbouring disciplines of history sociology and economics This book marks the emergence of an era in the study of kinship and exchange using a productive combination of ethnographic substance with formal methods one which leaves behind older structural functionalist and culturalist assumptions

Leadership and Change in the Western Pacific R. Feinberg, K. A. Watson-Gegeo, 2021-01-07 An ethnographic exploration of the rise of new forms of leadership at community and national levels with islanders are synthesising traditional and Western models

Ancestral Presence Eric Hirsch, 2020-12-28 Ancestral Presence tells a history that has more than one history in it while also telling the story of the relation between worlds For the Fuyuge people of the Papuan highlands the past is not history in a conventional sense For them the world and its history derive from a creator force called Tidibe which is central to Fuyuge cosmology the Fuyuge are at the centre of the world But Fuyuge people are part of another history too they have experienced decades of mission and government influence from centres of power located elsewhere to which their mountain home is marginal and remote Through a detailed exploration of Fuyuge myth changes to ritual life and cosmology Eric Hirsch weaves an account of the relationship between these two histories He documents the real changes wrought by colonialism government and Christianity from the late nineteenth century to the turn of the millennium Yet this is not a story of continuity and change Hirsch demonstrates how transformation was always central to Fuyuge life changes brought by missionaries and government were processes they themselves initiated in the ancestral past through Tidibe the cosmological creator force Engaging in debates that have been pivotal to Melanesian anthropology the book presents an ethnographically rich account of a distinctive world cosmology and ideas of historical change It also raises questions regarding assumptions central to Western History its worldview and ideas of historical time

News as Culture Ursula Rao, 2010 More than just a fascinating description of newsmaking and practice in an Indian city this book has implications for theories of news and communication that make it a timely and significant contribution to the literature on journalism and newsmaking in the changing global environment Mark Peterson Miami University

Gossip and the Everyday Production of Politics Niko Besnier, 2009-07-08 Although gossip is disapproved of across the world's societies it is a prominent feature of sociality whose role in the construction of society and culture cannot be overestimated In particular gossip is central to the enactment of politics through it people transform difference into inequality and enact or challenge power structures Based on the author's intimate ethnographic knowledge of Nukulaelae Atoll Tuvalu this work uses an analysis of gossip as political action to develop a holistic understanding of a number of disparate themes including conflict power agency morality emotion locality belief and gender It brings together two methodological traditions the microscopic analysis of unelicited interaction and the macroscopic interpretation of social practice that are rarely wedded successfully Drawing on a broad range of theoretical resources Niko Besnier approaches

gossip from several angles A detailed analysis of how Nukulaelae's people structure their gossip interactions demonstrates that this structure reflects and contributes to the atoll's political ideology which wavers between a staunch egalitarianism and a need for hierarchy His discussion then turns to narratives of specific events in which gossip played an important role in either enacting egalitarianism or reinforcing inequality Embedding gossip in a broad range of communicative practices enables Besnier to develop a nuanced analysis of how gossip operates demonstrating how it allows some to gain power while others suffer because of it Throughout he is particularly attentive to the ways in which anthropologists themselves are the subject and object of gossip making his work a notable contribution to reflexive social science Written in an engaging and accessible style Gossip and the Everyday Production of Politics will appeal to students and scholars of political legal linguistic and psychological anthropology social science methodology communication conflict gender and globalization studies and Pacific Islands studies

Access to Origins Mary W. Helms, 1998-01-01 In many non industrial non Western societies power and prestige are closely linked to the extent of an individual's or group's perceived connection to the supernatural realm which also explains and validates tangible activities such as economic success victories in war or control over lucrative trade Affines in laws ancestors and aristocrats in particular are connected to the realm of creative cosmological origins i.e. to Genesis which accords them distinctive supernatural powers and gives them a natural and legitimate right to worldly authority This is the hypothesis that Mary W Helms pursues in this broadly cross cultural study of aristocracy in chiefly societies She begins with basic ideas about the dead ancestors affines and concepts of cosmological origins This leads her to a discussion of cosmologically defined hierarchies the qualities that characterize aristocracy and the political and ideological roles of aristocrats as wife givers and wife takers that is as in laws She concludes by considering various models that explain how societies may develop or define aristocracies
