Siegel,2014 A study of the ways in which Russian financial debt to French and British bankers influenced diplomacy among the nations in the late 19th and early 20th centuries WAGING WAR, MAKING PEACE American Anthropological Association. Reparations Task Force,2009 Humans are good at making war and much less successful at making peace Genocide torture slavery and other crimes against humanity are gross violations of human rights that are frequently perpetrated and legitimized in the name of nationalism militarism and economic development This book tackles the question of how to make peace by taking a critical look at the primary political mechanism used to repair the many injuries suffered in war With an explicit focus on reparations and human rights it examines the broad array of abuses being perpetrated in the modern era from genocide to loss of livelihood Based on the experiences of anthropologists and others who document abuses and serve as expert witnesses case studies from around the world offer insight into reparations proceedings the ethical struggles associated with attempts to secure reparations the professional and personal risks to researchers victims and human rights advocates and how to come to terms with the political compromises of reparations in the face of the human need for justice Waging War Making Peace promises to be a major contribution to public policy political science international relations and human rights and peace research Making Peace with Faith Michelle Garred,Mohammed Abu-Nimer,2018-01-15 Although religion is almost never a root cause it often gets pulled into conflict as a powerful element especially where conflicting parties have different religious identities Every faith tradition offers resources for peace and secular policy makers are more and more acknowledging the influence of faith based actors even though there remains a tendency to associate religion more with conflict than peace In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of The contributors are all practitioners whose faith or religious experience motivates their work for peace and justice in such a way that it influences their actions Their roles are diverse as some work for faith based institutions while others engage in secular contexts The multiple perspectives featured represent multiple faiths Muslim Christian Hindu Buddhist Jewish diverse scopes of practice different geographic regions Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one's faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike

Making Peace with Spain Whitelaw Reid, 2014-09-10 Whitelaw Reid according to H Wayne Morgan was a leading newspaperman more than an occasional diplomat a power in his party's politics a supporter of some of the best in his era's culture Of all his legacy perhaps the record he left of his part in the Peace of Paris is the most significant and most interesting It not only reveals the workings of his mind and of the peace conference but also suggests the complex currents that carried his country into the realities of world power in the twentieth century In editing Reid's diary Morgan used much material pertinent to the Paris Peace Conference of 1898 employed here for the first time This material is a rich assortment of archival matter the Reid Papers the John Hay Papers the John Bassett Moore Papers and the McKinley Papers in the Library of Congress the Peace Commission records in the National Archives and unpublished materials in the Central Files of the Department of State Whitelaw Reid as a war correspondent during the Civil War as clerk of the House Military Affairs Committee and later as a successor to Horace Greeley on the Tribune gained access to the leaders of his times and insight into their actions In 1889 he was appointed U S Minister to France by Harrison and in 1892 he had the dubious honor of being chosen as Harrison's running mate on the losing presidential ticket An influential friend and supporter of President McKinley and an occasional advisor to him Reid was no stranger to politics and to international diplomacy when McKinley appointed him to the Peace Commission that wrote the treaty concluding the Spanish American War As a matter of fact Reid's opinion reflected the administration's attitude of expansionism the policy of Manifest Destiny or imperialism as it was later called Reid's diary records the details of the sessions of the Joint Peace

Commission of Paris from September through a large part of December of 1898 His day by day entries reveal the complexity of issues to be considered the tactics of both the Spanish and the American Commissions in attempting to gain advantage for their respective governments the interplay of the personalities of the once proud Spaniards and the brash Americans the political objectives influencing the points of view of the various members and the maneuverings that brought about the final resolution of debated issues

Making Peace George J. Mitchell,2012-08-08 Fifteen minutes before five o clock on Good Friday 1998 Senator George Mitchell was informed that his long and difficult quest for an Irish peace accord had succeeded the Protestants and Catholics of Northern Ireland and the governments of the Republic of Ireland and the United Kingdom would sign the agreement Now Mitchell who served as independent chairman of the peace talks for the length of the process tells us the inside story of the grueling road to this momentous accord For more than two years Mitchell who was Senate majority leader under Presidents Bush and Clinton labored to bring together parties whose mutual hostility after decades of violence and mistrust seemed insurmountable Sinn Fein represented by Gerry Adams the Catholic moderates led by John Hume the majority Protestant party headed by David Trimble Ian Paisley's hard line unionists and not least the governments of the Republic of Ireland and the United Kingdom headed by Bertie Ahern and Tony Blair The world watched as the tense and dramatic process unfolded sometimes teetering on the brink of failure Here for the first time we are given a behind the scenes view of the principal players the personalities who shaped the process and of the contentious at times vitriolic proceedings We learn how as the deadline approached extremist violence and factional intransigence almost drove the talks to collapse And we witness the intensity of the final negotiating session the interventions of Ahern and Blair the late night phone calls from President Clinton a last ditch attempt at disruption by Paisley and ultimately an agreement that despite subsequent inflammatory acts aimed at destroying it has set Northern Ireland's future on track toward a more lasting peace

Shadow Work Book 1: Understanding and Making Peace With Your Darker Side Kelly Wallace, 2021-01-14 Discover the hidden forces that run and ruin your life We all have a darker side even if we're not aware of it or don't want to believe it When you ignore this shadow though it gets bigger and stronger and eventually starts making all of your decisions for you You might think that you're consciously directing your life but you aren't In this book Shadow Work: Understanding And Making Peace With Your Darker Side I want to show you how you can work on healing your shadow self rather than hiding from it When I refer to your darker side or shadow self I'm referring to the anger fear sadness rejection shame denial and embarrassment that we all stuff down inside Why do we do this Because we're taught from a young age that these feelings aren't acceptable so we go through life pasting on a false front and adding more layers to the shadow within We then project onto others what we unconsciously view as faults within ourselves and the more regret pain and suffering we face To change all of that you need to discover why your shadow took up residence in the first place and all of the experiences that have added to its strength over the years then work on resolving them Soon you'll be living the life you were meant to live by embracing those darker parts and making your shadow work with you rather than against you Whether you've struggled with money weight love or just about anything else after dissolving those shadows within you should notice your life changing in both small and dramatic ways You'll attract more positive people and better opportunities Life will be happier smoother and far more abundant

Transcending Greedy Money U. Duchrow, F. Hinkelammert, 2012-12-23 This major work offers an historical description and systematic analysis of the root causes of this global economic crisis which the authors understand as a crisis of western civilization and provides a comprehensive solution based on theological social justice

Not for Money Daniel Brian Simmons, 2021-07-30 Ideally there is not a price tag on everything meaning that it cannot be bought or sold Not for Money has its Christian born again author who takes on the topic of money specifically tithes and free will offerings It is as a reoccurring dream or thread like theme throughout the book The usual four line poem expressions also touch on the author's dealings with others around him his selfishness versus love and service If you as the reader do not consider yourself a Christian this book is for you neither did the author at one time If you are a Christian this book is for you equally The scriptures of the Bible accompany many poems as a reinforcement and origin of inspiration Not for Money enjoys parables In conclusion when Jesus was led of the Spirit into the wilderness or desert to be tempted of the devil for the third time the Bible says Again the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain and showeth him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them And saith says unto him All these things will I give thee if thou wilt will fall down and worship me Then saith Jesus unto him Get thee hence Satan for it is written Thou shalt shall worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve Then the devil leaveth him and behold angels came and ministered unto him Matthew 4 8 11 This temptation was nothing less than corruption an offer to take a short cut to get ahead a premature undue glory that Jesus saw right through Speaking the written word of God Jesus defended His stance that finally rid Him of further temptation Tragically for Jesus this meant the cross the long way to the permanent glory securing for us all eternal life With the example that Jesus set and to be followed How can we ask to be paid money when we proclaim this most tremendous history of Jesus courage The answer is we cannot and should not anymore
