Making Argument Work Knowing And Applying Basic Argument Strategies:

Making Argument Work Chris B. Crawford, James Doepke, 2007      Argument Tactics Xena Mindhurst, AI, 2025-01-31
Argument Tactics presents a groundbreaking approach to understanding and mastering the art of argumentation by uniquely combining psychological insights with philosophical principles. This comprehensive guide explores the intricate relationship between logical construction and psychological dynamics, demonstrating how effective arguments rely on both rational structure and understanding human cognitive processes. The book progresses systematically through three main sections, beginning with the fundamental architecture of arguments including premises, conclusions, and inferential relationships. It then delves into the psychological elements of argumentation, examining cognitive biases and decision-making patterns that influence how people process and respond to different forms of reasoning. The final section bridges theory with practice through real-world case studies from law, business negotiation, and academic discourse. What sets this work apart is its evidence-based methodology, drawing from cognitive science, formal logic, and communication studies to create a practical framework for argument construction. Rather than simply focusing on traditional debate techniques, it teaches readers how to recognize and counter logical fallacies while understanding the psychological factors that influence persuasion. This balanced approach makes it particularly valuable for professionals in fields requiring strong analytical skills and students developing their critical thinking abilities, offering both theoretical understanding and practical application strategies.

Argumentation in Multi-Agent Systems Peter McBurney, Iyad Rahwan, Simon D. Parsons, Nicolas Maudet, 2010-05-10
This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed proceedings of the 6th International Workshop on Argumentation in Multi-Agent Systems held in Budapest, Hungary, in May 2009, in association with the 8th International Conference on Autonomous Agents and Multi-Agent Systems (AAMAS 2009). The 18 revised full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions and are organized in four topical sections: on practical reasoning and argument about action; persuasion and negotiation; argumentation theory and applications; and emotions.

Computational Models of Argument S. Modgil, K. Budzynska, J. Lawrence, 2018-09-06
In its classical form, the study of argumentation focuses on human-oriented uses of argument, such as whether an argument is legitimate or flawed, engagement in debate, or the rhetorical aspects of argumentation. In recent decades, however, the study of logic and computational models of argumentation has emerged as a growing sub-area of AI. This book presents the Seventh International Conference on Computational Models of Argument (COMMA 18) held in Warsaw, Poland, from 12 to 14 September 2018. Since its inception in 2006, the conference and its related activities have developed alongside the steady growth of interest in computational argumentation worldwide, and the selection of 25 full papers and 17 short papers out of a total of 70 submissions, and 15 demonstration abstracts included here, reflect the broad multidisciplinary nature of argumentation and the increasing body of work which establishes the relevance of computational models to various disciplines and real-world applications. Subjects covered include algorithm development innovative applications argument mining argumentation based models of dialogue abstract argument frameworks and structured argumentation Representing an overview of current developments in the field this book will appeal to all those with an interest in computational models of argument
