Making Ethnic Ways:

Making Ethnic Ways Bill Brayman, 1998 Based on extensive archival research and substantial fieldwork in Kenya Braveman's book is an important addition to scholarship on East African history Bound for Work Zachary Kagan Guthrie, 2018-10-10 Diverging from the studies of southern African migrant labor that focus on particular workplaces and points of origin Bound for Work looks at the multitude of forms and locales of migrant labor that individuals under more or less coercive circumstances engaged in over the course of their lives Tracing Mozambican workers as they moved between different types of labor across Mozambique Rhodesia and South Africa Zachary Kagan Guthrie places the multiple venues of labor in a single historical frame expanding the regional historiography beyond the long shadow cast by the apartheid state while simultaneously exploring the continuities and fractures between South Africa southern Africa and sub Saharan Africa Kagan Guthrie's holistic approach to migrant labor yields several important conclusions First he highlights the importance of workers choices explaining not just why people moved but why they moved in the ways they did how they calculated the benefits of one destination over another and how they decided when circumstances made it necessary to move again Second his attention to mobility gives a much clearer view of the mechanisms of power available to colonial authorities as well as the limits to their effectiveness Finally Kagan Guthrie suggests a new explanation for the divergent trajectories of southern and sub Saharan Africa in the aftermath of World War II Please, Take Photographs Sindiwe Magona, 2009 Sindiwe Magona s poems conspire with her Even years after being written they still seem warm from her lips and it is this residue of her telling them that draws you into their confidence From the languid innocence of the poems about her village to her shattering images of Africa at war Magona leads you headlong into her fireside circle where archetypes flicker like shadows on a face that has seen and been Please Take Photographs is defiant and tender horrific and homely at once irreverent outspoken and beautiful Politics of the Womb Lynn Thomas, 2003-08-20 In more than a metaphorical sense the womb has proven to be an important site of political struggle in and about Africa By examining the political significance and complex ramifications of reproductive controversies in twentieth century Kenya this book explores why and how control of female initiation abortion childbirth and premarital pregnancy have been crucial to the exercise of colonial and postcolonial power This innovative book enriches the study of gender reproduction sexuality and African history by revealing how reproductive controversies challenged long standing social hierarchies and contributed to the construction of new ones that continue to influence the fraught politics of abortion birth control female genital cutting and HIV AIDS in Africa Labour and Christianity in the Mission Michelle Liebst, 2021 Important and broadening study of the way Africans engaged with missions not as beneficiaries of humanitarian philanthropy but as workers The important role missions played as places of work has been underexplored yet missionaries were some of the earliest Europeans who tried to control African labour African mission workers roles were not just religious and educational as they were actively involved not always voluntarily in building and domestic work

Focusing on the Anglican Universities Mission to Central Africa UMCA in Tanganyika and Zanzibar in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Michelle Liebst shows how missionaries both supported and undermined the livelihood trajectories of Africans Revealing the changing nature of relations over time between missionaries who referred to themselves as workers and the African mission workers including teachers and priests whom missionaries referred to as helpers reflected broader political transformations and this innovative study of missions role in society adds a critical dimension to our understanding of their function and socio economic impact and the history of Christianity in Africa Power, Culture and Modernity in Nigeria Oluwatoyin Oduntan, 2018-05-23 In this book Oluwatoyin Oduntan offers a critical intervention in the scholarly fields of Nigerian and West African history as well as towards understanding the intellectual ideas by which modern African society was formed and how it functions. The book traces the shifting dynamics between various segments of the African elite by critically analyzing existing historical accounts traditions and archival documents First it explores the lost world of native intellectual thoughts as the perspective through which Africans experienced the colonial encounter It thereby makes Africans central to contemporary debates about the meanings and legitimacy of colonial empires and about the African cultural experience It shows that the resettlement of liberated and Westernized Africans in Abeokuta and after them European missionaries merchants and colonial agents from the 1840s did not dismantle preexisting power structures and social relations Rather educated Africans and Europeans entered into and added their voices to ongoing processes of defining culture and power By rendering a continuing narrative of change and adaptation which connects the pre colonial to the post colonial Power Culture and Modernity in Nigeria leads Africanist scholarship in new directions to rethink colonial impact and uncover the total creative sites of changes by which African societies were formed Slavery and Emancipation in Islamic East Africa Elisabeth McMahon, 2013-04-30 This book demonstrates the links between emancipation and the redefinition of honour among all classes of people on the island of Pemba Politics of Social Change in Ghana B. Talton, 2010-01-04 With Ghana's colonial and postcolonial politics as a backdrop this book explores the ways in which historically marginalized communities have defined and redefined themselves to protect their interests and compete politically and economically with neighbouring ethnic groups Constructing Race and Ethnicity in America Dvora Yanow, 2015-02-18 What do we mean in the U S today when we use the terms race and ethnicity What do we mean and what do we understand when we use the five standard race ethnic categories White Black Asian Native American and Hispanic Most federal and state data collection agencies use these terms without explicit attention and thereby create categories of American ethnicity for political purposes Davora Yanow argues that race and ethnicity are socially constructed concepts not objective scientifically grounded variables and do not accurately represent the real world She joins the growing critique of the unreflective use of race and ethnicity in American policymaking through an exploration of how these terms are used in everyday practices Her book is filled with current examples and analyses from a wealth of social institutions health care education criminal justice and government at all levels The questions she raises for society and public policy are endless Yanow maintains that these issues must be addressed explicitly publicly and nationally if we are to make our policy and administrative institutions operate more effectively Working the Navajo Way Colleen M. O'Neill, 2005 O Neill chronicles a history of Navajo labor that illuminates how cultural practices and values influenced what it meant to work for wages or to produce commodities for the marketplace Through accounts of Navajo coal miners weavers and those who left the reservation in search of wage work she explores the tension between making a living the Navajo way and working elsewhere Religious Inventions William Arnal, Erin K. Vearncombe, 2025-05-13 Religion is a modern invention a category used to describe and study certain kinds of human behaviour Yet when it comes to the ancient world and its texts including those that comprise the Jewish and Christian Bibles it can be easy to forget that they did not fall from the sky as simple expressions of dogma Rather the ancient writings of early Judaism and Christianity are firmly rooted in the world and are the product of an astonishing array of human experience and agency acts of self fashioning of imaginative speculation of mourning and memorializing of forming dissolving or refashioning group identities and more Religious Inventions asks how modern conceptions of religion can shed light on the relics textual and otherwise of ancient Mediterranean Jews and Christians What insights from the contemporary study of religious behaviours and practices challenge what we think we know about the ancient world Conversely how can thinking about the ancient world challenge what we think we know about religion today This volume responds to these questions through explorations of the material and social circumstances behind the production of written artifacts It examines how religious practices relate to conceptions of identity and critiques the utility of the comparative method for approaching ancient writings Textual authority is used and abused by many of today s public figures Religious Inventions offers an alternative approach to understanding how authority is constructed from the ground up by the creative actions and choices of real people who lived long ago Sounds American Ann Ostendorf, 2011-09-15 Sounds American provides new perspectives on the relationship between nationalism and cultural production by examining how Americans grappled with musical diversity in the early national and antebellum eras During this period a resounding call to create a distinctively American music culture emerged as a way to bind together the varied changing and uncertain components of the new nation This played out with particular intensity in the lower Mississippi River valley and New Orleans especially Ann Ostendorf argues that this region often considered an exception to the nation with its distance from the center of power its non British colonial past and its varied population actually shared characteristics of many other places eventually incorporated into the country thus making it a useful case study for the creation of American culture Ostendorf conjures the territory s phenomenally diverse music ways including grand operas and balls performances by church choirs and militia bands and itinerant violin instructors Music was often associated with foreigners in particular Germans French Irish and Africans For these outsiders music helped preserve collective identity But for critics concerned with developing a national culture this multitude of influences presented a dilemma that led to an obsessive categorization of music with racial ethnic or national markers Ultimately the shared experience of categorizing difference and consuming this music became a unifying national phenomenon Experiencing the unknown became a shared part of the American experience
