Mediation Of Patriarchy And Sexism By Women In South Africa:

Mediation of Patriarchy and Sexism by Women in South Africa Boatamo Mosupyoe,1999 How Women in the Zion Christian Church Mediate Patriarchy and Non-sexism with Their Education and Social Development Boatamo Yvonne Mosupyoe-Nthabu,1999 Ritual Healing in the Zion Christian Church in South Africa Mookgo Solomon Kgatle,2025-10-16 This book signifies a distinct separation of the ritual healing process in the Zion Christian Church from traditional African medicine while also attempting to synthesize contemporary medical approaches with indigenous knowledge systems The Zion Christian Church is recognized for its distinctive amalgamation of religious activities which include faith healing prophecy and significant pilgrimages particularly the Easter pilgrimage to Morija Despite the church's emphasis on the Christian identity within its faith healing practices some observers interpret various rituals and beliefs as syncretic Consequently these readings have led to allegations that the church integrates aspects of African traditional medicine and witchcraft into its rituals This book utilizes the church as a case study to examine healing faith practices and rituals thereof within the larger framework and context of African Independent Churches This theology is used to help place the faith of patients and the importance of God's role as healer ahead of the healing rituals Its unique theme driven interconnected chapters contain discussions around various practices encompassing purification and protection rituals as well as therapeutic worship Consequently scholars in religious studies theology anthropology and history will find this book an important resource in understanding the role of healing rituals among African Independent Churches Gender and Multiculturalism Amanda Gouws, Daiva Stasiulis,2015-12-22 Multiculturalism is a concept that has been stretched to include a variety of political conditions mainly in countries that have liberal democratic political systems and traditions In this North South comparison we illuminate remedies pursued by governments and various political interests to address the binary Tensions of culture and rights may not be the same everywhere An interesting point of comparison is in the treatment of liberalism often assumed in the global North to be the universal norms to be defended whereas in the global South liberalism itself may be viewed as the problem Colonial histories are fraught with discriminatory legislation aimed at accommodating indigenous populations often a trade off for more structural redistributive justice through for example land reform In Africa for example the codification of customary law has reinforced misogynistic and static interpretations of African culture This book will show how varied and complex the embodiment of multiculturalism as a political practice or policy discourse in different political contexts can be and how often the outcome of multicultural discourses creates a binary between culture and universal human rights The aim of this book is to grapple with dislodging this binary This book was published as a special issue of Politikon Macho Men in South African Gyms Jacques Rothmann,2022-10-10 This book explores the experiences of self identified heterosexual and gay men in contemporary South African gym contexts particularly as it relates to how the intersection of spornosexual and inclusive masculinities inform their views and enactment of their masculine and sexual identities Chapters engage with findings from an in depth qualitative sociological exploration on issues surrounding these masculinities among men living in South Africa who engage in gym work The author demonstrates that men when given the opportunity to reflect on their own and the masculinity of others acknowledge how they promote softer kinder disciplined playful and sexually agentic masculinities through their look and touch

Boatamo Mosupye, 2010-11-26 Three interdependent main factors motivate my interest in the Zion Christian Church henceforth ZCC The first is personal and dates back to my childhood years The second also to a certain degree personal pertains to the political events of the 1990 in South Africa specifically the call to a non-sexist society The two came to heavily bear on my choice of a topic for this study thus making my third interest academic The multitude of anthropological literature on leadership on churches of the ZCC type further motivates my academic interest The literature focuses mainly on male leadership in these churches This is so in spite of the fact that in most of these types of churches women constitute the majority I felt the need to examine gender and leadership in the domain of the ZCC in particular

Globalization and Education Nelly P. Stromquist,Karen Monkman,2014-03-04 We offer in this book a collection of chapters that reflect a broad range of issues linking globalization to education in an accessible yet theoretically grounded and detailed form The authors analyze phenomena on the global plane in local spaces and in the connections between the global and the local New developments such as the growing impact of technology on education the emergence of new policy actors the growing expansion and segmentation of higher education the salience of human rights among others are emerging as powerful agendas shaping all levels of education In fundamental ways the forces of globalization challenge the previous approaches and theories of national development Recognizing the areas of convergence dissonance and conflict should help us grasp with greater clarity the implications of globalization for education and knowledge in the XXI century The contributors to this book include both well known scholars in the field of comparative education as well as young scholars The chapters present a balanced geographical coverage in terms of authors and the countries regions examined The second edition has been thoroughly updated throughout and contains seven new chapters

The expanding interest in the intersection of education and globalization has brought up several new topics including the salience of global education policies notably EFA the expansion and differentiation of higher education the emphasis on work related training the increasing role of non state actors such as the transnational corporations and greater attention to human rights Also in this new edition is a chapter on qualitative methodologies especially suitable to the understanding of the intersection of globalization and education The New York Times Index ,1998 The Politics of the Near Jérôme Tournadre,2022-05-17 The Politics of the Near offers a novel approach to social unrest in post apartheid South Africa Keeping the noise of demonstrations barricades and clashes with the police at a distance this ethnography of a poor people s movement traces individual commitments and the mainsprings of mobilization in the ordinary social and intimate life of activists their relatives and other township residents Tournadre s approach picks up on aspects of activists lives that are often neglected in the study of social movements that help us better understand the dynamics of protest and the attachment of activists to their organization and its cause What Tournadre calls a politics of the near takes shape through sometimes innocuous actions and beyond the separation between public and domestic spheres By mapping the daily life of Black and low income neighborhoods and the intimate domain where expectations and disappointments surface The Politics of the Near offers a different perspective on the rainbow nation a perspective more sensitive to the fact that three decades after the end of apartheid poverty and race are still as tightly interwoven as ever Guide American Anthropological Association,2006
