engaging fashion The Miraculous Flying House of Loreto Karin Vélez, 2019 In 1295 a house fell from the evening sky onto an Italian coastal road by the Adriatic Sea Inside awestruck locals encountered the Virgin Mary who explained that this humble mud brick structure was her original residence newly arrived from Nazareth To keep it from the hands of Muslim invaders angels had flown it to Loreto stopping three times along the way This story of the house of Loreto has been read as an allegory of how Catholicism spread peacefully around the world by dropping miraculously from the heavens In this book Karin Vélez calls that interpretation into question by examining historical accounts of the movement of the Holy House across the Mediterranean in the thirteenth century and the Atlantic in the seventeenth century These records indicate vast and voluntary involvement in the project of formulating a branch of Catholic devotion Vélez surveys the efforts of European Jesuits Slavic migrants and indigenous peoples in Baja California Canada and Peru These individuals contributed to the expansion of Catholicism by acting as unofficial authors inadvertent pilgrims unlicensed architects unacknowledged artists and unsolicited cataloguers of Loreto Their participation in portaging Mary's house challenges traditional views of Christianity as a prepackaged European export and instead suggests that Christianity is the cumulative product of thousands of self-appointed editors Vélez also demonstrates how miracle narratives can be treated seriously as historical sources that preserve traces of real events Drawing on rich archival materials The Miraculous Flying House of Loreto illustrates how global Catholicism proliferated through independent initiatives of untrained laymen Missionary Practices and Spanish Steel Andrew L. Toth, 2012-10 The work and ministries of the Roman Catholic friars who gave their lives both as martyrs for the cause of their church and in years of hard and often thankless labor are the inspiration and basis for Missionary Practices and Spanish Steel a theological and practical narrative that seeks to remember and understand their accomplishments in Christian mission Missionary and theologian Andrew L. Toth investigates the roots of Christian mission as it developed into the field of Christian missiology in the chaotic terrible and incredibly diverse three hundred year Spanish conquest of North America indigenous nations Through his research Toth shows that in the great majority of the cases studied the friars accomplished their goals to transform these native cultures into their own Spanish culture to account them as Roman Catholic Christians This study is more than just a history of the friars' missionary movement Toth not only explores how Spanish Catholic missionaries approached their work but also asks to what extent their approach conformed to a particular theological perspective Toth rounds out his argument by speculating on what the friars can teach us about the role of missionaries today Comprehensive and thought provoking Missionary Practices and Spanish Steel offers a new perspective on the current missionary movement by looking through the lens of the past Fodor's Los Cabos & the Baja Peninsula, 2008 A comprehensive travel guide to Los Cabos and the Baja Peninsula with maps and information on hotels and restaurants beaches and outdoor activities shopping and entertainment and interesting tourist sites The Other California Verónica Castillo-Muñoz, 2017 Introduction the Mexican borderlands Building the Mexican borderlands The making of Baja California

Zappia,2014-08-25 The Colorado River region looms large in the history of the American West vitally important in the designs and dreams of Euro Americans since the first Spanish journey up the river in the sixteenth century But as Natale A Zappia argues in this expansive study the Colorado River basin must be understood first as home to a complex Indigenous world Through 300 years of western colonial settlement Spaniards Mexicans and Americans all encountered vast Indigenous borderlands peopled by Mojaves Quechans Southern Paiutes Utes Yokuts and others bound together by political economic and social networks Examining a vast cultural geography including southern California Nevada Utah Arizona Sonora Baja California and New Mexico Zappia shows how this interior world pulsed throughout the centuries before and after Spanish contact solidifying to create an autonomous interethnic Indigenous space that expanded and adapted to an ever encroaching global market economy Situating the Colorado River basin firmly within our understanding of Indian country Traders and Raiders investigates the borders and borderlands created during this period connecting the coastlines of the Atlantic and Pacific worlds with a vast Indigenous continent Strangers in a Stolen

Griffith, 2019-10-01 we move to the town of Aconchi on the Rio Sonora

where the mission church once contained a life sized crucifix with a black corpus known both as Nuestro Señor de Esquipulas and El Cristo Negro de Aconchi So describes well known and beloved folklorist James S Griffith as he takes us back through the decades to a town in northern Sonora where a statue is saved and in so doing a community is saved as well In Saints Statues and Stories Griffith shares stories of nearly sixty years of traveling through Sonora As we have come to expect through these journeys Big Jim as he is affectionately known by many offers nothing less than the living traditions of Catholic communities Themes of saints as agents of protection or community action are common throughout Sonora a saint coming out of the church to protect the village a statue having a say in where it resides and paying social calls to other communities or a beloved image rescued from destruction and then revered on a private altar A patron saint saves a village from outside attackers in one story a story that has at least ten parallels in Sonora's former mission communities Details may vary but the general narrative remains the same when hostile nonbelievers attack the village the patron saint of the church foils them Griffith uncovers the meanings behind the devotional uses of religious art from a variety of perspectives from artist to audience preservationist to community member The religious artworks transcend art objects Griffith believes and function as ways of communicating between this world and the next Setting the stage with a brief geography Griffith introduces us to roadside shrines artists fiestas saints and miracles Full color images add to the pleasure of this delightful journey through the churches and towns of Sonora The Journal of Arizona History, 2014 Ethnobiology for the Future Gary Paul

Nabhan, 2016-04-15 The book centers on a call to define/redefine the field of ethnobiology and the need for doing so It points a major way forward for ethnobiology toward engagement with people and communities that are saving ecosystems and lifestyles through reviving traditional agricultural items and techniques and integrating them into the contemporary world Provided by publisher Private Women, Public Lives Bárbara O. Reyes, 2010-01-01 Through the lives and works of three women in colonial California Bárbara O Reyes examines frontier mission social spaces and their relationship to the creation of gendered colonial relations in the Californias She explores the function of missions and missionaries in establishing hierarchies of power and in defining gendered spaces and roles and looks at the ways that women challenged and attempted to modify the construction of those hierarchies roles and spaces Reyes studies the criminal inquiry and depositions of Barbara Gandiaga an Indian woman charged with conspiracy to murder two priests at her mission the divorce petition of Eulalia Callis the first lady of colonial California who petitioned for divorce from her adulterous governor husband and the testimonio of Eulalia Prez the head housekeeper at Mission San Gabriel who acquired a position of significant authority and responsibility but whose work has not been properly recognized These three women s voices seem to reach across time and place calling for additional more complex analysis and questions Could women have agency in the colonial Californias Did the social structures or colonial processes in place in the frontier setting of New Spain confine or limit them in particular gendered ways And were gender dynamics in colonial California explicitly rigid as a result of the imperatives of the goals of colonization

East Asia, Latin America, and the Decolonization of Transpacific Studies Chiara Olivieri, Jordi Serrano-Muñoz, 2022-01-03 In this collective work researchers from different disciplines reflect upon the challenges and opportunities of decolonizing transpacific studies through the lens of a few paradigmatic case studies that deal with connections between East Asia and Latin America The present book offers a productive problematization of the idea of the transpacific as a concept and a space that is not restricted to a single definition We defend that the transpacific can instead promote an understanding of agents and experiences that share many common traits that have been generally overlooked by a hegemonic interpretation of knowledge and the relationship between regions By fostering an environment that not only accepts a plurality of views but that actively looks to accommodate analogous tangential and even contradicting approaches to the study of our ideas we seek a double objective First we hope to highlight precisely the richness within the idea of the transpacific avoiding sticking to any particular conception to it while at the same time acknowledging and owning each of our points of enunciation Our second objective is part of a constant struggle in the quest towards social and epistemic justice By adopting this stance of plurality we can fight against structures of knowledge production and reproduction that willingly or unintentionally instill specific interpretations in ways that inculcate exclusivity The goal of this book is opening up and expanding the debate regarding transpacific connections examining the limits and promises of including these experiences within the conceptual paradigm of the Global South and showcasing different ways of approaching decolonial research to the study of the relationship between East Asia and Latin America
