the richness and range of the work which has developed over this relatively short period within the political economy approach. Moreover, from being a debate within an institutionally defined discipline of geography to introducing into that discipline ideas and discussions from the wider fields of philosophy and social science and the humanities more generally, it has now flowered into a consistent part of enquiries that span the entire realm of social studies. Bibliographies and Literature of Agriculture, 1978. A Rural Studies Bibliography, 1991. Economic Development and Inequality in China Hong Yu, 2017-09-29. The conventional belief that all regions have equally benefited from China's remarkable development over the last three decades is subjected to criticism in this book as Hong Yu systematically analyses the issue of regional inequality during the post 1978 period using the case of Guangdong. Guangdong is one of the key industrial centres and economic powerhouses in China and as a pioneer province instigating economic reform as China opened up to the world, it offers an ideal focus upon which to question and enrich the Western theories of economic geography and regional disparity. Based on field research, analysis of geographic characteristics and regression models, this book illustrates how Guangdong's impressive development record has been marred by its rising regional disparity, investigates the main causes of this disparity and draws conclusions regarding the lessons China can learn from it. Economic Development and Inequality in China will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese economics, Chinese regional studies, economic geography and China Studies. Hong Yu is a Visiting Research Fellow at the National University of Singapore. His research interests lie in the field of regional economy. He is the author of a chapter on China's two delta regions in the book China and The Global Economic Crisis. Territory and Function John Friedmann, Clyde Weaver, 1979. Land Privatization in Mexico Maria Teresa Vázquez-Castillo, 2004-10-28. This book analyzes ejido land as space of urbanization and location of economic activities and capital and land privatization as a redistributive process with local, urban, regional and global consequences. Fragments of Inequality Sanjoy Chakravorty, 2014-06-03. Fragments of Inequality merges sociological, geospatial and economic explanations of global inequality into a grand synthesis of the subject that breaks new ground by stressing the phenomenon's spatial foundations. Concentrating on inequality within and between regions, the book demonstrates that spatial inequality has increased in recent years. It employs modified evolutionary principles, i.e. punctuated equilibrium, not entirely smooth and linear in terms of chronological development, rather than the more abstract ones of rationality and self-interest that economists use, and on a fragmented rather than abstract conception of space. Global in its empirical coverage, it also addresses the current impact of economic globalization. Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1976. Fast
