Regional Development Reconsidered:

Regional Development Reconsidered Gündüz Atalik, Manfred M. Fischer, 2012-12-06 In the last few years research on regional development has increased dramatically Real world concerns have to a certain extent driven this scientific concern of interest The field has been given a big boost in particular by the process of European integration and the attempt to understand how this deeper integration will work at the regional level This volume makes a modest attempt to reconsider the issue of regional development mainly from an European perspective and in the light of the transition of society towards a knowledge driven economy It originated from the Thirteenth European Advanced Studies Institute in Regional Science held in Istanbul July 28 2000 In producing the book as friends and colleagues we have benefited from the possibility of exchange of ideas and experience We have also received useful assistance from the referees who have offered observations and advice in their written reports The soundness of their comments has contributed immensely to the quality of the volume We should in addition like to acknowledge the timely manner in which contributing authors have responded to our requests and their willingness to follow the stringent editorial guidelines

Regional Development Reconsidered Allen John Scott, Michael Storper, 1990 Regional Development Reconsidered Urban Foundation, 1994 The Theory, Practice and Potential of Regional Development Kelly Vodden, David Douglas, Sean Markey, Sarah Minnes, Bill Reimer, 2019-07-04 Canadian regional development today involves multiple actors operating within nested scales from local to national and even international levels Recent approaches to making sense of this complexity have drawn on concepts such as multi level governance relational assets integration innovation and learning regions These new regionalist concepts have become increasingly global in their formation and application yet there has been little critical analysis of Canadian regional development policies and programs or the theories and concepts upon which many contemporary regional development strategies are implicitly based This volume offers the results of five years of cutting edge empirical and theoretical analysis of changes in Canadian regional development and the potential of new approaches for improving the well being of Canadian communities and regions with an emphasis on rural regions It situates the Canadian approach within comparative experiences and debates offering the opportunity for broader lessons to be learnt This book will be of interest to policy makers and practitioners across Canada and in other jurisdictions where lessons from the Canadian experience may be applicable At the same time the volume contributes to and updates regional development theories and concepts that are taught in our universities and colleges and upon which future research and analysis will build

The Routledge Handbook to Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe Gábor Lux, Gyula Horváth, 2017-07-06 Twenty five years into transformation Central and Eastern European regions have undergone substantial socio economic restructuring integrating into European and global networks and producing new patterns of regional differentiation and development Yet post socialist modernisation has not been without its contradictions manifesting in increasing social and territorial inequalities Recent studies also suggest there are apparent limits to post socialist growth models accompanying a new set of challenges within an increasingly uncertain world Aiming to deliver a new synthesis of regional development issues at the crossroads between post socialism and post transition this book identifies the main driving forces of spatial restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe and charts the different regional development paths which take shape against the backdrop of post crisis Europe A comparative approach is used to highlight common development challenges and the underlying patterns of socio economic differentiation alike The issues investigated within the Handbook extend to a discussion of the varied economic consequences of transition the social structures and institutional systems which underpin development processes and the broadly understood sustainability of Central and Eastern Europe s current development model This book will be of interest to academics and policymakers working in the fields of regional studies economic geography development studies and policy

Handbook of Social Capital and Regional Development Hans Westlund,Johan P. Larsson,2016-12-30 The role of social capital in regional development is a multifaceted topic which is studied all over the world using various methods and across numerous disciplines It has long been evident that social capital is important for regional development however it is less clear how this works in practice Do all types of social capital have the same effects and are different kinds of regions impacted in the same way This book is the first to offer an overview of this rapidly expanding field of research and to thoroughly analyse the complex issue of social capital and regional development

Regional Development Reconsidered Private Sector Council on Urbanisation,1989

Introducing Human Geographies Kelly Dombroski,Mark Goodwin,Junxi Qian,Andrew Williams,Paul Cloke,2024-07-09 Introducing Human Geographies is a travel guide into the academic subject of human geography and the things that it studies The coverage of the new edition has been thoroughly refreshed to reflect and engage with the contemporary nature and direction of human geography This updated and much extended fourth edition includes a diverse range of authors and topics from across the globe with a completely revised set of contributions reflecting contemporary concerns in human geography Presented in four parts with a streamlined structure it includes over 70 contributions written by expert international researchers addressing the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject It maps out the big foundational ideas that have shaped the discipline past and present explores key research themes being pursued in human geography s various sub disciplines and identifies emerging collaborations between human geography and other disciplines in the areas of technology justice and environment This comprehensive stimulating and cutting edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures maps and photos The book is designed especially for students new to university degree courses in human geography across the world and is an essential reference for undergraduate students on courses related to society place culture and space

Leadership and Institutions in Regional Endogenous Development Robert John Stimson,Roger Stough,Maria Salazar,2009-01-01 The authors of this comprehensive book provide a detailed rationale and original theory for the study of leadership and institutional factors including entrepreneurship in the growth and development of cities and regions They demonstrate why leadership institutions and entrepreneurship can and indeed do play a crucial enhancing role as key elements in the process of regional endogenous growth The so called new growth theory emphasizes endogenous processes While some of the literature refers to leadership and institutional factors there has been little analysis of the explicit roles these factors play in the growth and development of cities and regions This book remedies that gap beginning with a brief overview of the evolution of the new growth theory in regional economic development in which the emphasis is on endogenous factors The book then discusses leadership and institutional factors in that context creating a new path for understanding regional economic development processes Multiple case studies from different parts of the world illustrate the theoretical concepts Students and scholars in regional development planning and public policy will find this volume invaluable

Dynamic Agroindustrial Clusters Gabriel Casaburi, 1999-03-08 The recent economic liberalization in developing countries is making many sectors succumb to new competitive pressures Governments face the dilemma of how to help firms compete without falling back into failed dirigiste policies Based on recent findings on the importance of inter firm cooperation public private collaboration and local policies in boosting competitiveness this book analyzes how much these elements explain the new dynamism of two agroindustrial sectors in Argentina and Chile dairy and fresh fruit respectively

Creating Competitiveness David B. Audretsch, Mary Walshok, 2013-02-01 Although competitiveness is typically associated with firms they are not the only organizational body whose performance is dependent upon competitiveness This poignant and insightful book focuses on how the varied economic performance of cities and regions both within nations as well as across nations during the era of the Great Recession also highlights the need for competitiveness Competitive cities and regions enjoy a superior economic performance while their less competitive counterparts experience poorer economic growth and increasing unemployment Using leading frameworks this study provides applications and case studies about what shapes the competitiveness of places in an international context Specific policies that enhance local competitiveness are identified and analyzed Scholars of regional economics urban economics urban planning and public policy as well as policymakers will find plenty of invaluable information in this invigorating book

Innovation Clusters and Interregional Competition Johannes Bröcker, Dirk Dohse, Rüdiger Soltwedel, 2012-11-02 Empirical evidence about cluster building the emphasis of new growth theory on innovation the recent interest in economic geography and the high pressure on politicians to establish favourable conditions for attracting dynamic industries have triggered a wave of research during the last decade trying to understand more deeply why how and where clusters emerge and what factors determine their respective success or failure In this volume the world's leading experts contribute to our understanding of regional innovation cluster formation and the factors influencing regional productivity and innovative performance It provides a timely and comprehensive picture on innovation location networks and clusters as important means in an environment of intensifying interregional competition

Computational Analysis of Firms' Organization and Strategic Behaviour Edoardo Mollona, 2010-09-13 Management and organization theories have in the years developed rich methodological paraphernalia to test hypotheses This book addresses possible applications of computer simulation to theory building in management and organizational theory Complexity and Spatial Networks Aura Reggiani, Peter Nijkamp, 2009-08-14 Complex systems analysis has become a fascinating topic in modern research on non linear dynamics not only in the physical sciences but also in the life sciences and the social sciences After the era of bifurcation theory chaos theory syn getics resilience analysis network dynamics and evolutionary thinking currently we observe an increasing interest in critical transitions of dynamic real world systems in many disciplines such as demography biology psychology economics earth sciences geology seismology medical sciences and so on The relevance of this approach is clearly re ected in such phenomena as traf c congestion nancial crisis ethnic con icts eco system breakdown health failures etc This has prompted a world wide interest in complex systems Geographical space is one of the playgrounds for complex dynamics as is witnessed by population movements transport ows retail developments urban expansion lowland ooding and so forth All such dynamic phenomena have one feature in common the low predictability of uncertain interrelated events occurring at different interconnected spatio temporal scale levels and often originating from different disciplinary backgrounds The study of the associated non linear fast and slow dynamic transition paths calls for a joint research effort of scientists from different disciplines in order to understand the nature the roots and the con quences of unexpected or unpredictable changes in complex spatial systems Innovation System Frontiers Brian Wixted, 2009-06-12 Recent economic transformations in the world economy are progressing in two divergent directions international production fragmentation and industrial agglomeration Based on extensive data analysis and using models of interdependencies between key economies this book analyses innovation systems that cross national borders It is shown that technological complexity is an important factor in the formation of highly specific production networks and why for a number of production systems fragmentation and clustering are two sides of the same coin By outlining the picture of a world economy structured around networks of clusters and joined together through systems of linkages of components people and knowledge flows the author helps to promote a better understanding of recent economic transformations New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities Peter W. Daniels, K.C. Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, 2012-04-27 The East and Southeast Asia region constitutes the world s most compelling theatre of accelerated globalization and industrial restructuring Following a spectacular realization of the industrialization paradigm and a period of services led growth the early twenty first century economic landscape among leading Asian states now comprises a burgeoning New Economy spectrum of the most advanced industrial trajectories including finance the knowledge economy and the new cultural economy In an agenda setting volume New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities draws on stimulating research conducted by a new generation of urban scholars to generate critical analysis and theoretical insights on the New Economy phenomenon within Asia New industry formation and the transformation of older economic practices constitute instruments of development as well as signifiers of larger processes of change expressed in the reproduction of space in the city Asia's major cities become the key staging areas for the New Economy driven by the growing wealth of an urban middle and professional class higher education institutions city based inter regional movements and urban mega projects New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities animates this New Economy discourse by means of vibrant storylines of instructive cities and sites including cases studies situated in cities such as Tokyo Seoul Shanghai Beijing Shenzhen and Singapore Theoretical and normative issues associated with the emergence of the new cultural economy are the subject of the book's context setting chapters and each case study presents an evocative narrative of development interdependencies and exemplary outcomes on the ground New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities offers a vivid contribution to our understanding of the ongoing transformation of Asia's urban system including the critical intersections of global and local regional dynamics in processes of new industry formation and the relayering of space in the Asian metropolis The synthesis of empirical profiles normative insights and theoretical reference points enhances the book's interest for scholars and students in fields of Asian studies urban and cultural studies and urban and economic geography as well as for policy specialists and urban community planners

Worlds of Welfare Steven Pinch, 2002-11 World of Welfare demonstrates how a geographical perspective is crucial to understanding the diversity of welfare reform and explores the future of the welfare state in multicultural societies

Planning Support Systems in Practice Stan Geertman, John Stillwell, 2012-11-02 Planning Support Systems Technologies that are Driving Planning Michael Batty Centre for Advanced Spatial Analysis CASA University College London 1-19 Torrington Place London WC1E 6BT United Kingdom I had always thought the term Planning Support Systems abbreviated to PSS had been coined by the father of land use modelling Britton Harris in his article Beyond Geographic Information Systems computers and the planning professional published in the Journal of the American Planning Association in 1989 Harris 1989 Until I asked him that is In a response to a paper he gave to the Urban and Regional Information Systems Association URISA in the summer of 1987 he told me that someone in the audience who he cannot quite remember actually coined the term referring to planning support systems as that constellation of digital techniques such as GIS which were emerging to support the planning process In fact the predecessor term decision support systems DSS from which this unknown originator obviously defined PSS by analogy was coined as far back as the late 1970s in the management literature for a loose assemblage of techniques usually computer based which aided management decisions The term slowly entered the geographical lexicon as spatial decision support systems SDSS and this is probably first attributable to Lew Hopkins and Mark Armstrong who used it in a paper published in AutoCarto 7 in 1985 Hopkins and Armstrong 1985

The Dynamics of Growth in Emerging Economies Arzu Akkoyunlu Wigley, Selim Çağatay, 2018-12-19 How can Turkey increase its medium and long term growth potential Despite episodes of fast growth this has become a vital question for the Turkish economy in order to avoid being stuck in a middle income trap There has been an increase in the number of studies presenting growth in Turkey and quantifying the sources of economic growth however due to the difference in the main underlying assumptions and the time period covered in these studies the results differ The second strand of literature on growth in Turkey identifies the relative underperformance of the Turkish economy by developing models with microeconomic foundations Given the fact that there are a large number of studies investigating the macro dynamics of growth in Turkey the book s unique focus on the neglected issues in growth discussions closes the gap in the existing literature It addresses the micro macro regional and gender aspects the environment energy growth nexus as well as the microeconomic dynamics of growth It also analyses the other significant determinants of long run growth in Turkey such as import dependency and saving investment decision The authors provide a macro overview of all of the precluded subjects in order to evaluate them in relation to one other as well as to derive policy conclusions from them This book primarily targets academics as well as graduate and undergraduate social sciences and humanities students both in Turkey and other countries It is also a must read for researchers and policy makers not only in Turkey but also in other developing economies and is of interest to specialists of non governmental and non profit organizations

Road Pricing, the Economy and the Environment C. Jensen-Butler, Brigitte Sloth, Morten M. Larsen, Bjarne Madsen, Otto A. Nielsen, 2008-01-24 Economic growth and globalisation create traffic growth leading to congestion which again increases travel times and costs Road pricing is an instrument that may efficiently reduce the negative impacts This volume is a collection of research papers on the use of road pricing The focus is on passenger transport and the papers cover a wide range of approaches including theoretical modelling and empirical studies of road pricing experience from different cities
