Regions in Europe Patrick Le Gales, Christian Lequesne, 2006-02-27 Regions in Europe explores the state of regional politics in an increasingly integrated Europe. It argues that the predicted rise of increased political power at the regional level has failed to materialise and is fraught with paradox. In doing so, this study locates regions in relation to European integration, globalisation, the nation state, local government and comparative and national perspectives. Using case studies of the main players in Europe including Germany, France, UK, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, Belgium, the contributors show how and why European regions remain remarkably weak in European governance.

The Origins of National Financial Systems Douglas J. Forsyth, Daniel Verdier, 2003-08-29 This book poses a systematic challenge to Gerschenkron's 1950s thesis on universal banks. Contemporary Capitalism J. Rogers Hollingsworth, Robert Boyer, 1997 This book argues that there is no single best institutional arrangement for organizing modern societies. Therefore, the market should not be considered the ideal and universal arrangement for coordinating economic activity. Instead, the editors argue, the economic institutions of capitalism exhibit a large variety of objectives and tools that complement each other and can not work in isolation. The various chapters of the book ask what logics and functions institutions follow and why they emerge, mature and persist in the forms they do.

Transnational Financial Associations and the Governance of Global Finance Heather McKeen-Edwards, Tony Porter, 2013-02-11 The role of business in global governance is now widely recognized, but exploration of its role in global financial governance has been more haphazard than systematic. This book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the role of transnational financial associations (TFAs) in the organization of global finance. This book develops three theoretical themes of assemblage, functionality and power as enrolment. These themes challenge approaches that treat financial power as emanating from a single location or force. Whilst existing approaches tend to treat TFAs as irrelevant or as merely transmitting power originating elsewhere, this book argues that power must be created by painstakingly assembling actors, networks and objects.

that are often quite autonomous and working at cross purposes to one another a process in which TFAs play a central role The book explores these themes in chapters examining the roles of TFAs in interacting with public authorities constructing global financial markets and creating financial communities The authors additionally analyse the roles of TFAs in the European Union in the Global South and in promoting goals other than profitability including Islamic finance microfinancing savings banks and cooperatives Making a distinctive contribution to our understanding of global finance and global governance Transnational Financial Associations and the Governance of Global Finance is an important book for students and scholars of international political economy finance global governance and international relations Industrial Relations Around the World Miriam Rothman, Dennis R. Homeownership, Renting and Society Sebastian Kohl, 2017-04-07 On the eve of the financial crisis the USA was inhabited by almost 70 percent homeownership households in comparison to about 45 percent in Germany Homeownership Renting and Society presents new evidence showing that this homeownership gap already existed between American and German cities around 1900 Existing explanations based on culture government housing policy or typical socio economic factors have difficulties in accounting for these long term cross country differences Using historical case studies on Germany and the USA the book identifies three institutional domains on the supply side of the housing market urban land housing finance and construction that set countries on different housing trajectories and subsequently established differences that were hard to reverse in later periods Further chapters generalize the argument across other OECD Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development countries and extend the explanation to cover historical differences in homeownership ideology and horizontal property institutions This enlightening volume also puts forward path dependence theories in housing studies connects housing with vast urban history and political

Pathways to Industrialization and Regional Development Allen J. Scott,Michael Storper,2005-09-27 The paradigm of mass production has given way to radically new forms of organizing industrial production based primarily on the need to foster continuous redesign of products and processes in the face of intensified competition This change which is designed to engender continuous adaptive learning in production systems requires considerable organizational flexibility The mass production systems constructed in the early post war period foundered in the face of new forms of competition which put a premium on learning and flexibility

Environment & Planning ,2004 Cities in Contemporary Europe Arnaldo Bagnasco,Patrick Le Galès,2000-05-11

European cities are at the centre of social political and economic changes in Western Europe This book proposes a new research agenda in urban sociology and politics applying primarily to European cities in particular those that together make up the urban structure of Europe a fabric of older cities of over 100 000 inhabitants regional capitals and smaller state capitals The contributors develop an analytical framework which views cities as local societies and as collective factors and site for modes of governance The three parts of the book examine the economics of cities the social structures and the modes and processes of governance Each chapter comprises a comparison across several countries and examines critically the book s central theoretical perspective This is not a book about the making of a Europe of cities but rather about how some cities can take advantage of their changing global and European environment
