Rehabilitation Evaluation Some Application Guidelines:

Rehabilitation Evaluation Don L. Goodyear, 1974 Clinician's Guide To Neuropsychological Assessment Rodney D. Vanderploeg, 2014-04-04 Neuropsychological assessment is a difficult and complicated process Often experienced clinicians as well as trainees and students gloss over fundamental problems or fail to consider potential sources of error Since formal test data on the surface appear unambiguous and objective they may fall into the habit of overemphasizing tests and their scores and underemphasizing all the factors that affect the validity reliability and interpretability of test data But interpretation is far from straightforward and a pragmatic application of assessment results requires attention to a multitude of issues This long awaited updated and greatly expanded second edition of the Clinician's Guide to Neuropsychological Assessment like the first focuses on the clinical practice of neuropsychology Orienting readers to the entire multitude of issues it guides them step by step through evaluation and helps them avoid common misconceptions mistakes and methodological pitfalls It is divided into three sections fundamental elements of the assessment process special issues settings and populations and new approaches and methodologies The authors all of whom are actively engaged in the clinical practice of neuropsychological assessment as well as in teaching and research do an outstanding job of integrating the academic and the practical The Clinician's Guide to Neuropsychological Assessment Second Edition will be welcomed as a text for graduate courses but also as an invaluable hands on handbook for interns postdoctoral fellows and experienced neuropsychologists alike No other book offers its combination of breadth across batteries and approaches depth and practicality Government Reports Annual Index ,1975 Catalog of Copyright Entries. Seismic Assessment and Retrofit of Reinforced Concrete Buildings fib Fédération internationale du béton, 2003-08-01 In most parts of the developed world the building stock and the civil infrastructure are ageing and in constant need of maintenance repair and upgrading. Moreover, in the light of our current knowledge and of modern codes, the majority of buildings stock and other types of structures in many parts of the world are substandard and deficient. This is especially so in earthquake prone regions as even there seismic design of structures is relatively recent. In those regions the major part of the seismic threat to human life and property comes from old buildings. Due to the infrastructure's increasing decay frequently combined with the need for structural upgrading to meet more stringent design requirements especially against seismic loads, structural retrofitting is becoming more and more important and receives today considerable emphasis throughout the world. In response to this need, a major part of the fib Model Code 2005 currently under development is being devoted to structural conservation and maintenance. More importantly, in recognition of the importance of the seismic threat arising from existing substandard buildings, the first standards for structural upgrading to be promoted by the international engineering community and by regulatory authorities alike are for seismic rehabilitation of buildings. This is the case for example of Part 3 Strengthening and Repair of Buildings of Eurocode 8, i.e. of the draft European Standard for earthquake resistant design and which is the only one among the current 2003 set of 58 Eurocodes attempting to address the problem of structural upgrading. It is also the case of the recent 2001 ASCE draft standard on Seismic evaluation of existing buildings and of the 1996 Law for promotion of seismic strengthening of existing reinforced concrete structures in Japan. As noted in Chapter 1 of this Bulletin, fib as CEB and FIP did before has placed considerable emphasis on assessment and rehabilitation of existing structures. The present Bulletin is a culmination of this effort in the special but very important field of seismic assessment and rehabilitation. It has been elaborated over a period of 4 years by Task Group 7.1 Assessment and retrofit of existing structures of fib Commission 7 Seismic design, a truly international team of experts representing the expertise and experience of all the important seismic regions of the world. In the course of its work, the team had six plenary two day meetings in January 1999 in Pavia, Italy; in August 1999 in Raleigh, North Carolina; in February 2000 in Queenstown, New Zealand; in July 2000 in Patras, Greece; in March 2001 in Lausanne, Switzerland; and in August 2001 in Seattle, Washington. In October 2002, the final draft of the Bulletin was presented to public during the 1st fib Congress in Osaka. It was also there that it was approved by fib Commission 7 Seismic Design. The contents is structured into main chapters as follows: 1 Introduction; 2 Performance objectives and system considerations; 3 Review of seismic assessment procedures; 4 Strength and deformation capacity of non seismically detailed components; 5 Seismic retrofitting techniques; 6 Probabilistic concepts and methods; 7 Case studies.
