

3rd conditional questions relating to: work & education, miscellaneous thought-provoking

If you had chosen a different degree, how might your career be different?	If university had been free, would you have studied something else?	If AI hadn't started replacing jobs, which careers would still be safe?	If remote working had been the norm for years, how would companies have changed?
If you had taken a different career path, how might your life look now?	If schools had focused more on creativity, how might education have changed?	If you had started your own business last year, what would it have been?	If salaries had been fairer, how might work-life balance have changed?
If schools had taught life skills like taxes, would people be better prepared for adulthood?	If people hadn't needed a degree for certain jobs, would university still be necessary?	If you had been born as the opposite gender, how might your life have been different?	If you had been given a time machine last year, where would you have gone?
If you had discovered a hidden talent last year, how would you have used it?	If aliens had visited Earth last year, how do you think people would have reacted?	If you had been offered a one-way ticket to space, would you have taken it?	If animals had been able to talk, how would society have changed?
If humans had never needed sleep, how would life be different?	If money had never existed, how would people survive?	If we had achieved world peace last year, how would things look today?	If time travel had been possible, where would you have gone first?

Key Qualifications in Work and Education W.J. Nijhof, J.N. Streumer, 2012-12-06 In today's rapidly changing world a constant renewal of knowledge and skills in every human endeavour can be observed. The characteristics of workers and the jobs that they perform have been attended by technological, social and political change on a global scale. New forms of employment have made work more mobile to an extent never experienced before. An increasing proportion of workers no longer need come to their employer's job site in order to do their work. The instability of employment is creating a new breed of workers who know how to move efficiently from one job to another. As a consequence workers need flexible qualifications to perform jobs. Key qualifications are the answer. Key qualifications provide the key to rapid and effective acquisition of new knowledge and skills. First qualifications enable workers to react effectively to and exercise initiative in changes to their work. Second qualifications enable workers to shape their own career in a time of diminishing job security. Nowadays frequently defined as employability. Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2007 United States. Congress. Senate. HCI and Usability for Education and Work Andreas Holzinger, 2008-11-13 The Workgroup Human Computer Interaction Usability Engineering HCI UE of the Austrian Computer Society OCG serves as a platform for interdisciplinary change research and development. While human computer interaction HCI traditionally brings together psychologists and computer scientists, usability engineering UE is a software engineering discipline and ensures the appropriate implementation of applications. Our 2008 topic was Human Computer Interaction for Education and Work HCI4EDU culminating in the 4th annual Usability Symposium USAB 2008 held during November 20-21, 2008 in Graz, Austria. <http://usab.symposium.tugraz.at> As with the field of Human Computer Interaction in Medicine and Health Care HCI4MED which was our annual topic in 2007, technological performance also increases exponentially in the area of education and work. Learners, teachers and knowledge workers are ubiquitously confronted with new technologies which are available at constantly lower costs. However, it is obvious that within our Society the knowledge acquired at schools and universities while being an absolutely necessary basis for learning may prove insufficient to last a whole life time. Working and learning can be viewed as parallel processes with the result that lifelong learning (LLL) must be considered as more than just a catch phrase within our society; it is an undisputed necessity. Today we are facing a tremendous increase in educational technologies of all kinds and although the influence of these new technologies is enormous, we must never forget that learning is both a basic cognitive and a social process and cannot be replaced by technology Participation in Adult Education for Work-related Reasons, 2002-03, 2005 Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2002: Department of Education United States.
