SERIE CARVALHO

Sabotaje olímpico

La guerra del Golfo ¿ocurrió? ¿Y los Juegos Olímpicos de Barcelona? ¿Están ustedes seguros de que en Sevilla se organizó una Exposición Universal en 1992? En la línea de la fábula satírica, cerca de los Viajes de Gulliver y de los hermanos Marx (Carlos incluido y de rebajas), en los límites de la melancolía y el sarcasmo, Carvalho protagoniza un ajuste de cuentas con el año prodigioso, 1992, desde la perspectiva de un mundo en crisis que en 1993 ha olvidado todos los autos sacramentales de la modernidad. ¿Ha escrito esta novela Vázquez Montalbán o Javier Mariscal? ¿De verdad asistieron a los Juegos el Rey, Jordi Pujol y Terminator? Eso sí, Carvalho sigue siendo Carvalho, Biscuter, Biscuter y Charo... reaparece.

Hispanic and Luso-Brazilian Detective Fiction Renée W. Craig-Odders, Jacky Collins, Glen S. Close, 2006-03-20 The image of the hard-boiled private investigator from gritty pulp fiction a terse and mysterious figure has become increasingly universal as the detective novel crosses more and more borders A booming genre in Latin America Spain and other Hispanic cultures detective fiction has transcended the limitations of its influences Hispanic authors relatively new to the genre have published novels and series popular with the public while a number of well-known writers have adapted the genre to reflect the concurrent globalization of modern society and the crimes within it This volume presents a compilation of 11 critical essays on negro contemporary detective fiction in the Hispanic and Luso-Brazilian canon Surveying the last twenty years the text analyzes emerging trends in this rapidly evolving genre as well as the mutations and innovations taking place within the style The first section of the book is dedicated to the detective fiction of Spain and Portugal The second section surveys works from Latin America and the United States where topics touch on universal subjects like crime identity and feminism      Transatlantic Mysteries William J. Nichols, 2011 Transatlantic Mysteries presents a comparative study that brings together authors Paco Ignacio Taibo II and Manuel Vázquez Montalbán from two specific political contexts post 1968 Mexico and post Franco Spain who both work in one specific genre noir detective fiction In this so called age of globalization Spain and Mexico have witnessed an explosion in the production of noir detective fiction which these authors choose purposefully in order to infiltrate the market with formulaic popular literature while simultaneously critiquing the effects of the neoliberal strategies embraced by their countries By locating themselves at the crossroads where literature meets the market they not only underscore the effects of capital on literary and cultural production but also explore the possibility for their writing to resist the influences of capital and question the role of an intellectual in an era of globalization At the core of their writing Taibo and Vázquez Montalbán examine the revolutionary possibilities of literature and popular culture to offer a new kind of Marxist project that revitalizes the Left by redefining the role of socially engaged literature in a globalized landscape      Investigating Identities , 2009-01-01 Investigating Identities Questions of Identity in Contemporary International Crime Fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre This collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas Contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today They reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation Throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny While each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways This volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity It will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature It will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction      Contemporary Hispanic Crime Fiction G. Close, 2016-04-30 This study examines representations of the cityscape and of a so called new urban violence in both detective centered and detectiveless crime fiction produced in Spanish America and Spain during recent decades It documents the emergence and permutations of this production as an index not only of local perceptions of contemporary urban experience and of a contemporary urban ecology of fear but also as a transnational index of the globalization of literary forms and markets It centers on the inscription of urban space in novels set in the metropolitan centers of the Hispanic World Mexico City Bogotá Buenos Aires and Barcelona      Thinking Barcelona Edgar Illas, 2012-10-10 A study of
