Richard Allen, 2007 Is Hitchcock a superficial though brilliant entertainer or a moralist Do his films celebrate the ideal of romantic love or subvert it In a new interpretation of the director's work Richard Allen argues that Hitchcock orchestrates the narrative and stylistic idioms of popular cinema to at once celebrate and subvert the ideal of romance and to forge a distinctive worldview the amoral outlook of the romantic ironist or aesthete He describes in detail how Hitchcock's characteristic tone is achieved through a titillating combination of suspense and black humor that subverts the moral framework of the romantic thriller and a meticulous approach to visual style that articulates the lure of human perversity even as the ideal of romance is being deliriously affirmed Discussing more than thirty films from the director's English and American periods Allen explores the filmmaker's adoption of the idioms of late romanticism his orchestration of narrative point of view and suspense and his distinctive visual strategies of aestheticism and expressionism and surrealism The Public Shaping of Medical Research Peter Wehling, Willy Viehöver, Sophia Koenen, 2014-11-27 Bringing together an international selection of leading scholars and representatives from patients organizations this comprehensive collection explores the interaction between civil society groups and biomedical science technology development and research politics This volume is an important reference for academics and researchers with an interest in the sociology of health and illness science and technology studies the sociology of knowledge or healthcare management and research as well as medical researchers and those involved with health related civil society organizations Uses of Blogs Joanne Jacobs, 2006 Textbook

The Dark Side of European Integration Alina Polyakova, 2015-08-01 Across Europe radical right wing parties are winning increasing electoral support The Dark Side of European Integration argues that this rising nationalism and the mobilization of the radical right are the consequences of European economic integration The European economic project has produced a cultural backlash in the form of nationalist radical right ideologies This assessment relies on a detailed analysis of the electoral rise of radical right parties in Western and Eastern Europe Contrary to popular belief economic performance and immigration rates are not the only factors that determine the far right's success There are other political and social factors that explain why in post socialist Eastern European countries such parties had historically been weaker than their potential which they have now started to fulfill increasingly Using in depth interviews with radical right activists in Ukraine Alina Polyakova also explores how radical right mobilization works on the ground through social networks allowing new insights into how social movements and political parties interact Remaking Politics, Markets, and Citizens in Turkey Ebru Kayaalp, 2014-12-18 Remaking Politics Markets and Citizens in Turkey critically analyses the travel of neoliberal ideas policies experts and institutions from the West to Turkey Through an ethnographic investigation of the newly established tobacco market Ebru Kayaalp considers how they are being adopted and transformed in their new settings The February

2001 crisis the most severe economic downturn in the history of Turkey generated an emergency situation in which a series of sweeping neoliberal policies were implemented to prop up the collapsed economy To receive the necessary loans from the international financial institutions the Turkish government hastily enacted a number of neoliberal laws including the notorious tobacco law Remaking Politics Markets and Citizens in Turkey not only explores the repercussions of the new tobacco law such as the establishment of a new regulatory institution the emergence of contract farming and the privatization of the tobacco monopoly thereby making a liberalized market but also the smoking ban governing the bodies and spaces of Muslim citizens Remaking Politics Markets and Citizens in Turkey provides an innovative contribution to Middle Eastern studies filling the gap for anthropological research in Muslim countries on local economic relations and their connections with the global economy
