Indeed they are often on both roads witnessing how inextricable human efforts are to finding identifying and aestheticising oneself in relation to a particular space. Their contributions to this book expose how spaces were created and recreated through writing and symbolical representations in general. They also show how the images of these spaces have been changing in consent to the intentions of their visitors and reveal that persistent and obstinate moment in a space that despite or in spite of changing perspectives itself refuses to be changed. The book will encourage for further contributions to this expanding field in the humanities. In their numerous and distinct ways the contributions to this particular book maintain that understanding how spaces are conceived and conceptualised is of pronounced importance in the globalized world in which cultures are gradually losing authenticities while their spaces geographical tourist spiritual literary aesthetic are as reflective of the visitors as they are of the hosts.
