The Prose of Life Benjamin M. Sutcliffe,2009-04-13 Both before and after the collapse of the Soviet Union everyday life and the domestic sphere served as an ideological battleground simultaneously threatening Stalinist control and challenging traditional Russian gender norms that had been shaken by the Second World War The Prose of Life examines how six female authors employed images of daily life to depict women s experience in Russian culture from the 1960s to the present Byt a term connoting both the everyday and its many petty problems is an enduring yet neglected theme in Russian literature its very ordinariness causes many critics to ignore it Benjamin Sutcliffe s study is the first sustained examination of how and why everyday life as a literary and philosophical category catalyzed the development of post Stalinist Russian women s prose particularly since the collapse of the Soviet Union A focus on the representation of everyday life in women s prose reveals that a first generation of female writers Natal ia Baranskaia Irina Grekova both legitimated and limited their successors Liudmila Petrushevskiaia Tat iana

Unvarnishing Reality Derek C. Maus,2012-10-15 Unvarnishing Reality draws original insight to the literature politics history and culture of the cold war by closely examining the themes and goals of American and Russian satirical fiction As Derek C Maus illustrates the paranoia of nuclear standoff provided a subversive storytelling mode for authors from both nations including Thomas Pynchon Robert Coover John Barth Walker Percy Don DeLillo Kurt Vonnegut Jr Vasily Aksyonov Yuz Aleshkovsky Alexander Zinoviev Vladimir Voinovich Fazil Iskander and Sasha Sokolov Maus surveys the background of each nation s culture language sociology politics and philosophy to map the foundation on which cold war satire was built By highlighting common themes of utopianism technology and propaganda Maus effectively shows the ultimate motive of satirists on both sides was to question the various forces contributing to the cold war and to expose the absurdity of the continuous tension that pulsed between the United States and the Soviet Union for nearly half a century Although cold war literature has been studied extensively few critics have focused so keenly on comparisons of satirical fictions by Russian and American writers that condemn and subvert the polarizing ideologies inherent in superpower rivalry. Such a comparison reveals thematic and structural similarities that transcend specific national and cultural origins. In considering these works together, Maus locates a thoroughgoing humanistic refutation of the cold war and its operative doctrines, as well as a range of proposed alternatives. Just as the cold war combatants ultimately reconciled in 1991 with the fall of the Soviet Union, Maus seeks to bring these two literary canons together now. Their thematic scope transcends cultural differences, and as Maus demonstrates, these writers saw that there was not only the atomic bomb to fear but also the dangers of complete national militarization and the constant polarizing threat of emergency. Thus their cold war critiques still resonate today and invite further comparative studies, such as this one:

Fire on Water Arnost Lustig, 2006-03-10. In this pair of short novels, The Abyss and The Progress, Arnost Lustig continues his lifelong project of creating a universe at once concrete and dreamlike to examine the horrors of the Holocaust and the impossible burden of living as a survivor.

A Voice Anzhelina Polonskaya, 2004-08-05. A first collection of poems by one of Russia's emerging outsider poets.

A Land the Size of Binoculars Игорь Клех, 2004-08-27. Igor Klekh writes from the crossroads of Europe, Ukraine, influenced by the Russian literature tradition of the east and the languages and dialects of both Central Europe and his native country. As one of the brightest lights to come out of the post-perestroika literary scene, Klekh's work has been welcomed as a synthesis of the two traditions and celebrated as some of the most breathtakingly original prose of recent years. The publication of his novella Kallimakh's Wake, included in this collection in 1993, and his work since has drawn comparisons to Borges for the blurring of boundaries between forms and styles, to Gogol's work in both Russian and Ukrainian language, to Eco's use of esoteric knowledge, and to the stylistic innovations reminiscent of Latin American magical realists. A Land the Size of Binoculars collects the five short pieces and novella that comprise his Galician Motifs and two more recent novellas. Throughout, Klekh passes over landscapes as intimate as the terrain between fathers and sons and as broad as the Carpathian Mountains.

The Third Shore Agata Schwartz, Luise von Flotow, 2006-02-03. An anthology of prose selected by the editors, written by women authors from countries that were previously referred to as Eastern Europe who were born after 1945 and had their texts published after 1989.

A History of Women's Writing in Russia Adele Marie Barker, Jehanne M. Gheith, 2002-07-11. A History of Women's Writing in Russia offers a comprehensive account of the lives and works of Russia's women writers. Based on original and archival research, this volume forces a re-examination of many of the traditionally held assumptions about Russian literature and women's role in the tradition. In setting about the process of reintegrating women writers into the history of Russian literature, contributors have addressed the often surprising contexts within which women's writing has been produced. Chapters reveal a flourishing literary tradition where none was thought to exist. They redraw the map defining Russia's literary periods; they look at how Russia's women writers articulated their own experience and they reassess their relationship to the dominant male tradition. The volume is supported by extensive reference features including a bibliography and guide to writers and their works New Women's Writing in Russia, Central and Eastern Europe Rosalind Marsh, 2020-12-07 Since the late 1980s there has been an explosion of women's writing in Russia Central and Eastern Europe greater than in any other cultural period This book which contains contributions by scholars and writers from many different countries aims to address the gap in literature and debate that exists in relation to this subject We investigate why women's writing has become so prominent in post socialist countries and enquire whether writers regard their gender as a burden or on the contrary as empowering We explore the relationship in contemporary women's writing between gender class and nationality as well as issues of ethnicity and post colonialism
