The Foresight of Dark Knowing John Jorgensen, 2018-06-30 Korea has long had an underground insurrectionary literature. The best known example of the genre is the Ch'ng Kam nok, a collection of premodern texts predicting the overthrow of the Yi Dynasty 1392-1910 that in recent times has been invoked by a wide range of groups to support various causes and agendas from leaders of Korea's new religious movements formed during and after the Japanese occupation to spin doctors in the South Korean elections of the 1990s to proponents of an aborted attempt to move the capital from Seoul in the early 2000s. Written to inspire uprisings and foment dissatisfaction, the Ch'ng Kam nok texts are anonymous and undated. Most were probably written between the seventeenth and late nineteenth centuries. In his expansive introduction to this first English translation, John Jorgensen notes that the work employs forms or codes of political prediction: Ch' tuch'en (Kor: toch'am) allied with Chinese geomancy (fengshui) but in a combination unique to Korea. The two types of codes appear to deal with different subjects: the potency of geographical locations and political predictions derived from numerological cycles, omens, and symbols, but both emerge from a similar intellectual sphere of prognostication arts that includes divination, the Yijing, Book of Changes, physiognomy, and astrology in early China, and both share theoretical components such as the fluctuation of ki (Ch: qi). In addition to ambiguous and obscure passages, allusion and indirection abound; many predictions are attributed to famous people in the distant past or made after the fact to lend the final outcome an air of authority. Jorgensen's invaluable introduction contains a wealth of background on the history and techniques of political prediction, augury, and geomancy from the first century Han dynasty in China to the end of the nineteenth century in Korea, providing readers with a thorough account of East Asian geomancy based on original sources. This volume will be welcomed by students and scholars of premodern Korean history and beliefs and those with an interest in early, arcane sources of political disinformation that remain relevant in South Korea to this day.

More Than the Great Wall John W. Dardess,2019-10-18 This groundbreaking book provides the first comprehensive analysis of Ming China's pursuit of national security along its 1 700 miles of northern frontier Drawing on a wealth of original sources John Dardess vividly portrays how Ming China's emperors officials and commanders in the field thought argued and made decisions in real time as they worked to defend their country Despite common perceptions of the central role of the so called Great Wall of China Dardess convincingly shows that the wall was but a minor piece in a much bigger effort to battle Tatar looting Dardess immerses readers in the day to day world of the Ming as he explores the question of how leaders kept their country safe over the 276 years the dynasty ruled

Beyond the Five-paragraph Essay Kimberly Hill Campbell,Kristi Latimer,2012 Love it or hate it the five paragraph essay is perhaps the most frequently taught form of writing in classrooms of yesterday and today But have you ever actually seen five paragraph essays outside of school walls Have you ever found it in business writing journalism nonfiction or any other genres that exist in the real world Kimberly Hill Campbell and Kristi Latimer reviewed the research on the effectiveness of the form as a teaching tool and discovered that the research does not support the five paragraph formula In fact research shows that the formula restricts creativity emphasizes structure rather than content does not improve standardized test scores inadequately prepares students for college writing and results in vapid writing In Beyond the Five Paragraph Essay Kimberly and Kristi show you how to reclaim the literary essay and create a program that encourages thoughtful writing in response to literature They provide numerous strategies that stimulate student thinking value unique insight and encourage lively personal writing including the following Close reading which is the basis for writing about literature Low stakes writing options that support students thinking as they read Collaboration in support of discussion debate and organizational structures that support writing as exploration A focus on students writing process as foundational to content development and structure The use of model texts to write in the form of the literature students are reading and analyzing The goal of reading and writing about literature is to push and challenge our students thinking We want students to know that their writing can convey something important a unique view to share defend prove delight discover and inspire If we want our students to be more engaged
