Shape Of Fiction British And American Short Stories:

The Shape of Fiction Leo Hamalian, Frederick Robert Karl, 1978 Ernest Hemingway. Supplement to Ernest Hemingway Audre Hanneman, 2015-03-08 This supplementary bibliography describes work by and about Ernest Hemingway published between 1966 and 1973 Part One lists publications by Hemingway including six recent books new editions of previously published volumes and work by other authors to which Hemingway contributed Translations and anthologies are entered as are previously unpublished writings and material reprinted in newspapers and periodicals including articles recently attributed to Hemingway The first half of Part Two lists 448 books and pamphlets on or mentioning Hemingway The second half describes work that appeared in newspapers and journals including articles reviews poems critical essays and textual studies Foreign publications are noted throughout Part Two Omissions to the first volume of the bibliography have been entered in each section Originally published in 1975 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Chicorel Index to Short Stories in Anthologies and Collections, 1975 Chicorel Index to Short Stories in Anthologies and Collections Marietta Chicorel, 1974 From Form to Meaning David Fleming, 2011-06-12 In the spring of 1968 the English faculty at the University of Wisconsin Madison UW voted to remedialize the first semester of its required freshman composition course English 101 The following year it eliminated outright the second semester course English 102 For the next quarter century UW had no real campus wide writing requirement putting it out of step with its peer institutions and preventing it from fully joining the composition revolution of the 1970s In From Form to Meaning David Fleming chronicles these events situating them against the backdrop of late 1960s student radicalism and within the wider changes taking place in U S higher education at the time Fleming begins with the founding of UW in 1848 He examines the rhetorical education provided in the university's first half century the birth of a required two semester composition course in 1898 faculty experimentation with that course in the 1920s and 1930s and the rise of a massive current traditional writing program staffed primarily by graduate teaching assistants TAs after World War II He then reveals how starting around 1965 tensions between faculty and TAs concerning English 101 102 began to mount By 1969 as the TAs were trying to take over the committee that supervised the course the English faculty simply abandoned its long standing commitment to freshman writing In telling the story of composition's demise at UW Fleming shows how contributing factors the growing reliance on TAs the questioning of traditional curricula by young instructors and their students the disinterest of faculty in teaching and administering general education courses were part of a larger shift affecting universities nationally He also connects the events of this period to the long embattled history of freshman composition in the United States And he offers his own thoughts on the qualities of the course that have allowed it to survive and regenerate for over 125 years [Catalog of Copyright Entries.
