Race in Translation Ella Shohat, Robert Stam, 2012-05-28 While the term culture wars often designates the heated arguments in the English speaking world spiraling around race the canon and affirmative action in fact these discussions have raged in diverse sites and languages Race in Translation charts the transatlantic traffic of the debates within and between three zones the U S France and Brazil Stam and Shohat trace the literal and figurative translation of these multidirectional intellectual debates seen most recently in the emergence of postcolonial studies in France and whiteness studies in Brazil The authors also interrogate an ironic convergence whereby rightist politicians like Sarkozy and Cameron join hands with some leftist intellectuals like Bann Michaels and Bourdieu in condemning multiculturalism and identity politics At once a report from various fronts in the culture wars a mapping of the germane literatures and an argument about methods of reading the cross border movement of ideas the book constitutes a major contribution to our understanding of the Diasporic and the Transnational

Slaves and Religions in Graeco-Roman Antiquity and Modern Brazil Dick Geary, Stephen Hodkinson, 2012-03-15

Slaves have never been mere passive victims of slavery Typically they have responded with ingenuity to their violent separation from their native societies using a variety of strategies to create new social networks and cultures Religion has been a major arena for such slave cultural strategies Through participation in religious and ritual activities slaves have generated important elements of identity shared humanity and even resistance within their lives This volume presents papers from a conference of the University of Nottingham's Institute for the Study of Slavery the only UK centre studying its history from antiquity to the present It breaks new ground by juxtaposing slave strategies within the diverse religious cultures of Graeco Roman antiquity and modern Brazil After a wide ranging historiographical survey eleven experts examine how in both societies slave religious activities involved both constraints and opportunities shedding particular new light on the neglected religious strategies of Graeco Roman slaves

The Human Tradition in Modern Brazil
Peter M. Beattie, 2004 The Human Tradition in Modern Brazil makes the last two centuries of Brazilian history come alive through the stories of mostly non elite individuals The pieces in this lively collection address how people experienced historical continuities and changes by exploring how they related to the rise of Brazilian national identity and the emergence of a national state By including a broad array of historical actors from different regions ethnicities occupations races genders and eras The Human Tradition in Modern Brazil brings a human dimension to major economic political cultural and social transitions Because these perspectives do not always fit with the generalizations made about the predominant attitudes values and beliefs of different groups they bring a welcome complexity to the understanding of Brazilian society and history

Forming Abstraction Adele Nelson, 2022-02-22 Art produced outside hegemonic centers is often seen as a form of derivation or relegated to a provisional status Forming Abstraction turns this narrative on its head In the first book length study of postwar Brazilian art and culture Adele Nelson highlights the importance of exhibitionary and pedagogical institutions in the development of abstract art in Brazil By focusing on the formation of the S o Paulo Biennial in 1951 the early activities of artists Geraldo de Barros Lygia Clark Waldemar Cordeiro H lio Oiticica Lygia Pape and Ivan Serpa and the ideas of critics like M rio Pedrosa Nelson illuminates the complex strategic processes of citation and adaption of both local and international forms The book ultimately demonstrates that Brazilian art institutions and abstract artistic groups and their exhibitions of abstract art in particular served as crucial loci for the articulation of societal identities in a newly democratic nation at the onset of the Cold War
