Solomon, 2010-12-08 Love our hearts yearn for it we fall into it or out of it we ll do almost anything to attain and keep it Those who have experienced the power of love whirl from its embrace It is delicious anguish gut wrenching pain and intoxicating allure Nations go to war over it crimes are committed to satisfy its demands lives are often ruined because of it and extraordinary feats of courage and sacrifice are performed in its name But beyond the cliches and greeting card platitudes do we really understand what love is and how it alters the way we think feel and behave Should love be viewed as little more than a lusty romp or is there more to it What is the relationship between love and romance caring concern compassion thoughtfulness sex and the many other components that our society jumbles together in this potent potpourri whose power can give strength to the weakest among us or turn powerhouses of strength into emotional mush It is precisely because love is such an important part of our lives that we owe it to ourselves to reach beyond overwhelming passion and the roadblocks of illusion to achieve real understanding of this extraordinary human phenomenon It won t always be easy in fact it s sometimes quite painful But the rewards are many for those who will risk exploring their own cherished attitudes about a subject that has held us in its grip for centuries and shows no signs of letting go Some of the topics covered are What I Feel in My Heart On the Alleged Origins of Romantic Love What Do I Want When I Want You Why Do I Love You The Importance of Being Honest Love Sex and Intimacy Beyond Sex and Gender What s So Good About Love From Research to Clinical Practice George Stricker, Robert H. Keisner, 2013-11-11 It is an intriguing feature of human experience that in our present world amid thousands of indications of the effectiveness of the scientific method so many of us persist in demonstrably illusory or magical beliefs whether religiously related or simply reflections of long standing superstitions At a time when millions can observe on television the first landings of human beings on the moon when our daily lives in the so called devel oped countries are replete with conveniences that reflect scientific advances we still persist in daily wagers on the state lotteries in paying astrologers or palmists for their readings in investing thousands of dollars and hours of our legislators time in discussing such issues as the value of daily prayer in the elementary schools The emergence of modern medicine based increasingly on scientific research in chemistry biology and physics has considerably reduced people's resort to shamans and witch doctors within the major sectors of our own society although it has by no means eliminated such practitioners

Tradition and the Poetics of Self in Nineteenth-Century Women's Poetry

,2021-11-01 Tradition and how far writers fit into or diverge from the demands of tradition is one of the most debated issues in literary discussion Gender however is not often part of discussions which depend on such questions at the decisiveness of the Modernist break with the Victorian period or whether Postmodernism makes tradition meaningless By contrast the very existence of a specifically female tradition is still an urgent subject of debate and it is clear that many nineteenth century women writers were troubled in their search for literary foremothers This autobiographical impetus can be located in the work of each of the poets discussed in Tradition and the Poetics of Self Nineteenth Century Women's Poetry Elizabeth Barrett Browning Caroline Bowles Southey Emily Dickinson and Christina Rossetti An exploration of the self either in the abstract or in a more closely personal sense appears in a concern with the craft of poetry and the role of the poet in a teasing out of language as a marker of a personal encounter with the world in an adventurous play with genre and a rewriting of myth and in a bold confrontation with received notions of a woman's place Adventurousness marks the work of each of these poets and is a central focus of these essays

Owen Hargie,Patrick J. McCartan,2025-09-17 When it was originally published in 1986 this book was one of the few to be written on social skills and mental health specifically for nurses Yet it is nurses who are uniquely placed to improve the skills of those with mental illness since it is they who often have most contact with patients or clients This book examines the place of social skills training in the practice of psychiatric nursing It provides relevant background to the evidence for limited social skills in psychiatric patients and the expanding role of the nurse and considers more practical elements such as selection and assessment of patients for a programme goal setting role play feedback and group versus individual approaches The book also analyses relevant skills themselves such as nonverbal communication and being assertive The book is aimed at both trained and student psychiatric nurses Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various, 2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication Handbook of Gender Research in Psychology Joan C. Chrisler, Donald R. McCreary, 2010-03-12 Donald R McCreary and Joan C Chrisler The Development of Gender Studies in Psychology Studies of sex differences are as old as the eld of psychology and they have been conducted in every sub eld of the discipline There are probably many reasons for the popularity of these studies but three reasons seem to be most prominent First social psychological studies of person perception show that sex is especially salient in social groups It is the rst thing people notice about others and it is one of the things we remember best Fiske Haslam Stangor Lynch Duan Glass 1992 For example people may not remember who uttered a witty remark but they are likely to remember whether the quip came from a woman or a man Second many people hold rm beliefs that aspects of physiology suit men and women for particular social roles Men s greater upper body strength makes them better candidates for manual labor and their greater height gives the impression that they would make good leaders i e people we look up to Women s reproductive capacity and the caretaking tasks e g breastfeeding baby minding that accompany it make them seem suitable for other roles that require gentleness and nurturance Third the logic that underlies hypothesis testing in the sciences is focused on difference Researchers design their studies with the hope that they can reject the null hypothesis that experimental groups do not differ Women and Romance Susan Ostrov Weisser, 2001-07 Weisser English Adelphi U writes that her anthology is for anyone who is interested in understanding the conflicted but powerful female urge to experience the pleasure and endure the pain of romantic love In particular she explores the collision of pervasive media images of romance with feminist values of independence and self assertion Several dozen historic and contemporary works of criticism personal essays and letters by feminist and anti feminist thinkers consider changing images of romantic love and whether romance fundamentally weakens or empowers women Contributors include Jean Jacques Rousseau Charlotte Bronte Karen Horney Simone de Beauvoir Rita Mae Brown bell
