Shattered Images The Rise Of Militant Iconoclasm In Syria:

Shattered Images Fred A. Reed, 2003 Discusses all of the major Islamic faiths in its search for the origins of contemporary fundamentalist movements

Re-Imagining the Other M. Eid, K. Karim, 2014-07-24 The twenty first century exploded into the global imagination with unforgettable scenes of death and destruction An apocalyptic clash of civilizations seemed to be waged between two old foes the West and Islam However the decade long and ruinous war on terror has prompted re assessments of the militaristic approach to Western Muslim relations A growing number of academics policymakers religious leaders journalists and activists view the struggles as resulting from a clash of ignorance Re imagining the Other examines the ways in which knowledge is manipulated by dominant Western and Muslim discourses Authors from several disciplines study how the two societies have constructed images of each other in historical and contemporary times The complexities and subtleties of their mutually productive relationship are overshadowed by portrayals of unrelenting clash thus serving as encouragement for the promotion of war and terrorism The book proposes specific approaches to re imagine the Other in order to mitigate Western Muslim conflict

And Freedom Became a Public-square Najib George Awad, 2012 From an Arab Christian perspective this book introduces some of the substantial components and the pivotal ramifications of the latest revolutions in the Arab World known as the Arabic Spring It offers a fresh timely and intellectual reading of the promising Spring in Syria and in the rest of the born again Arab world The first part of the book looks at the uprisings in general while the second part examines Christians in the Arab world and their view of the uprisings with primary attention to the case of Syria The third part is an invitation for developing an Arabic contextual religious discourse out of the recent Arabic world s deeply religious context and changes The book will benefit those who would like to have a general idea about what happened and is still happening in the Arab world as well as those who would like to get some insightful and coherent understanding of why how and on what presumptions the Arab Christians base their appraisal of and stances on the Arabic Spring Series Studies on Oriental Church History Studien zur Orientalischen Kirchengeschichte Vol 46

Iconoclasm Rachel F. Stapleton, Antonio Viselli, 2019-08-29 Iconoclasm the alteration destruction or displacement of icons is usually considered taboo or profane But on occasion the act of destroying the sacred unintentionally bestows iconic status on the desecrated object Iconoclasm examines the reciprocity between the building and the breaking of images paying special attention to the constructive power of destructive acts Although iconoclasm carries with it inherently religious connotations this volume examines the shattering of images beyond the spiritual and the sacred Presenting responses to renowned cultural anthropologist and theorist Michael Taussig these essays centre on conceptual iconoclasm and explore the sacrality of objects and belief systems from historical cultural and disciplinary perspectives From Milton and Nietzsche to Paul Newman and Banksy through such diverse media and genres as photography the popular romance novel pornography graffiti cinema advertising and the dictionary this book questions how icons and iconoclasm are represented the language used to describe them and the manner in which objects signify once they are shattered An interdisciplinary disconnected and non linear consideration of the historical and contemporary relationship between the sacred and the profane Iconoclasm disrupts entrenched views about the revered or reviled idols present in most aspects of daily life Contributors include T Nikki Cesare Schotzko Toronto Christopher van Ginhoven Rey Pomona College Helen Hester West London Emily Hoffman Arkansas Tech Natalie B Pendergast Yukon College Beth Saunders Maryland Adam Swann Glasgow Michael Taussig Columbia Angela Toscano Iowa Brendon Wocke Perpignan

Negating the Image Jeffrey Johnson, 2017-07-05 Why do people attack monuments and other public objects charged with authority by the societies that produced them What do open assaults on images and artworks mean Iconoclasm the principled destruction of images has recurred throughout human history as theory and practice This book contains seven historical studies of the changing causes and meanings of iconoclasm and the radical transformations in the function of images it has brought about in societies around the world from Ancient Egypt to Islamic India and Revolutionary Mexico as well as Medieval and Reformation Europe Scholars of art history history and archaeology explore shifting definitions of art and the forms of representation in delineating varied forms of iconoclasm Striking Images, Iconoclasm Past and Present Stacy Boldrick, Leslie Brubaker, Richard S. Clay, 2013 This study explores how and why people have made and modified images and other cultural material from pre history into the 21st century By juxtaposing objects and places usually considered in isolation provocative questions are raised about our understandings of cross cultural differences and the value of representational objects The book examines themes such as violence punishment memory and intentionality and breaks new ground by including contributions from archaeologists curators and museum conservators as well as from historians of art literature and religious studies The Forbidden Image Alain Besançon, 2000 Syria's Monuments: Their Survival and Destruction Michael Greenhalgh, 2016-11-03 Syria's Monuments their Survival and Destruction analyses travellers accounts of the Roman Christian and Islamic monuments of Syria including Lebanon Jordan Palestine Israel An epilogue assesses the impact of the recent civil war on the state of the monuments and their likely future The Crossing Samar Yazbek, 2015 Samar Yazbek was well known in her native Syria as a writer and a journalist but in 2011 she fell foul of the

Assad regime and was forced to flee Since then determined to bear witness to the suffering of her people she bravely revisited her homeland by squeezing through a hole in the fence on the Turkish border In The Crossing she testifies to the appalling reality that is Syria today From the first innocent demonstrations for democracy through the beginnings of the Free Syrian Army to the arrival of ISIS she offers remarkable snapshots of soldiers children and ordinary men and women simply trying to stay alive Some of these stories are of hardship and brutality that is hard to bear but she also gives testimony to touches of humanity along the way how people live under the gaze of a sniper how principled young men try to resist orders from their military superiors how children cope in bunkers Yazbek s portraits of life in Syria are very real and her prose luminous The Crossing is undoubtedly both an important historical document and a work of literature

Adopting the Track of Appearance: An Psychological Symphony within Shattered Images The Rise Of Militant Iconoclasm In Syria

In a world taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous transmission, the melodic elegance and mental symphony created by the prepared term frequently diminish in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the persistent noise and interruptions that permeate our lives. But, nestled within the pages of Shattered Images The Rise Of Militant Iconoclasm In Syria an enchanting literary prize overflowing with organic emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, this charming masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional trip, well unraveling the concealed songs and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the emotional analysis, we can explore the book is central harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing fashion, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
