Lost Oasis:

Cartographic Fictions Karen Lynnea Piper, 2002 Maps are stories as much about us as about the landscape They reveal changing perceptions of the natural world as well as conflicts over the acquisition of territories Cartographic Fictions looks at maps in relation to journals correspondence advertisements and novels by authors such as Joseph Conrad and Michael Ondaatje In her innovative study Karen Piper follows the history of cartography through three stages the establishment of the prime meridian the development of aerial photography and the emergence of satellite and computer mapping Piper follows the cartographer's impulse to leave the ground as the desire to escape the racialized or gendered subject With the distance that the aerial view provided maps could then be produced objectively that is devoid of problematic native interference Piper attempts to bring back the dialogue of the native informant demonstrating how maps have historically constructed or betrayed anxieties about race The book also attempts to bring back key areas of contact to the map between explorer native and masculine feminine definitions of space

The Lost Oases Ahmed Mohammed Hassanein, 1925 Blue Eclipse Book Li Patrick Joseph, 2020-11-12 A poetic story rhyme that is a compilation of scripted youthful times Within these pages is a shard from a greater story that chronicles the legacy of characters meant for the entertainment each individually purposed for a grand design And as the wheels of fate turn each character will play their part unable to understand the greater role they partake in within the great theatrics of the world play Each figure within this are pulled from historical sources past and present with subtle liberties to flesh out the true nature of their character So as disparate destined paths cross into the other and intersect the fiery ambition they possess will become their sword while the purity of their immortal soul will become their shield individually designed to protect a sincere dream while defending their outer shell from being torn away from this mortal coil And as each soul delves beyond the grip of the unfamiliar of their opening acts a threshold would demand to be crossed as they individually with warm hearts and open minds yearn for meaning as they individually await a glimpse of their true purpose escaping the confines of ephemeral restraints to push to a space that exists beyond sight weaves an adventurous tale that follows the intrepid aviator Biggles and his daring exploits during the interwar period. Characterized by Johns' signature blend of fast-paced narrative and rich evocative descriptions, the novel captures the essence of early aviation heroism and camaraderie. Set against the backdrop of the burgeoning aviation industry, the story reflects the societal fascination with flight and the underlying themes of adventure and exploration that permeated early 20th-century literature. W. E. Johns, a former pilot himself, drew inspiration from his own experiences in the Royal Flying Corps during World War I. His firsthand knowledge of aviation coupled with a vivid imagination enabled him to create captivating narratives that resonate with both the excitement of aerial combat and the complexities of personal relationships. This deep connection with the skies is crucial in understanding why Johns has become a seminal figure in the genre of aviation literature, particularly in the portrayal of the iconic character Biggles. Biggles Flies South is a must-read for those who revel in tales of adventure and aviation history. Whether you are a long-time fan of Biggles or a newcomer to the series, this novel promises an exhilarating journey that celebrates the spirit of flight and the bravery of those who dare to explore the skies.

Black Genesis Robert Bauval, Thomas Brophy, 2011-03-28. Presents proof that an advanced black African civilization inhabited the Sahara long before Pharaonic Egypt. Reveals black Africa to be at the genesis of ancient civilization and the human story. Examines extensive studies into the lost civilization of the Star People by renowned anthropologists, archaeologists, genetic scientists, and cultural historians, as well as the authors' archaeoastronomy and hieroglyphics research. Deciphers the history behind the mysterious Nabta Playa ceremonial area and its stone calendar circle and megaliths. Relegated to the realm of archaeological heresy despite a wealth of hard scientific evidence, the theory that an advanced civilization of black Africans settled in the Sahara long before Pharaonic Egypt existed has been dismissed and even condemned by conventional Egyptologists, archaeologists, and the Egyptian government. Uncovering compelling new evidence, Egyptologist Robert Bauval and astrophysicist Thomas Brophy present the anthropological, climatological, archaeological, geological, and genetic research supporting this hugely debated theory of the black African origin of Egyptian civilization. Building upon extensive studies from the past four decades and their own archaeoastronomical and hieroglyphic research, the authors show how the early black culture, known as the Cattle People, not only domesticated cattle but also had a sophisticated grasp of astronomy, created plentiful rock art at Gilf Kebir and Gebel Uwainat, had trade routes to the Mediterranean coast, central Africa, and the Sinai, held spiritual and occult ceremonies, and constructed a stone calendar circle and megaliths at the ceremonial site of Nabta Playa, reminiscent of Stonehenge yet much older. Revealing these Star People as the true founders of ancient Egyptian civilization, this book completely rewrites the history of world civilization, placing black Africa back in its rightful place at the center of mankind's origins.
