Gomez, 2014-11 Of all the giants on whose shoulders we stand Aristarchos of Samos the ancient Greek all rounder has proved to be especially tall no one else not even Einstein to mention an iconic figure has ever discovered anything of like importance that took so long to dawn on the rest of humanity His achievement was extraordinary with nothing more than the naked eye and the mind of a genius he got to know the Sun s distance better than anyone else before and he put the Earth in motion around the Sun for the first time in human awareness The present book examines what history has spared of him and invites the reader to relive astronomy s finest hour Periodic, Quasi-Periodic and Chaotic Motions in Celestial Mechanics: Theory and Applications Alessandra Celletti, Sylvio Ferraz-Mello, 2007-02-02 The book provides the most recent advances of Celestial Mechanics as provided by high level scientists working in this field

It covers theoretical investigations as well as applications to concrete problems Outstanding review papers are included in the book and they introduce the reader to leading subjects like the variational approaches to find periodic orbits and the space debris polluting the circumterrestrial space

Chaos in Nature Christophe Letellier, 2013 Chaos theory deals with the description of motion in a general sense which cannot be predicted in the long term although produced by deterministic system as well exemplified by meteorological phenomena It directly comes from the Lunar theory a three body problem and the difficulty encountered by astronomers to accurately predict the long term evolution of the Moon using Newtonian mechanics Henri Poincaré's deep intuitions were at the origin of chaos theory They also led the meteorologist Edward Lorenz to draw the first chaotic attractor ever published But the main idea consists of plotting a curve representative of the system evolution rather than finding an analytical solution as commonly done in classical mechanics Such a novel approach allows the description of population interactions and the solar activity as well Using the original sources the book draws on the history of the concepts underlying chaos theory from the 17th century to the last decade and by various examples show how general is this theory in a wide range of applications meteorology chemistry populations astrophysics biomedicine etc

Ancient Astronomy and Celestial Divination Noel M. Swerdlow, 1999 This volume presents recent work on Babylonian celestial divination and on the Greek inheritors of the Babylonian tradition In the ancient world the collection and study of celestial phenomena and the interpretation of their prophetic significance especially as applied to kings and nations were closely related sciences carried out by the same scholars Both ancient sources and modern research agree that astronomy and celestial divination arose in Babylon Only in the late nineteenth century however did scholars begin to identify and decipher the original Babylonian sources and the process of understanding those sources has been long and difficult This volume presents recent work on Babylonian celestial divination and on the Greek inheritors of the Babylonian tradition Both philological and mathematical work are included The essays shed new light on all of the known textual sources including the omen series Enuma Anu Enlil which contains omens from as far back as the early second or even third millennium and the earliest personal horoscopes from about 400 B C as well as the Astronomical Diaries ephemerides and other observational and mathematical texts One essay concerns astronomical papyri that confirm the extensive transmission of Babylonian methods into Greek a study of Ptolemy's lunar theory suggests that Ptolemy relied more on his own observations than previously thought and an analysis of Theon's commentary on Ptolemy's Handy Tables shows that Theon explicated their meaning both conscientiously and competently Contributors Asger Aaboe Alan C Bowen Lis Brack Bernsen John P Britton Bernard R Goldstein Gerd Grahoff Hermann Hunger Alexander Jones Erica Reiner F Rochberg N M Swerdlow Anne Tihon C B F Walker
