Michalek, Helena Tlaskalová-Hogenová, Jaroslav Sterzl, 2013-04-17. The Seventh International Congress of Mucosal Immunology held in Prague, the beautiful old capital of The Czech Republic, 16-20 August 1992, was the first to be sponsored by the Society for Mucosal Immunology and was the largest since their inception 20 years earlier in Birmingham, Alabama. It was attended by 624 participants who gave 538 presentations, more than 10 times the numbers of the first meeting. These proceedings contain 354 papers that were submitted for publication. The political events in Europe that made it possible to hold this Congress in Prague also allowed for the first time the participation of large numbers of scientists from Eastern Europe as well as from Asia, and the organizers were truly gratified by this happy circumstance. It is now clear not only that mucosal immunity encompasses the huge area of mucosal surfaces and most physiological organ systems but also that mucosal immunology extends over the whole global surface and all continents. The sheer size of the Congress and number of manuscripts unfortunately entailed some unexpected problems in editing and assembling the proceedings, partly due to the diversity of linguistic styles not represented at earlier meetings, and we apologize to the authors who have patiently awaited the publication of their contributions. Research Grants Index, National Institutes of Health (U.S.), Division of Research Grants, 1975. Dynamics of the IL-2 Cytokine Network and T-cell Proliferation Dorothea Busse, 2010. This book adds to an intensively investigated question of immunological research: How do regulatory T cells mediate their function to ensure tolerance against self-antigen? The author analyzes the interaction via the cytokine interleukin 2 between T helper cells, which mediate immune responses, and regulatory T cells. Since both cell types depend on interleukin 2 to mediate their functions, competition for interleukin 2 is likely. A mathematical model is developed to describe the interaction. This model focuses on the interleukin 2 receptor dynamics on helper and regulatory T cells and the extracellular interleukin 2 diffusion. The interleukin 2 receptor dynamics is governed mainly by an autocrine positive feedback loop on both cell types. However its differential regulation results in a switch like up regulation of the receptors on T helper cells and a gradual adaptation of the receptor levels to extracellular interleukin 2 supply on regulatory T cells. This difference enables regulatory T cells to efficiently compete for interleukin 2 and deprive T helper cells of their growth factor. Cell culture experiments verify these findings. It can be shown that the antigen stimulus and the intercellular distance are relevant control parameters for competition. Other mechanisms are described for suppression of T helper cell action by regulatory T cells. Competition for interleukin 2 may act in concert with them.

Immune Response and the Eye Jerry Y. Niederkorn, Henry J. Kaplan, 2007-01-01 In memory of J Wayne Streilein the pioneer in ocular immunology. The second edition of Immune Response and the Eye highlights recent insights into the dangerous compromise between the immune system and the eye which protects the eye against pathogens while limiting inflammation and immune mediated injury to ocular tissues with little or no regenerative potential. It discusses the broad spectrum of physiological immunological anatomical and biochemical adaptations that conspire to closely regulate the tone and tenor of immune responses in the eye. This volume further describes immune mediated diseases that occur when the compromise between the immune system and the eye is breached. This breakdown in immune privilege threatens the vision of millions each year. Finally recent advances in ocular immunology are presented which offer potential therapeutic applications in corneal and retinal transplantation and in the management of blinding autoimmune diseases of the eye. Eye researchers ophthalmologists and immunologists will appreciate the state of the art and authoritative information presented in Immune Response and the Eye.
