Lysenkoism In China Proceeding Of The 1956 Qingdao Genetics Conference:

Lysenkoism in China Laurence Schneider, 1987 Adopting a comparative perspective this book traces the social political economic and cultural conditions under which environmental movements have emerged and assesses the transformative capacities of these movements China and Albert Einstein Danian HU, Danian Hu, 2009-06-30 China and Albert Einstein is the first extensive study in English or Chinese of China's reception of the celebrated physicist and his theory of relativity Tracing the influence of Jesuit missionaries in the seventeenth century and Western missionaries and educators in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries as they introduced key concepts of Western physical science and paved the way for Einstein's radical new ideas Danian Hu shows us that Chinese receptivity was fostered by the trickle of Chinese students sent abroad for study beginning in the mid nineteenth century and by the openness of the May Fourth Movement 1916 1923 In a series of biographical studies of Chinese physicists Hu describes the Chinese assimilation of relativity and explains how Chinese physicists offered arguments and theories of their own Hu's account concludes with the troubling story of the fate of foreign ideas such as Einstein's in the Chinese Cultural Revolution 1966 1976 when the theory of relativity was denigrated along with Einstein's ideas on democracy and world peace China and Albert Einstein is an important contribution to Einstein studies and a landmark work in the history of Chinese science Lysenkoism in China Laurence Schneider, 1986

Ancestral Leaves Joseph W. Esherick, 2011-02-09 Ancestral Leaves follows one family through six hundred years of Chinese history and brings to life the epic narrative of the nation from the fourteenth century through the Cultural Revolution The lives of the Ye family Ye means leaf in Chinese reveal the human side of the large scale events that shaped modern China the vast and destructive rebellions of the nineteenth century the economic growth and social transformation of the republican era the Japanese invasion during World War II and the Cultural Revolution under the Chinese Communists Joseph W Esherick draws from rare manuscripts and archival and oral history sources to provide an uncommonly personal and intimate glimpse into Chinese family history illuminating the changing patterns of everyday life during rebellion war and revolution Contested Environmentalisms Cheng Li, 2025-01-21 For decades tree planting and forestry have been pivotal to Chinese environmentalism During the Mao era while forests were razed to fuel rapid increases in industrial production the Greening the Motherland campaign promoted conservationist tree planting nationwide Contested Environmentalisms explores the seemingly contradictory rhetoric and desires of Chinese conservation from the early twentieth century through to the present Drawing on literary cinematic scientific archival and digital media sources Cheng Li investigates the emergence evolution and devolution of Chinese conservationist ideas Combining literary historical and environmental studies approaches he shows that these ideas acquired their value and assumed their power precisely because of their malleability and adaptability Li historicizes authoritarian environmentalism and probes the global local dynamics underlying conservationist ideas that energize environmental impulses in China Examining ethnic borderlands the Beijing political center and China's growth on the world stage this book demonstrates the strength of Chinese environmentalism to adapt and survive through tumultuous change lies in what seems to be a weakness its inconsistency and contestation

Biology and Revolution in Twentieth-Century China Laurence Schneider, 2005-10 Using the field of genetics as a case study this book follows the troubled development of modern natural science in China from the 1920s through Mao's China to the present post socialist era Through detailed portraits of key scientists and institutions basic dilemmas are Chinese Studies in the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology Fan Dainian, Robert S.
