The Fine Artist's Career Guide Daniel Grant,2004-04-01 This indispensable guide gives anyone with studio art training the vital tools and breadth of information they need to develop and succeed in the fine and applied arts It covers the full spectrum of career options available to artists today from being an independent artist to niches in the corporate world and from jobs that require special artistic skills to those calling for artistic improvisation Yes, You Can Make a Better Living As a Fine Artist Ann Elizabeth Rea,2025-03-11

The Difficulty of Practising Fine Artists in Making a Living Marco Thom,2017-10-18 This study identifies six key reasons explaining the social phenomenon that many practising fine artists find it so difficult to make a living in the arts Due to a marked paucity of research explaining this social phenomenon the study at hand investigates the internal factors related to artists personality motivation and skills as well as various external factors influencing artists working and business environment by applying two acknowledged analysis tools in strategic business management The literature findings highlight four external threat factors mainly responsible for a very challenging working and business environment affecting practising fine artists chances of professional success Consequently two internal factors notably artists motivation and ambition to conduct business and a living in the arts as well as their developed skills turn out to be key factors to successfully deal with these external threat factors In this context three research aims related to practising artists professional education and preparation arise the identification of crucial skills to successfully make a living in the arts as practising artists the status of their professional education at higher education institutions HEIs and the capability of arts incubators as alternative education programmes to prepare large numbers of practising fine artists for professional success The approach to investigation is exploratory and inductive with a cross sectional survey strategy To identify the crucial skills for professional success in the arts surveys of up to 219 fine art lecturers 168 fine art undergraduates and 149 commercial galleries are conducted To report on the status of fine artists educational preparation 87 undergraduate degree programmes 55 post graduate programmes and 46 extracurricular training offerings at HEIs are investigated The study focuses mainly on the UK and Germany These countries are selected due to their significantly different market sizes and reputation for the purpose of identifying differences in market challenges and professional preparations faced by fine artists To analyse arts incubators capability in preparing large numbers of practising fine artists for a professional career 92 arts incubation programmes around the globe are analysed and nine structured interviews with practising fine artists are conducted The investigation of the crucial skills for fine artists professional success highlights in particular the development of an entrepreneurial mindset as well as of seven skills Research on arts education shows evidence that fine art graduates are hardly equipped with this skillset and mindset due to HEIs lack of focus on the professional careers of practising artists The analysis of arts incubation programmes illustrates serious limitations in supporting larger numbers of practising fine artists in their professional endeavours The research findings stimulate the discussion in and contribute to knowledge in the fields of artists professional preparation arts entrepreneurship and the redesigning of fine art curriculum to purposefully prepare fine art graduates for an entrepreneurial and professional career as practising artists

Visual Arts Work Grace McQuilten, Chloë Powell, Marnie Badham, Kate MacNeill, Jenny Lye, 2025-02-27 This book provides the most comprehensive picture to date of work in the visual arts ecosystem in Australia In a context where artists incomes are consistently low and falling commercial galleries are financially vulnerable and public galleries face program funding challenges this book explores barriers to the economic health of the sector the challenge of improving artists and arts workers working conditions and the realities of being a creative in the twenty first century The book combines an analysis of art world economic value chains alongside alternative and emergent cultural social and political economies with new quantitative and qualitative insights from artists and arts workers With interdisciplinary methodologies and industry engagement it examines multiple and hybrid systems of value and includes the perspectives of visual artists craft artists and arts workers with diverse lived experiences Our research offers greater insight into the social cultural and political forces that underly the mediation of art to the public including an urgent emphasis on gender cultural safety and care work including the concerns of First Nations artists culturally and linguistic diverse artists and artists with disability Our approach unpacks the diversity and hybridity of art work to include practices realised through digitisation internationalisation community engagement and intersectoral partnerships

Making Meaning, Making Money Lisa Andersen, Kate Oakley, 2009-01-14 The arts have rarely been at the heart of so many policy discussions in so many places at once All over the world politicians and artists have been making a strong case for the social and commercial value of culture It is found in debates about education industrial policy criminal justice and community wellbeing As creative industries it is part of international competitiveness and the future of our cities and towns from Shanghai to Sheffield to Shepparton Many practitioners and advocates have welcomed culture's new prominence in policy discourse and the new markets it offers for cultural production Others however see a danger that instrumental justifications for cultural funding risk overlooking the intrinsic qualities of culture reducing it to an input and blunting any radical edges This book asks are we are at a new moment for cultural policy Leading international thinkers from countries including Australia Britain and the United States provide a timely overview of these issues debating and discussing the directions that cultural policy should take in the future Making Meaning Making Money will be of value to artists policy makers cultural managers and planners who are involved in the practices processes and decision making that constitute contemporary cultural industries and shape emerging cultural economies

Dewey for Artists Mary Jane Jacob,2018-12-10 John Dewey is known as a pragmatic philosopher and progressive architect of American educational reform but some of his most important contributions came in his thinking about art Dewey argued that there is strong social value to be found in art and it is artists who often most challenge our preconceived notions Dewey for Artists shows us how Dewey advocated for an art of democracy Identifying the audience as co creator of a work of art by virtue of their experience he made space for public participation Moreover he believed that societies only become and remain truly democratic if its citizens embrace democracy itself as a creative act and in this he advocated for the social participation of artists Throughout the book Mary Jane Jacob draws on the experiences of contemporary artists who have modeled Dewey s principles within their practices We see how their work springs from deeply held values We see too how carefully considered curatorial practice can address the manifold ways in which aesthetic experience happens and thus enable viewers to find greater meaning and purpose And it is this potential of art for self and social realization Jacob helps us understand that further ensures Dewey s legacy and the culture we live in

Arts Leadership in Contemporary Contexts Josephine Caust,2018-04-09 This book explores and critiques different aspects of arts leadership within contemporary contexts While this is an exploration of ways arts leadership is understood interpreted and practiced it is also an acknowledgement of a changing cultural and economic paradigm Understanding the broader environment for the arts is therefore part of the leadership imperative This book examines aspects such as individual versus collective leadership gender creativity and the influences of stakeholders and culture While the book provides a theoretical and critical understanding of arts leadership it also gives examples of arts leadership in practice
