Making Mortal Choices Hugo Adam Bedau,1997 Bedau demonstrates the usefulness of casuistry or the method of cases in arriving at moral decisions He examines well known cases that compel us to consider questions about who ought to survive when not all can and shows how we ought to reason Power of Persuasion Louis Blom-Cooper,2015-04-30 Over the years of the developing judicial review of ministerial and governmental decisions Louis Blom Cooper was a leading advocate who grew up with the advent of a distinctive brand of public law His range of public activities both in and outwith the courtroom saw him dubbed by his colleagues as a polymath practitioner It included chairmanship of plural public inquiries in child abuse and mental health media contributions in the broadsheet press and in broadcasting and innovation in penal reform as an ardent campaigner for the abolition of capital punishment and a plea for a modern Homicide Act He styled himself as a modern reconstructed liberal a man before his time This collection of essays is uniquely prefaced by a self examination of his unorthodox philosophy towards the law in action It covers a variety of socio legal topics that expresses his ambition to inform a poorly educated public on the workings of the legal system This aim involves a discussion of the constitutional history of Britain unwritten and insufficiently interpreted it reflects a commitment to the European Convention on Human Rights and portrays its international origins The collection opines on crime and punishment in the functioning of the courts and elsewhere the political shift from the penal optimism of the 1970s to the reactionary punitiveness of the post 1990s The essays conclude with a miscellany of affairs reflecting on professional practices and their product of judicial heroes in Lord Reid and Lord Bingham Encyclopedia of Ethics Lawrence C. Becker,Charlotte B. Becker,2013-10-18 The editors working with a team of 325 renowned authorities in the field of ethics have revised expanded and updated this classic encyclopedia Along with the addition of 150 new entries all of the original articles have been newly peer reviewed and revised bibliographies have been updated throughout and the overall design of the work has been enhanced for easier access to cross references and other reference features New entries include Cheating Dirty hands Gay ethics Holocaust Journalism Political correctness and many more Life, Death, and Subjectivity Stan van Hooft,2004-01-01 This book presents an exploration of concepts central to health care practice In exploring such concepts as Subjectivity Life Personhood and Death in deep philosophical terms the book aims to draw out the ethical demands that arise when we encounter these phenomena and also the moral resources of health care workers for meeting those demands The series Values in Bioethics makes available original philosophical books in all areas of bioethics including medical and nursing ethics health care ethics research ethics environmental ethics and global bioethics Worldly Politics and Divine Institutions Nahshon

Perez, 2023 Worldly Politics and Divine Institutions explores four instances of democratic governments becoming intertwined with religious matters when the U K Supreme Court forced a government funded faith school the British JFS School to change its admission policies when The European Court of Human Rights ruled that the Catholic Church could dismiss religion teachers in Spanish public schools when the Italian government upheld mandatory crucifixes in all public school classrooms and the Bladensburg World War I Memorial the Peace Cross case in Maryland where the U S Supreme Court ruled that the cross's public placement did not violate the U S Constitution's First Amendment Saint Cicero and the Jesuits Robert Aleksander Maryks, 2016-04-08 In this commanding study Dr Maryks offers a detailed analysis of early modern Jesuit confessional manuals to explore the order's shifting attitudes to confession and conscience Drawing on his census of Jesuit penitential literature published between 1554 and 1650 he traces in these works a subtly shifting theology influenced by both theology and classical humanism In particular the roles of Tutorism whereby an individual follows the law rather than the instinct of their own conscience and Probabilism which conversely gives priority to the individual's conscience are examined It is argued that for most of the sixteenth century books such as Juan Alfonso de Polanco's Directory for Confessors espousing a Tutorist line dominated the market for Jesuit confessional manuals until the seventeenth century by which time Probabilism had become the dominating force in Jesuit theology What caused this switch from Tutorism to Probabilism forms the central thesis of Dr Maryks' book He believes that as a direct result of the Jesuits' adoption of a new ministry of educating youth in the late 1540s Jesuit schoolmasters were compelled to engage with classical culture many aspects of which would have resonated with their own concepts of spirituality In particular Ciceronian humanitas and civiltas along with rhetorical principles of accommodation influenced Jesuit thinking in the revolutionary transition from medieval Tutorism to modern Probabilism By integrating concepts of theology classical humanism and publishing history this book offers a compelling account of how diverse forces could act upon a religious order to alter the central beliefs it held and promulgated This book is published in conjunction with the Jesuit Historical Institute series Bibliotheca Instituti Historici Societatis Iesu
