Making Music In Aotearoa:

Making Music at the Bottom of the World in Southland, Aotearoa/New Zealand Sally Bodkin-Allen, 2020-01-21 This volume brings together a number of perspectives on the musical landscape of Invercargill a city at the bottom of Aotearoa New Zealand Invercargill is in many ways unique it is relatively isolated its access to liquor is controlled by a licensing trust and it is home to the longest serving mayor in Aotearoa The musicking that occurs within Invercargill is surprisingly diverse and wide ranging This book acknowledges and explores many of the South's musical communities and in doing so illustrates the importance of music in local communities It highlights the ways in which social connectedness local identity and individual lives are enriched through musical activities being interwoven through communities Made in Australia and Aotearoa/New Zealand Shelley Brunt, Geoff Stahl, 2018-05-20 Made in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand Studies in Popular Music serves as a comprehensive and thorough introduction to the history sociology and musicology of twentieth century popular music of Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand The volume consists of chapters by leading scholars of Australian and Aotearoan New Zealand music and covers the major figures styles and social contexts of pop music in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand Each chapter provides adequate context so readers understand why the figure or genre under discussion is of lasting significance to Australian or Aotearoan New Zealand popular music The book first presents a general description of the history and background of popular music in these countries followed by chapters that are organized into thematic sections Place Making and Music Making Rethinking the Musical Event Musical Transformations Making New Zealand's Pop Renaissance Michael Scott, 2016-05-13 Decline and Renewal and Global Sounds Local Identity Since the early 2000s New Zealand has undergone a pop renaissance Domestic artists sales airplay and concert attendance have all grown dramatically while new avenues for kiwi pop exports emerged Concurrent with these trends was a new collective sentiment that embraced and celebrated domestic musicians In Making New Zealand s Pop Renaissance Michael Scott argues that this revival arose from state policies and shows how the state built market opportunities for popular musicians through public private partnerships and organizational affinity with existing music industry institutions New Zealand offers an instructive case for the ways in which after neo liberal states steer and co ordinate popular culture into market exchange by incentivizing cultural production Scott highlights how these music policies were intended to address various economic and social problems Arriving with the creative industries discourse and policy making politicians claimed these expanded popular music supports would facilitate sustainable employment and a sense of national identity Yet popular music as economic and social policy presents a paradox the music industry generates commercial failure and thus requires a large unattached pool of potential talent Considering this feature Scott analyses how state programs induced an informal economy of proto pop production aimed at accessing competitive state funding while simultaneously encouraging musicians to adopt entrepreneurial subjectivities In doing so he argues New Zealand's music policies are a form of social policy that unintentionally deploy hierarchical structures to foster social inclusion amongst growing numbers of creative workers Bibliography of Writings about New Zealand Music Published to the End of 1983 Douglas Ross Harvey, 1985 Aotearoa Lana Lopesi, 2024-09-24 The powerful and dynamic legacy of Pacific arts in Aotearoa as told by the artists themselves Pacific Arts Aotearoa tells the dynamic and powerful story of Pacific arts in Aotearoa New Zealand This comprehensive account spans six decades of multidisciplinary Pacific creative genius remembering the diverse fresh and energetic contributions of Pacific artists to New Zealand Oceania and the world Edited by leading Pacific writer and scholar Lana Lopesi this book includes over 300 images and contributions from more than 120 artists curators and community voices providing new and previously unheard perspectives on this vast and growing legacy in one volume Published in association with Pacific Arts Creative New Zealand Toi Aotearoa as part of the Pacific Arts Legacy Project an initiative under the Pacific Arts Strategy The Pacific Festivals of Aotearoa New Zealand Jared Mackley-Crump, 2015-04-30 With a history now stretching back four decades Pacific festivals of Aotearoa assert a multicultural identity of New Zealand and situate the country squarely within a sea of islands In this volume Jared Mackley Crump gives a provocative look at the changing demographics and cultural landscape of a place frequently viewed through a bicultural lens P keh and M ori Taking the post World War II migrations of Pacific peoples to New Zealand as its starting point the story begins in 1972 with the inaugural Polynesian Festival an event that was primarily designed as a M ori festival now known as Te Matatini the largest M ori performing arts event in the world Two major moments of festivalization are considered the birth of Polyfest in 1976 and the inaugural Pasifika Festival of 1993 Both began in Auckland the home of the largest Pacific communities in New Zealand and both have spawned a series of events that follow the models they successfully established While Polyfests focus primarily on the transmission of performance traditions from culture bearers to the young largely New Zealand born generations Pasifika festivals are highly public community events in which diverse displays of material culture are offered up for consumption by both cultural tourists and Pacific communities alike Both models have experienced a significant period of growth since 1993 and here the author presents a thought provoking and wide ranging analysis to explain the phenomenon that has been called a Pacific renaissance Written from an ethnomusicological perspective The Pacific Festivals of Aotearoa New Zealand incorporates lively first person observations as well as interviews with festival organizers performers and other important historical figures. The second half of the book delves into the festival space uncovering new meanings about the function and role of music performance and public festivity. The author skillfully challenges accounts that label festivals as inauthentic recreations of culture for tourist audiences and gives both observers and participants an uplifting new approach to understand these events as meaningful and symbolic extensions of the ways diasporic Pacific communities operate in New Billboard, 1992-05-30 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a Zealand diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers
