Making Of Congo The Movie:

The Making of Congo Jody Duncan, Janine Pourroy, 1995 Covers the full production from storyboards to set designs and tells how the special effects including the gorillas themselves were created

Making Movies Black Thomas Cripps, 1993-05-20 This is the second volume of Thomas Cripps's definitive history of African Americans in Hollywood It covers the period from World War II through the civil rights movement of the 1960s examining this period through the prism of popular culture Making Movies Black shows how movies anticipated and helped form America's changing ideas about race Cripps contends that from the liberal rhetoric of the war years marked as it was by the propaganda catchwords brotherhood and tolerance came movies that defined a new African American presence both in film and in American society at large He argues that the war years more than any previous era gave African American activists access to centers of cultural influence and power in both Washington and Hollywood Among the results were an expanded black imagery on the screen during the war in combat movies such as Bataan Crash Dive and Sahara musicals such as Stormy Weather and Cabin in the Sky and government propaganda films such as The Negro Soldier and Wings for this Man narrated by Ronald Reagan After the war the ideologies of both black activism and integrationism persisted resulting in the message movie era of Pinky Home of the Brave and No Way Out a form of racial politics that anticipated the goals of the Civil Rights Movement Delving into previously inaccessible records of major Hollywood studios among them Warner Bros RKO and 20th Century Fox as well as records of the Office of War Information in the National Archives and records of the NAACP and interviews with survivors of the era Cripps reveals the struggle of both lesser known black filmmakers like Carlton Moss and major figures such as Sidney Poitier More than a narrative history Making Movies Black reaches beyond the screen itself with sixty photographs many never before published which illustrate the mood of the time Revealing the social impact of the classical Hollywood film Making Movies Black is the perfect book for those interested in the changing racial climate in post World War II American life

The Making of the Pentecostal Melodrama Katrien Pye, 2012 How religion gender and urban sociality are expressed in and mediated via television drama in Kinshasa is the focus of this ethnographic study Influenced by Nigerian films and intimately related to the emergence of a charismatic Christian scene these teleserials integrate melodrama conversion narratives Christian songs sermons testimonies and deliverance rituals to produce commentaries on what it means to be an inhabitant of Kinshasa

Documentary Case Studies Jeff Swimmer, 2014-12-18 Documentary students and fans revel in stories about filmmakers conquering extraordinary challenges trying to bring their work to the screen This book brings vividly to life the sometimes humorous sometimes excruciating and always inspiring stories behind the making of some of the greatest documentaries of our time All of the filmmakers and films profiled are Oscar nominated or Oscar winning Documentary Case Studies walks readers through the fixes and missteps that today's documentary leaders worked through at all stages to create their masterworks from development fundraising and pre production through production and then post

There are plenty of how to documentary filmmaking books in circulation but this book will instead deploy a personal intimate and candid approach to unlocking the secrets of the craft and the business by meeting filmmakers who tackle production challenges in the most resourceful and unconventional ways

How Do We Look? Fatimah Tobing Rony, 2021-10-18 In How Do We Look Fatimah Tobing Rony draws on transnational images of Indonesian women as a way to theorize what she calls visual biopolitics the ways visual representation determines which lives are made to matter more than others Rony outlines the mechanisms of visual biopolitics by examining Paul Gauguin's 1893 portrait of Annah la Javanaise a trafficked thirteen year old girl found wandering the streets of Paris as well as US ethnographic and documentary films In each instance the figure of the Indonesian woman is inextricably tied to discourses of primitivism savagery colonialism exoticism and genocide Rony also focuses on acts of resistance to visual biopolitics in film writing and photography These works such as Rachmi Diah Larasati's The Dance that Makes You Vanish Vincent Monnikendam's Mother Dao 1995 and the collaborative films of Nia Dinata challenge the naturalized methods of seeing that justify exploitation dehumanization and early death of people of color By theorizing the mechanisms of visual biopolitics Rony elucidates both its violence and its vulnerability

Perpetrator Disgust Ditte Marie Munch-Juriscic, 2022-11-25 In this volume Munch Juriscic offers the first in depth philosophical analysis of perpetrator disgust the phenomenon of individuals experiencing severe physiological or emotional distress following acts of atrocity By examining the relationship between emotions human nature and cognition through the lens of perpetrator disgust she argues that our gut feelings are not moral instincts but should be understood as templates that can embody a broad range of values and morals

Nonfiction Film Richard Barsam, 1992-11-22 Richard Barsam has given us as comprehensive a study of the origins and development of the nonfiction mode in motion pictures as we are ever likely to have in one volume He draws on all the major written sources and many which are little known and he shares with us many eloquent descriptions of the films themselves giving us a valuable textbook Richard Dyer MacCann superb work Historical Journal of Film Radio and Television

The Real of Reality: The Realist Turn in Contemporary Film Theory, 2021-08-30 This book provides philosophical insight into the nature of reality by reflecting on its ontological qualities through the medium of film The main question is whether we have access to reality through film that is not based on visual representation or narration Is film in spite of its immateriality a way to directly grasp and reproduce reality Why do we perceive film as real at all What does it mean to define its own reproducibility as an ontological feature of reality And what does film as a medium exactly show The contributions in this book provide from a cinematic perspective diverse philosophical analyses to the understanding of the challenging concept of the real of reality

Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian Aitken, 2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumi re brothers Workers Leaving the Lumi re Factory 1885 to Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 911 2004 This Encyclopedia provides a resource that critically analyzes that history in all its aspects Not only does this Encyclopedia examine individual films and the careers of individual film makers it also provides overview articles of national and regional documentary film history It explains concepts and themes in the study of documentary film the techniques used in making films and the institutions that support their production appreciation and preservation

Hollywood on Location Joshua Gleich, Lawrence Webb, 2019-01-14 Location shooting has always been a vital counterpart to soundstage production and at times the primary form of Hollywood filmmaking But until now the industrial and artistic development of this production practice has been scattered across the margins of larger American film histories Hollywood on Location is the first comprehensive history of location shooting in the American film industry showing how this mode of filmmaking changed Hollywood business practices production strategies and visual style from the silent era to the present The contributors explore how location filmmaking supplemented and later supplanted production on the studio lots Drawing on archival research and in depth case studies the seven contributors show how location shooting expanded the geography of American film production from city streets and rural landscapes to far flung territories overseas invoking a new set of creative financial technical and logistical challenges Whereas studio filmmaking sought to recreate nature location shooting sought to master it finding new production values and production economies that reshaped Hollywood's modus operandi

Traditions Redirecting Contemporary Indonesian Cultural Productions Jan van der Putten, Edwin P. Wieringa, 2017-08-21 This volume is the result of a conference held in October 2015

in connection with the Frankfurt Book Fair discussing developments that are considered important in contemporary Indonesian cultural productions The first part of the book reflects on the traumatic experiences of the Indonesian nation caused by a failed coup on October 1 1965 In more general theoretical terms this topic connects to the field of memory studies which in recent decades has made an academic comeback The focus of the chapters in this section is how certain often distressing events are represented in narratives in a variety of media that are periodically renewed changed rehearsed repeated and performed in order to become or stay part of the collective memory of a certain group of people The second part of the book explores how forces of globalisation have impacted upon the local and linguistically surprisingly rather homogeneous cultural productions of Indonesia The main strands of inquiry in this second section are topics of global trends in religion responses to urban development the impact of popular literary developments and how traditions are revisited in order to come to terms with international cultural developments

Documenting Gendered Violence Lisa M. Cuklanz,Heather McIntosh,2016-08-25 Documenting Gendered Violence explores the intersections of documentary and gendered violence Several contributors investigate representations through grounded textual analyses of key films and videos including Sex Crimes Unit 2011 and The Invisible War 2012 and other documentary texts including Youtube photographs and theater Other chapters use analysis and interviews to explore how gender violence issues impact production and how these documentaries become part of collaborations and awareness movements

Struggles for Representation Phyllis Rauch Klotman,Janet K. Cutler,1999 Struggles for Representation examines over 300 non fiction films by more than 150 African American film videomakers and includes an extensive filmography bibliography and excerpts from interviews with film videomakers In eleven original essays contributors explore the extraordinary scope of these aesthetic and social documents and chart a previously undiscovered territory documentaries that examine the aesthetic economic historical political and social forces that shape the lives of black Americans as seen from their perspectives Until now scholars and critics have concentrated on black fiction film and on mainstream non fiction films neglecting the groundbreaking body of black non fiction productions that offer privileged views of American life Yet these rich and varied works in film video and new electronic media convey vast stores of knowledge and experience Although most documentary cannot hope to match fiction film s mass appeal it is unrivaled in its ability to portray searing indelible impressions of black life including concrete views of significant events and moving portraits of charismatic individuals Documentary footage brings audiences the moments when civil rights protestors were attacked by state troopers it provides the sights and sounds of Malcom X delivering an electrifying speech Betty Carter performing a heart wrenching song and Langston Hughes strolling on a beach Uniting all of this work is the struggle for representation that characterizes each film an urgent desire to convey black life in ways that counter the uninformed and often distorted representations of mass media film and television productions African American documentaries have long been associated with struggles for social and political empowerment for many film videomakers documentary is a compelling mode with which to present an alternative more authentic narrative of black experiences and an effective critique of mainstream discourse Thus many socially and politically committed film videomakers view documentary as a tool with which to interrogate and reinvent history their works fill gaps correct errors and expose distortions in order to provide counter narratives of African American experience Contributors include Paul Arthur Houston A Baker Jr Mark F Baker Pearl Bowser Janet K Cutler Manthia Diawara Elizabeth Amelia Hadley Phyllis R Klotman Tommy Lee Lott Erika Muhammad Valerie Smith and Clyde Taylor The Variety Insider Variety, Peter Cowie, 1999 Get the facts stats and news on movies television theater music and books from the most respected magazine in the entertainment industry Transnational Stardom R. Meeuf, R. Raphael, 2013-02-21 Combining a diverse range of case studies with discussion between leading scholars in star studies and transnational cinema this book analyzes stars as sites of cross cultural contestation and the essays in this collection explore how the plasticity of stars helps disparate peoples manage the shifting ideologies of a transnational world
