Making Of Eastern Europe:

The Making of Eastern Europe Philip Longworth, 1992-08-18 Why has the collapse of Communism resulted in so much disappointment for the hopeful millions of Eastern Europe In this original and provocative book Philip Longworth argues that their predicament is only partly due to the imposition of the Soviet system but rather they are the heirs of misfortune which dates back centuries In exploring the origins of current problems this sweeping history ranges from the present day to the time of Constantine the Great from the Urals to the Mediterranean and the Baltic and emphasises culture and society as well as politics and economics The resulting analysis provides the crucial and until now much needed long term background to the difficulties now facing Eastern Europe This new perspective and the insight it brings will improve our understanding of this complex region and be of immense value to all who want to understand Eastern Europe s past and present The Eastern Europe David Turnock, 1988-01-01 Om steuropas historiske geografi fra forhistorisk tid til 1815 Pursued by a Bear Zbyněk A. B. Zeman, 1989 The Making of Détente Wilfried Loth, George Soutou, 2010-04-05 Containing essays by leading Cold War scholars such as Wilfried Loth Geir Lundestad and Seppo Hentil this volume offers a broad ranging examination of the history of détente in the Cold War The ten years from 1965 to 1975 marked a deep transformation of the bipolar international system of the Cold War The Vietnam War and the Prague Spring showed the limits of the two superpowers who were constrained to embark on a wide ranging détente policy which culminated with the SALT agreements of 1972 At the same time this very détente opened new venues for the European countries French policy towards the USSR and the German Ostpolitik being the most evident cases in point For the first time since the 1950s Western Europe began to participate in the shaping of the Cold War The same could not be said of Eastern Europe but ferment began to establish themselves there which would ultimately lead to the astounding changes of 1989 90 the Prague Spring the uprisings in Gdansk in 1970 and generally the rise of the dissident movement That last process being directly linked to the far reaching event which marked the end of that momentous decade the Helsinki conference The Making of Détente will appeal to students of the Cold War international history and European contemporary history Prospects for Constitutionalism in

Post-Communist Countries Levent Gönenç, 2002-06-18 The last decade of the 20th century saw radical changes in Eastern Europe and the former USSR Most of these countries made a transition from totalitarianism or authoritarianism to democracy and from central planning to a market economy Adding to the latter a number of national entities gained their independence after the disintegration of the federative states of the USSR Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia Many recent studies have focused on these double in some cases triple transitions and scholars from different fields analyzed the so called 1989 Revolution from different perspectives Rather less scholarly attention has been paid to the future of post communist constitutions and prospects for constitutionalism in these countries The main questions dealt with throughout this study can be formulated as follows Will liberal democratic constitutionalism take root in these countries Will new constitutions in Eastern Europe and the former USSR perish or survive This study also aims at contributing to the construction of a general constitutional theory by studying the causes and dynamics of constitutional change in general Such constitutional change is not only on the East European but also on the West European agenda The purpose of this study is not to introduce a general theory about constitutional in stability but studying post communist constitutions will help us to understand the causes and dynamics of constitutional change from a broader perspective
