Queering Families Tamara Lea Spira, 2025 Envisioning queer futures where we lovingly wager everything for the world's children the planet and all living beings against all odds and in increasingly precarious times Queering Families traces the shifting dominant meanings of queer family from the late twentieth century to today With this book Tamara Lea Spira highlights the growing embrace of normative family structures by LGBTQ movements calling into question how many queers once deemed unfit to parent have become contradictory agents within the US empire's racial and colonial agendas Simultaneously Queering Families celebrates the rich history of queer reproductive justice from the radical movements of the 1970s through the present led by Black decolonial and queer of color feminist activists Ultimately Spira argues that queering reproductive justice impels us to build communities of care to cherish and uphold the lives of those who defying normativity's violent stranglehold are deemed to be unworthy of life She issues the call to lovingly wager a future for the world's children the planet and all living beings against all odds and in increasingly perilous times

Making Gaybies Jaya Keaney, 2023-10-06 In Making Gaybies Jaya Keaney explores queer family making as a site of racialized intimacy Drawing on interviews with queer families in Australia Keaney traces the lived experiences of choice and constraint as these families seek to craft likeness with their future children and tell stories of chosen family made through love Queer family building often involves multiracial and multicultural encounters as intending parents take part in the global fertility industry Keaney follows queer family making through reproductive technologies and highlights the confines of varied transnational reproductive markets and policies as well as changing formations of race gender sexuality and kinship Whether sharing the story of white gay men choosing Indian and Thai egg donors to make their surrogate born children's ethnicities visually distinct from their own or that of an Aboriginal lesbian and her white partner choosing a Cherokee donor from the United States to articulate a global Indigeneity Keaney foregrounds the entwinement of reproduction race and affect By focusing on queer family making Keaney demonstrates how reproduction fosters a queer multiracial imaginary of kinship

Making Families Through Adoption Nancy E. Riley, Krista E. Van Vleet, 2012 This volume examines adoption as a way of understanding the practices and ideology of kinship and family more generally Adoption allows a window onto discussions of what constitute family or kin the role of biological connectedness oversight of parenting practices by the state and the role of race gender sexuality and socio economic class in the building of families The book focuses primarily on adoption practices in the US but will also use examples of adoption and fostering across cultures to put those American adoption practices into a comparative context While reviewing practices of and issues surrounding adoption the authors highlight the ways these practices and discussions allow us greater insight into overall practices of kinship and family The Slow Evolution of Foster Care in Australia Nell Musgrove, Deidre Michell, 2018-08-10 This book draws on archival oral history and public policy sources to tell a history of foster care in Australia from the nineteenth century to the present day It is primarily a social history which places the voices of people directly touched by foster care at the centre of the story but also within the wider social and political debates which have shaped foster care across more than a century The book confronts foster care's difficult past death and abuse of foster children family separation and a general public apathy towards these issues but it also acknowledges the resilience of people who have survived a childhood in foster care and the challenges faced by those who have worked hard to provide good foster homes and to make child welfare systems better These are themes which the book examines from an Australian perspective but which often resonate with foster care globally

Queering Reproductive Justice Candace Bond-Theriault, 2024-08-06 The futures of reproductive justice and LGBTQIA liberation are intimately connected Both movements were born out of the desire to love and build families of our choosing when and how we decide Both movements are rooted in broader social justice liberationist traditions that center the needs of Black and brown communities the LGBTQIA community gender nonconforming folks femmes poor folks parents and all those who have been forced to the margins of society Taking as its starting point the idea that we all have the human right to bodily autonomy to sexual health and pleasure and to exercise these rights with dignity Queering Reproductive Justice sets out to re envision the seemingly disparate strands of the reproductive justice and LGBTQIA movements and offer an invitation to reimagine these movements as one integrated vision of freedom for the future Candace Bond Theriault asserts that for reproductive justice to be truly successful we must acknowledge that members of the LGBTQIA community often face distinct specific and interlocking oppressions when it comes to these rights Family formation contraception needs and appropriate support from healthcare services are still poorly understood aspects of the LGBTQIA experience which often challenge mainstream notions of the nuclear family and the primacy of blood relatives Blending advocacy with a legal rights based framework Queering Reproductive Justice offers a unified path for attaining reproductive justice for LGBTQIA people Drawing on U S law and legislative history healthcare policy human rights and interviews with academics and activists Bond Theriault presents incisive new recommendations for queer reproductive justice theory organizing and advocacy This book offers readers an invitation to join the conversation and ultimately to join the movement to that is unapologetically queering reproductive justice
