Making Equity Planning Work Norman Krumholz, 2011-02-07 Lessons from an experiment in equity planning

Making Equity Planning Work Norman Krumholz, John Forester, 1990 Dialogical Planning in a Fragmented Society Thomas L. Harper, Stanley Stein, 2018-02-06 The culmination of a critical study of neo pragmatism philosophy and its application to planning Dialogical Planning in a Fragmented Society begins with philosopher Stanley M Stein s examination of neo pragmatism and his thoughts on how it can be useful in the field of environmental design specifically how it can be applied to planning procedures and problems Neo pragmatism is an approach that has been in the past best expressed or implied in the writing of Hilary Putnam Richard Rorty and in particular Donald Davidson John Rawls and Ludwig Wittgenstein Thomas L Harper furthers this tradition by providing the context for this theoretical application from his academic background in economics and management as well as his practical experience with political decision making processes community planning and economic development The result is a fresh synthesis of ideas a new approach to thinking about planning theory and its implications for and relationship with practice Philosopher Michael Walzer has asserted that philosophy reflects and articulates the political culture of its time and politics presents and enacts the arguments of philosophy Similarly the authors view planning theory as planning reflected upon in tranquility away from the tumult of battle and planning practice as planning theory acted out in the confusion of the trenches Each changes the other in a dynamic way and the authors demonstrate the intimate and inextricable link between them Encyclopedia of Urban Studies Ray Hutchison, 2009-09-15 The United Nations estimates that by 2030 more than two thirds of the total world population will live in urban areas Most of this increase will take place not in Europe or in the United States but in the megacities and newly emerging urban regions of what used to be called the developing world Urban studies is an expansive and growing field covering many disciplines and professional fields each with its own schedule of conferences journals and publication series These two volumes address the specific theories key studies and important figures that have influenced not just the individual discipline but also the field of urban studies more generally The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies is intended to present an overview of current work in the field and to serve as a guide for further reading in the field Key Features Includes important work and traditions from each of the urban disciplines including urban anthropology urban economics urban geography urban history urban politics urban psychology and urban sociology Addresses both the growth and expansion of urban areas urbanization and the nature and quality of urban life urbanism Demonstrates the international and interdisciplinary nature of the field with contributions from scholars in many different countries Confronts a number of important issues ranging from individual problems of poverty to societal problems of provision of adequate housing and social exclusion Provides entries on a number of cities including those in different historical periods and regions of the world and those that have been important in the development of urban studies Key Themes Disciplinary Approaches in Urban

Studies Urban Studies Topical Areas Urban Issues Urban Planning Urban Theory Urban Transportation Urban Culture Places Cities Persons The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies serves as an introduction to topics of significance in urban studies for an audience that includes undergraduate students beginning graduate students of urban studies and the related urban disciplines a broader public that has an interest in the new urban world and even established teachers and scholars who are exploring new areas of study

Studying Management Critically Mats Alvesson, Hugh Willmott, 2003-08-28 An excellent source for graduate students especially in the field of human resource development who are exploring areas for future research of a critical nature Adult Education Quarterly Drawing upon a range of influential contemporary movements in the social sciences primarily upon critical traditions such as the Critical Theory of the Frankfurt School this text provides a wide ranging analysis of management and its various specialisms The book offers critical understandings of key areas of management theory and practice such as accounting strategic management marketing business ethics and environmental management It also examines the relations between power and discursive practices in the modern corporation the role of architecture as a repressive and emancipatory force in organizations gender and organizations and critical methodology for organizational research Key issues of power knowledge relations across these areas are addressed and new agendas both for these fields and for management studies as a whole are introduced Contributing authors include Mats Alvesson Gibson Burrell David Cooper Karen Dale Stan Deetz Linda Forbes John Forester John Jermier David Levy Joanne Martin Glenn Morgan Martin Parker Mike Power Richard Loughlin and Hugh Willmott

Legacy Cities J. Rosie Tighe, Stephanie Ryberg-Webster, 2019-06-13 Legacy cities also commonly referred to as shrinking or post industrial cities are places that have experienced sustained population loss and economic contraction In the United States legacy cities are those that are largely within the Rust Belt that thrived during the first half of the 20th century In the second half of the century these cities declined in economic power and population leaving a legacy of housing stock warehouse districts and infrastructure that is ripe for revitalization This volume explores not only the commonalities across legacy cities in terms of industrial heritage and population decline but also their differences Legacy Cities poses the questions What are the legacies of legacy cities How do these legacies drive contemporary urban policy planning and decision making And what are the prospects for the future of these cities Contributors primarily focus on Cleveland Ohio but all Rust Belt cities are discussed

The Consensus Building Handbook Lawrence E. Susskind, Sarah McKearnen, Jennifer Thomas-Lamar, 1999-08-09 This handbook on group decision making for those wanting to operate in a consensus fashion stresses the advantages of informal common sense approaches to working together It describes how any group can put these approaches into practice and relates numerous examples of situations in which such approaches have been applied Theories of Local Economic Development Richard D. Bingham, Robert Mier, 1993-08-24 Presenting state of the art theoretical positions on important development issues such as the inner city technological innovation and rebuilding economic infrastructure are explored in this volume The contributors to this volume drawn from various social science backgrounds explore a variety of theories and examine them in relation to the practical actions of local economic development

The Metropolis in Black and White George C. Galster, 2017-07-12 The Metropolis in Black and White highlights a stark fact America's metropolitan areas are more polarized along racial lines than at any time since the mid 1960s Though urban areas have become multicultural the editors argue that black white racial differences will outlast ethnic differences in metropolitan America and that the race issue in most urban areas is perceived as a black white one Galster and Hill perceive that the theme of place power and polarization is most powerful when blacks and whites are contrasted African Americans on average are the poorest most segregated most disadvantaged urban racial or ethnic group because they are deeply entangled in the web of interrelationships connecting place power and polarization Since these interrelationships form a comprehensive set of social structures that oppress African Americans they can be judged to be racist at their core Race not merely class continues to play a pivotal role in shaping urban African Americans In clear analyses the contributors examine employment income the underclass education housing health and mortality political participation and racial politics Intertwined themes of spatial isolation political empowerment and racial disparities place power and polarization guide the analyses This is a vital text for courses in urban affairs American studies economics geography sociology political science urban planning and racial and ethnic studies In clear analyses the contributors examine employment income the underclass education housing health and mortality political participation and racial politics Intertwined themes of spatial isolation political empowerment and racial disparities place power and polarization guide the analyses This is a vital text for courses in urban affairs American studies economics geography sociology political science urban planning and racial and ethnic studies

Community Planning Eric Damian Kelly, 2012-09-26 This book introduces community planning as practiced in the United States focusing on the comprehensive plan Sometimes known by other names especially master plan or general plan the type of plan described here is the predominant form of general governmental planning in the U S Although many government agencies make plans for their own programs or facilities the comprehensive plan is the only planning document that considers multiple programs and that accounts for activities on all land located within the planning area including both public and private property Written by a former president of the American Planning Association Community Planning is thorough specific and timely It addresses such important contemporary issues as sustainability walkable communities the role of urban design in public safety changes in housing needs for a changing population and multi modal transportation planning Unlike competing books it addresses all of these topics in the context of the local comprehensive plan There is a broad audience for this book planning students practicing planners and individual citizens who want to better understand local planning and land use controls Boxes at the end of each chapter explain how professional planners and individual citizens respectively typically engage the issues addressed in the chapter For all readers Community Planning provides a pragmatic view of the comprehensive plan clearly explained by a respected authority Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning Michael Hibbard, Robert Freestone, Tore Øivin Sager, 2013-05-29 Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning 5 is a selection of some of the best scholarship in urban and regional planning from around the world The internationally recognized authors of these award winning papers take up a range of salient issues from the theory and practice of planning The topics they address include the effects of globalization on world cities metropolitan planning in France and Australia and new research in pedestrian and traffic design The breadth of the topics covered in this book will appeal to all those with an interest in urban and regional planning providing a springboard for further debate and research The papers focus particularly on themes of inclusion urban transformation metropolitan planning and urban design The Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning DURP book series is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and its member national and transnational planning schools associations Policy, Planning, and People Naomi Carmon, Susan S. Fainstein, 2013-05-31 The contributors of Policy Planning and People argue for the promotion of social equity and quality of life by designing and evaluating urban policies and plans Edited by Naomi Carmon and Susan S Fainstein the volume features original essays by leading authorities in the field of urban planning and policy mainly from the United States but also from Canada Hungary Italy and Israel The contributors discuss goal setting and ethics in planning illuminate paradigm shifts make policy recommendations and arrive at best practices for future planning Policy Planning and People includes theoretical as well as practice based essays on a wide range of planning issues housing and neighborhood transportation surveillance and safety the network society regional development and community development Several essays are devoted to disadvantaged and excluded groups such as senior citizens the poor and migrant workers The unifying themes of this volume are the values of equity diversity and democratic participation The contributors discuss and draw conclusions related to the planning process and its outcomes They demonstrate the need to look beyond efficiency to determine who benefits from urban policies and plans Contributors Alberta Andreotti Tridib Banerjee Rachel G Bratt Naomi Carmon Karen Chapple Norman Fainstein Susan Fainstein Eran Feitelson Amnon Frenkel George Galster Penny Gurstein Deborah Howe Norman Krumholz Jonathan Levine Anastasia Loukaitou Sideris Enzo Mingione Kenneth Reardon Izhak Schnell Daniel Shefer Michael Teitz Iv n Tosics Lawrence Vale Martin Wachs Selling Cities David P. Varady, Jeffrey A. Raffel, 1995-01-01 Shows that cities can be revitalized by attracting and retaining the middle class through schools and housing programs The Argumentative Turn in Policy Analysis and Planning Frank Fischer, John Forester, 2013-07-12 Public policy is made of language Whether in written or oral form argument is central to all parts of the policy process As simple as this insight appears its implications for policy analysis and planning are profound Drawing from recent work on language and argumentation and referring to such theorists as Wittgenstein Habermas Toulmin and Foucault these essays explore the interplay of language action and power in both the practice and the theory of policy making The contributors scholars of international renown who range across the theoretical spectrum emphasize the political nature of the policy planner s work and stress the role of persuasive arguments in practical decision making Recognizing the rhetorical communicative character of policy and planning deliberations they show that policy arguments are necessarily selective both shaping and being shaped by relations of power These essays reveal the practices of policy analysts and planners in powerful new ways as matters of practical argumentation in complex highly political environments They also make an important contribution to contemporary debates over postempiricism in the social and policy sciences Contributors John S Dryzek William N Dunn Frank Fischer John Forester Maarten Hajer Patsy Healey Robert Hoppe Bruce Jennings Thomas J Kaplan Duncan MacRae Jr Martin Rein Donald Schon J A Throgmorton

Big Plans Kenneth L. Kolson,2003-11-03 This work springs from the idea that human aspirations for the city tend to overstate the role of rationality in public life The author explores the part serendipity plays in urban experience

The Cambridge Handbook of Community Empowerment Brian D. Christens,2024-04-25 Power and empowerment are critical topics for social change This handbook maps out ways that people can collectively engage with influence and change systems that affect their lives particularly the systems that maintain inequality and oppression It includes in depth examinations of a variety of approaches to building and exercising community power in local organizations institutions and settings Each chapter examines a particular approach critically engaging with contemporary research on how and when collective action can be most effective at producing change within communities and societal systems By examining a range of approaches in diverse contexts this book provides new insights for scholars practitioners and engaged resident leaders aiming to be more precise strategic and innovative in their efforts to build and sustain community power It is the ideal resource for those working with community groups to build more just and equitable systems

Reclaiming Capital Christopher Gunn,Hazel Gunn,2018-08-06 Towns without nationally advertised fast food restaurants often eagerly await the day when the golden arches sprout next door to the local car dealership But what really happens to a community with the arrival of the uni burger Christopher Gunn and Hazel Dayton Gunn demonstrate that perhaps three quarters of the money a community spends at its burger emporium will leave the area Poor communities remain poor they assert because local capital tends to be drained off to financial centers corporate accounts and stockholders portfolios In keeping with ecologists injunction to think globally and act locally this imaginative book documents ways in which communities have counteracted constraints of the capitalist economic system and succeeded in promoting democratic control of their resources Taking as one example the local impact of a new McDonald s restaurant Gunn and Gunn first illustrate how capital potentially available for community development may be identified They then explore a variety of alternative institutions credit unions nonprofit corporations and consumers and workers cooperatives among others that serve to attract and retain resources foster growth and extend public control over the development process The authors also consider how grassroots activism for social change may be integrated with more conventional political practice Reclaiming Capital will be a vital resource for activists elected officials and others concerned with urban and regional planning Cleveland William Dennis Keating, Norman Krumholz, David C. Perry, 1995 An analysis of the political economy social development and history of Cleveland from 1796 to the present As one of the oldest communities in the United States the author looks at it as a model of transformation for other industrial cities Growing Smart Legislative Guidebook Stuart Meck, 2020-12-17 States and their local governments have practical tools to help combat urban sprawl protect farmland promote affordable housing and encourage redevelopment They appear in the American Planning Association s Growing Smart Legislative Guidebook Model Statutes for Planning and the Management of Change The Guidebook and its accompanying User Manual are the culmination of APA s seven year Growing Smart project an effort to draft the next generation of model planning and zoning legislation for the United States The Guidebook is also pertinent to those who are affected by planning decisions and who have an interest in how the statutes are revised including Local planners Builders Developers Real estate and design professionals Smart growth and affordable housing advocates Environmentalists Highway and transit specialists Citizens
