Making Hate A Crime:

Making Hate A Crime Valerie Jenness, Ryken Grattet, 2004-04-22 Violence motivated by racism anti-Semitism misogyny and homophobia weaves a tragic pattern throughout American history Fueled by recent high profile cases hate crimes have achieved an unprecedented visibility Only in the past twenty years however has this kind of violence itself as old as humankind been specifically categorized and labeled as hate crime Making Hate a Crime is the first book to trace the emergence and development of hate crime as a concept illustrating how it has become institutionalized as a social fact and analyzing its policy implications In Making Hate a Crime Valerie Jenness and Ryken Grattet show how the concept of hate crime emerged and evolved over time as it traversed the arenas of American politics legislatures courts and law enforcement In the process violence against people of color immigrants Jews gays and lesbians women and persons with disabilities has come to be understood as hate crime while violence against other vulnerable victims octogenarians union members the elderly and police officers for example has not The authors reveal the crucial role social movements played in the early formulation of hate crime policy as well as the way state and federal politicians defined the content of hate crime statutes how judges determined the constitutional validity of those statutes and how law enforcement has begun to distinguish between hate crime and other crime Hate crime took on different meanings as it moved from social movement concept to law enforcement practice As a result it not only acquired a deeper jurisprudential foundation but its scope of application has been restricted in some ways and broadened in others Making Hate a Crime reveals how our current understanding of hate crime is a mix of political and legal interpretations at work in the American policymaking process Jenness and Grattet provide an insightful examination of the birth of a new category in criminal justice hate crime Their findings have implications for emerging social problems such as school violence television induced violence elder abuse as well as older ones like drunk driving stalking and sexual harassment Making Hate a Crime presents a fresh perspective on how social problems and the policies devised in response develop over time A Volume in the American Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology

The Psychology of Hate Crimes as Domestic Terrorism Edward W. Dunbar, Amalio Blanco Ph.D., Desirée A. Crèvecoeur-MacPhail Ph.D., 2016-11-21 In this three volume set an international team of experts involved in the research management and mitigation of hate motivated violence examines and explains hate crimes in the United States and around the globe drawing comparisons between countries as well as between hate crimes overall and domestic terrorism The Psychology of Hate Crimes as Domestic Terrorism U S and Global Issues takes a hard look at hate crimes both domestically and internationally enabling readers to see similarities and disparities as well as to make the connections between hate crimes and domestic terrorism The entries in this three volume set discuss subjects such as the psychology and motivation in hate crimes the cultural norms that shape tolerance of outgroups or tolerance of hate and the fact that hate crimes are a pervasive form of domestic terrorism as well as myriad issues of proliferation public policy policing law and punishment and prevention

The set opens with an introduction that discusses hate crime research and examines issues of identification of the bias element of hate crimes via empirical and case vignettes The subsequent chapters discuss subjects such as the socio demographic profiles of hate crime offenders hate crime legislation and policy in the United States the effects of hate crime on their victims as well as society the incidence of hate crime in specific regions such as Europe the Middle East and South America and programs and therapeutic interventions to heal victims Readers will also learn how specific educational approaches in communities schools and universities can be implemented to help prevent future escalation of hate motivated violence

Making Hate Pay Tyler O'Neil, 2020-01-20 The Southern Poverty Law Center started with noble intentions and has done much good over the years but a pernicious corruption has undermined the organization's original mission and contributed to a climate of fear and hostility in America Hotels web platforms and credit card companies have blacklisted law abiding Americans because the SPLC disagrees with their political views The SPLC's false accusations have done concrete harm costing the organization millions in lawsuits A deranged man even attempted to commit mass murder having been inspired by the SPLC's rhetoric How did a civil rights group dedicated to saving the innocent from the death penalty become a pernicious threat to America's free speech culture How did an organization dedicated to fighting poverty wind up with millions in the Cayman Islands How did a civil rights stalwart find itself accused of racism and sexism Making Hate Pay tells the inside story of how the SPLC yielded to many forms of corruption and what it means for free speech in America today It also explains why Corporate America Big Tech government and the media are wrong to take the SPLC's disingenuous tactics at face value and the serious damage they cause by trusting this corrupt organization

Social Consciousness in Legal Decision Making Richard L. Wiener, Brian H. Bornstein, Robert Schopp, Steven L. Willborn, 2007-05-11 This book invites the legal and psychology communities to work together in solving some of our most pressing social problems It examines four controversial areas involving people's perceptions of others The book is therefore a guide to understanding the valuable contribution of social scientific research in policy formulation in the law and it addresses the role of psychology in substantive law and legal decision making

New Directions in Race, Ethnicity and Crime Coretta Phillips, Colin Webster, 2013-10-08 The disproportionate criminalisation and incarceration of particular minority ethnic groups has long been observed though much of the work in criminology has been dominated by a somewhat narrow debate This debate has concerned itself with explaining this disproportionality in terms of structural inequalities and socio economic disadvantage or discriminatory criminal justice processing This book offers an accessible and innovative approach including chapters on anti-Semitism social cohesion in London Bradford and Glasgow as well as an exploration of policing Traveller communities Incorporating current empirical research and new departures in methodology and theory this book also draws on a range of contemporary issues such as policing terrorism immigration detention and youth gangs In offering minority perspectives on race crime and justice and white inmate perspectives from the multicultural prison the book emphasises contrasting and distinctive influences on constructing ethnic identities It will be of interest to students studying courses in ethnicity crime and justice

Making the Human Corinne Mitsuye Sugino, 2024-11-15 From the debate over affirmative action to the increasingly visible racism amidst the COVID 19 pandemic Asian Americans have emerged as key figures in a number of contemporary social controversies In Making the Human Race Allegory and Asian Americans Corinne Mitsuye Sugino offers the lens of racial allegory to consider how media institutional and cultural narratives mobilize difference to normalize a white Western conception of the human Rather than focusing on a singular arena of society Sugino considers contemporary sources across media law and popular culture to understand how they interact as dynamic sites of meaning making Drawing on scholarship in Asian American studies Black studies cultural studies communication and gender and sexuality studies Sugino argues that Asian American racialization and gendering plays a key role in shoring up abstract concepts such as meritocracy family justice diversity and nation in ways that naturalize hierarchy In doing so Making the Human grapples with anti Asian racism s entanglements with colonialism antiblackness capitalism and gendered violence

Equality, Inequalities and Diversity Geraldine Healy, Gill Kirton, Mike Noon, 2010-11-10 Equality Inequalities and Diversity offers an authoritative critical analysis of equality inequality and diversity in organizations Using international examples it explores contemporary concepts and debates based on original research in a number of fields and sectors an ideal course companion for anyone studying diversity The Cambridge Handbook of Social Problems: A. Javier Treviño, 2018-03-22 The introduction of the Affordable Care Act in the United States the increasing use of prescription drugs and the alleged abuse of racial profiling by police are just some of the factors contributing to twenty first century social problems The Cambridge Handbook of Social Problems offers a wide ranging roster of the social problems currently pressing for attention and amelioration Unlike other works in this area it also gives great consideration to theoretical and methodological discussions This Handbook will benefit both undergraduate and graduate students eager to understand the sociology of social problems It is suitable for classes in social problems current events and social theory Featuring the most current research the Handbook provides an especially useful resource for sociologists and graduate students conducting research Routledge Handbook of Critical Criminology Walter S. DeKeseredy, Molly Dragiewicz, 2018-04-09 The main objective of the second edition of the Routledge Handbook of Critical Criminology is twofold 1 to provide original chapters that cover contemporary critical criminological theoretical offerings generated over the past five years and 2 to provide chapters on important new substantive topics that are currently being studied and theorized by progressive criminologists Special attention is devoted to new theoretical directions in the field such as southern criminology queer criminology and green criminology The diverse chapters cover not only cutting edge theories but also the variety of research methods used by leading scholars in the field and the rich data generated by their rigorous empirical work In addition some of the chapters suggest innovative and realistic short and long term policy proposals that are typically ignored by mainstream criminology These progressive strategies address some of the most pressing social problems facing contemporary society today which generate much pain and suffering for socially and economically disenfranchised people The new edition of the Handbook is a major work in redefining areas within the context of international multidisciplinary critical research and in highlighting emerging areas such as human trafficking Internet pornography and image based sexual abuse It is specifically designed to be a comprehensive resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and policymakers American Memories Joachim J. Savelsberg, Ryan D. King, 2011-09-01 In the long history of warfare and cultural and ethnic violence the twentieth century was exceptional for producing institutions charged with seeking accountability or redress for violent offenses and human rights abuses across the globe often forcing nations to confront the consequences of past atrocities The Holocaust ended with trials at Nuremberg apartheid in South Africa concluded with the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the Gacaca courts continue to strive for closure in the wake of the Rwandan genocide Despite this global trend toward accountability American collective memory appears distinct in that it tends to glorify the nation's past celebrating triumphs while eliding darker episodes in its history In American Memories sociologists Joachim Savelsberg and Ryan King rigorously examine how the United States remembers its own and others atrocities and how institutional responses to such crimes including trials and tribunals may help shape memories and perhaps impede future violence American Memories uses historical and media accounts court records and survey research to examine a number of atrocities from the nation's past including the massacres of civilians by U.S. military in My Lai Vietnam and Haditha Iraq The book shows that when states initiate responses to such violence via criminal trials tribunals or reconciliation hearings they lay important groundwork for how such atrocities are viewed in the future Trials can serve to delegitimize violence even by a nation's military by creating a public record of grave offenses But the law is filtered by and must also compete with other institutions such as the media and historical texts in shaping American memory Savelsberg and King show for example how the My Lai slayings of women children and elderly men by U.S. soldiers have been largely eliminated from or misrepresented in American textbooks and the army's reputation survived the episode untarnished The American media nevertheless evoked the killings at My Lai in response to the murder of twenty-four civilian Iraqis in Haditha during the war in Iraq Since only one conviction was obtained for the My Lai massacre and convictions for the killings in Haditha seem increasingly unlikely Savelsberg and King argue that Haditha in the near past is now bound inextricably to My Lai in the distant past With virtually no criminal convictions and none of higher ranks for either massacre both events will continue to be misrepresented in American memory In contrast the book examines American representations of atrocities committed by foreign powers during the Balkan wars which entailed the prosecution of ranking military and political leaders The authors analyze news accounts of the war's events and show how articles based on diplomatic sources initially cast Serbian President Slobodan Milosevic in a less negative light but court-based accounts increasingly portrayed Milosevic as a criminal solidifying his image for the public record American Memories provocatively suggests that a nation's memories don't just develop as a rejoinder to events they are largely shaped by institutions In the wake of atrocities how a state responds has an enduring effect and provides a moral framework for whether and how we remember violent transgressions Savelsberg and King deftly show that such responses can be instructive for how to deal with large-scale violence in the future and hopefully how to deter it A Volume in the American Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology

Social Issues in America James Ciment, 2015-03-04 More than 150 key social issues confronting the United States today are covered in this eight-volume set from abortion and adoption to capital punishment and corporate crime from obesity and organized crime to sweatshops and xenophobia
