Making JFK Matter Paul H. Santa Cruz, 2015-05-15 In Making JFK Matter Paul Santa Cruz examines how popular memory of John F Kennedy has been used politically by various interest groups primarily the city of Dallas Lyndon Johnson and Robert Kennedy as well as how the memory of Kennedy has been portrayed in various museums Santa Cruz argues that we have memorialized JFK not simply out of love for him or admiration for the ideals he embodied but because invoking his name carries legitimacy and power Memory can be employed to accomplish particular ends for example the passage of long overdue civil rights legislation or even successfully running for political office Santa Cruz demonstrates the presence and use of popular memory in an extensive analysis of what was being said and by whom about the late president through White House memoranda and speech material museum exhibits such as the Sixth Floor Museum in Dallas and the JFK Presidential Library and Museum in Boston public correspondence newspapers and periodicals of the time memoirs and archival research He also explores how JFK has been memorialized in films such as Bobby JFK and Thirteen Days Written in an accessible manner to appeal to both historians and the general public Making JFK Matter tells us much of how we have memorialized Kennedy over the years

Smith, 2010-12-09 This volume captures the spirit of collaboration and innovation that its authors bring into the classroom as well as to groundbreaking undergraduate programs and initiatives Coming from diverse points of view and twenty different disciplines the contributors illuminate the often perplexing debates about what matters most in higher education today Each chapter tells a unique story about creating vital pedagogical arenas that have the potential to transform teaching and learning for both faculty and students These exploratory spaces include courses under construction cross college and interdisciplinary collaborations general education reform initiatives and fresh perspectives on student support services faculty development freshman learning communities writing across the curriculum on line degree initiatives and teaching and learning centers All these spaces lend shape to an over arching system wide project bringing together the often disconnected silos of undergraduate education at The City University of New York CUNY America's largest urban public university system Since 2003 the University's Office of Undergraduate Education has sponsored coordinated efforts to study and improve teaching and learning for the system's 260 000 undergraduates enrolled at 18 distinct colleges The contributors to this volume present a broad spectrum of administrative and faculty perspectives that have informed the process of transforming the undergraduate experience Combined the voices in these chapters create a much needed exploratory space for the interplay of ideas about how teaching and learning need to matter in evolving notions of higher education in the twenty first century In addition the text has wider social relevance as an in depth exploration of change and reform in a large public institution

Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1902 Does God Make the Man? Stewart M. Hoover,Curtis D. Coats,2015-10-02 Many believe that religion plays a positive role in men s identity development with religion promoting good behavior and morality In contrast we often assume that the media is a negative influence for men teaching them to be rough and violent and to ignore their emotions In Does God Make the Man Stewart M Hoover and Curtis D Coats draw on extensive interviews and participant observation with both Evangelical and non Evangelical men including Catholics as well as Protestants to argue that neither of these assumptions is correct Dismissing the easy notion that media encourages toxic masculinity and religion is always a positive influence Hoover and Coats argue that not only are the linkages between religion media and masculinity not as strong and substantive as has been assumed but the ways in which these relations actually play out may contradict received views Over the course of this fascinating book they examine crises contradictions and contestations crises about the meaning of masculinity and about the lack of direction men experience from their faith communities contradictions between men s religious lives and media lives and contestations among men s ideas about what it means to be a man The book counters common discussions about a crisis of masculinity showing that actual men do not see the world the way the crisis talk has portrayed it and interestingly even Evangelical men often do not see religion as part of the solution The SAGE Handbook of Writing Development Roger Beard,Jeni Riley,Debra Myhill,Martin Nystrand,2009-07-23 By drawing on international cross phase and cross disciplinary research perspectives this book offers a comprehensive review of writing development invaluable for researchers and practitioners alike
