Mapping Social Exclusion in India Paramjit S. Judge, 2014-03-13 Identifies and examines various trajectories of exclusion at both macro and micro levels in India Approaches to History Sabyasachi Bhattacharya, 2011 History as a social science is arguably more self reflective than associated disciplines in that family Other social scientists seem to see little reason to look beyond the paradigm they are developing in the present times Historians on the other hand tend to depend on the cumulative process of the development of their craft and the fund of accumulated knowledge Yet while this is acknowledged in the practice of research Historiography in itself as a subject of study has rarely found its place in the syllabi of Indian universities Knowledge of Historiography is taken for granted when a scholar plunges into research In an attempt to address this lacuna the Indian Council of Historical Research ICHR has planned a series of volumes on Historiography comprising articles by subject specialists commissioned by the ICHR The first volume in the series Approaches to History Essays in Indian Historiography brings to the readers the first fruits of that endeavour While the essays encompass areas of research presently at the frontiers of new research scholars will also find the bibliographies accompanying the essays of significant appeal Living on the Margins: Social Access to Shelter in Urban South Asia Navtej K. Purewal, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 The privatization of former social state housing through recent public private partnerships is becoming increasingly prevalent in Third World as well as in Western countries In most Third World countries this shift has had profound effects upon the patterns of access of shelter Drawing on studies of South Asian and other Third World contexts as well as original in depth empirical research from Amritsar a city in North West India this book offers an analysis of the withdrawal of state housing provision It develops and applies a unique model based on social status to analyze the new routes of access to housing and land by the urban poor Its conclusions argue that these new privatization policies largely rely upon already existing informal and self help settlements which continue to attract the poor and to be the largest housing providers in many cities thus providing a ready made safety net for such policies The inter linkages between the private state and the public market make up a highly diversified and complex picture of shelter arrangements being accessed by the poor which is reflected in the social differentiation and increasingly stratified housing market The book argues that these partnership policies therefore have long term implications upon social patterns of inclusion and exclusion which must be addressed Potters without a Wheel Saswati Bhattacharya, 2022-06-24 This book is an ethnographic study of clay idol makers of Kumartuli in Kolkata India Much of the visibility and identity of Kolkata s creative culture has been dependent upon the clay artists of Kumartuli for the last 100 years or so This book explores the nature of the carefully constructed identity of these idol makers as mritshilpis or clay artists who as opposed to ordinary potters work with their hands instead of a wheel It looks at how the mritshilpis consciously embrace and expand their market based on this variation and elevated status as artists instead of artisans and studies the embeddedness of this identity within the commodity markets It also shows that commodity markets in this case the market of clay idols are an outcome of trends of urbanisation popular demand corporatisation and commodification of culture all of which have shaped the contours of clay idol making as not only an occupation but a brand identity Drawing on extensive fieldwork and in depth interviews the book highlights the larger structural relationship between urbanisation indigenous occupational categories and identity politics It will be indispensable to scholars and researchers of sociology social anthropology political studies cultural history urban economy art history urbanisation cultural studies and urban sociology

Mobile Media in the Asia-Pacific Larissa Hjorth, 2008-10-13 This century has been marked by the rapid and divergent uptake of mobile telephony throughout the world The mobile phone has become a poignant symbol for postmodernity and the attendant modes of global mobility and immobility Most notably the icon of the mobile phone is most palpable in the Asia Pacific in which a diversity of innovation and consumer practices reflecting gender and locality can be found Through the lens of gendered mobile media Mobile Media in the Asia Pacific provides insight into this phenomenon by focusing on case studies in Japan South Korea China and Australia Despite the ubiquity and multi layered nature of mobile media in the region the patterns of female consumption have received little attention in the growing literature on mobile communication globally Utilising ethnographic research conducted in the Asia Pacific over a six year period this book investigates the relationship between gender technology and various forms of mobility and immobility in the region This book outlines the emerging modes of gender performativity that makes the Asia Pacific region so distinct to other regions globally Mobile Media in the Asia Pacific is a fascinating read for students and scholars interested in new media and gender in the Asia Pacific region

The Routledge Handbook of Mobile Socialities Annette Hill, Maren Hartmann, Magnus Andersson, 2021-05-06 This is a state of the art survey of an emerging area of study in media communication and cultural studies mobility studies and mobile communications Mobile socialities demarcates a new area of research that captures people's various and contrary experiences of media in relation to their mobilities and socialities The chapters in this volume are written by a range of international scholars offering a comprehensive overview and source of inspiration for a diverse range of topics on the contingent practices and finite resources of people and media on the move The book demonstrates through empirical and theoretical research how mobile socialities is a generative concept for thinking through power identity and the contexts of media in public and mediated spaces work and everyday life addressing a spectrum of mobile socialities and lived politics The research and various cases make visible previously hidden or obscured social practices and allow us to rethink the meanings of mobility digital media or the home in these examples of people living within the centre and peripheries of society The Handbook establishes mobile socialities as a new area of academic enquiry ideal for advanced undergraduate students and scholars across the disciplines of media communication and cultural studies anthropology cultural geography and sociology

Gender and Human Rights in a Global, Mobile Era Laura A. Hebert, 2022-06-15 Gender and Human Rights in a Global Mobile Era delves into feminist debates surrounding the relationship between gender and human rights through engaging feminist perspectives on the multifaceted issue of human trafficking Building on analyses of domestic servitude commercial sex and labor trafficking by military contractors and grounded in intersectional feminist cosmopolitanism and feminist theorizing on vulnerability precarity and ethical interdependence Laura Hebert makes several interrelated contributions As she explores how a feminist gender analysis illuminates the structures and norms enabling trafficking Hebert simultaneously considers the future of feminist rights advocacy Emphasizing the sociality of human rights she encourages feminist scholars and activists to look beyond states as the duty bearers of human rights and the assumption that human rights are made meaningful mainly through the establishment of legal rights at the national level She challenges the idea that feminism can be reduced to advocacy on behalf of women s rights She also encourages critical reflection on how divisions associated with feminist politics have impeded opportunities for the building of feminist solidarities across differences aimed at the realization of the human rights of all Strongly interdisciplinary Gender and Human Rights in a Global Mobile Era will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Innovation as Social Change in South Asia Minna Säävälä, Sirpa Tenhunen, 2017-10-02 This book examines innovation as social change in South Asia From an anthropological micro perspective innovation is moulded by social systems of value and hierarchy while simultaneously having the potential to transform them Peterson examines the printing press s changing technology and its intersections with communal and language ideologies in India Tenhunen explores mobile telephony gender and kinship in West Bengal Uddin looks at microcredit and its relationship with social capital in Bangladesh Jeffrey surveys imbalanced sex ratios and the future of marriage payments in north western India Ashrafun and S v l investigate alternative dispute resolution as a social innovation which affects the life options of battered young wives in Sylhet Bangladesh These case studies give insights into how the deeply engrained cultural models and values affect the forms that an innovative process can take In the case of some South

Asian societies starkly hierarchical and holistic structures mean that innovations can have unpredictable sociocultural repercussions The book argues that successful innovation requires taking into account how social hierarchies may steer their impact This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary South Asia Guide to Indian Periodical Literature ,1977
