Mobility Elites And Education In French Society Of The Second Empire:

Mobility, Elites and Education in French Society of the Second Empire Patrick J. Harrigan, 2006-01-01 Based on a unique historical source this book examines the social origins career expectations and first jobs of 28 000 students in the elitist French secondary schools of the 1860s Using sophisticated statistical analysis as well as conventional historical sources the work concludes that schooling reached a wider audience than has been so far believed and that substantial social mobility occurred within the school system but that family background rather than educational factors directed students career aspirations and achievements It also argues that although education expanded in urban industrialized areas mobility did not increase in these areas A final chapter reconsiders nineteenth century thought concerning education in the light of findings about the social effects of schools

Building European Society Andrew Miles, David Vincent, 1993 The Physician-Legislators of France Jack D. Ellis, 1990-09-28 Explores the causes and significance of the political influence gained by French medical doctors between 1870 1914

Apprehending the Criminal Marie-Christine Leps, 1992 In this wide ranging analysis Marie Christine Leps traces the production and circulation of knowledge about the criminal in nineteenth century discourse and shows how the delineation of deviance served to construct cultural norms She demonstrates how the apprehension of crime and criminals was an important factor in the establishment of such key institutions as national systems of education a cheap daily press and various welfare measures designed to fight the spread of criminality Leps focuses on three discursive practices the emergence of criminology the development of a mass produced press and the proliferation of crime fiction in both England and France Beginning where Foucault's work Discipline and Punish ends Leps analyzes intertextual modes of knowledge production and shows how the elaboration of hegemonic truths about the criminal is related to the exercise of power The scope of her investigation includes scientific treatises such as Criminal Man by Cesare Lombroso and The English Convict by Charles Goring reports on the Jack the Ripper murders in The Times and Le Petit Parisien the Sherlock Holmes stories Stevenson's Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde and novels by Zola and Bourget

Structure and Mobility William Hamilton Sewell, 1985-04-26 This book is a sociological portrait of Marseille during the epochal changes of the nineteenth century Sewell establishes a systematic quantitative description of some of the most important social structures of nineteenth century Marseille Although deeply influenced by sociological methods and theories the volume is written on the basis of readability and simplicity and therefore has much to offer to the historian as well as the sociologist

Inventing Secondary Education Robert Douglas Gidney, Winnifred Phoebe Joyce Millar, 1990 The received view is that secondary education in Ontario is a result of Egerton Ryerson's Education Act of 1871 But R D Gidney and W P J Millar show that Ryerson and the Provincial Education Office responded to rather than directed policy in higher education In fact the system in place today is evidence of Ryerson's failure to implement the programs he wanted

Education and State Formation A. Green, 2013-10-23 Education has always been a key instrument of nation building in new states National education systems have typically been used to assimilate immigrants to promote established religious doctrines to spread the standard form of national languages and to forge national identities and national cultures They helped construct the very subjectivities of citizenship justifying the ways of the state to the people and the duties of the people to the state In this second edition of his seminal and widely acclaimed book on the origins of public education in England France Prussia and the USA Andy Green shows how education has also been used as a tool of successful state formation in the developmental states of East Asia While human capital theories have focused on how schools and colleges supply the skills for economic growth Green shows how the forming of citizens and national identities through education has often provided the necessary condition for both economic and social development

Schooling in Western Europe Mary Jo Maynes, 1985-06-30 Mary Jo Maynes looks to school reform in early modern Europe to show the relevance of early ideas about schooling for understanding contemporary society She presents the competing perspectives on issues such as the identity and motivations of school reformers the broad societal changes that made educational reform seem imperative toward the end of the eighteenth century all over the West the connections between educational change and economic development the role of schools in the evolution of class relations the impact of reform on family strategies in the context of early industrialization The work concludes by assessing historical data on the social impact of school reform and addressing the social meaning of schooling in the past and in the present

People and Politics in France, 1848-1870 Roger Price, 2004-06-17 This 2004 book is about politicisation and political choice in the aftermath of the February Revolution of 1848 and the emergence of democracy in France The introduction of male suffrage both encouraged expectations of social transformation and aroused intense fear In these circumstances the election of Louis Napoleon Bonaparte as President of the Republic and his subsequent coup d'état were the essential features of a counter revolutionary process which involved the creation of a system of democracy as the basis of regime legitimacy and as a prelude to greater liberalisation The state positively encouraged the act of voting But what did it mean How did people perceive politics How did communities and groups participate in political activity These and many other questions concern the relationships between local issues and personalities and the national political culture all of which impinged on communities increasingly as a result of substantial social and political change

Theatre, Politics, and Markets in Fin-de-Siècle Paris S. Charnow, 2016-09-23 Since the Enlightenment French theatre has occupied a prominent place within French thought society and culture but as a subject of study it has remained a purview of theatre historians literary scholars and aestheticians They focus on the emergence of the modern theatre as change generated from within bourgeois literary drama but ignore theatre as a complex social practice Theatre Politics and Markets in Fin de Siècle Paris investigates the dynamic relationships among the avant garde official culture and the commercial sphere arguing against the neat divide of high and low culture by showing how cultural forms of varying social origins influenced each other

development of education in France and England from the French Revolution to the outbreak of World War II The author uses social equality as a framework to compare and contrast the educational systems of both countries and to emphasise the distinctive ideological legacies at the heart of both systems The author analyses how the French Revolution prompted the emergence of an egalitarian ideology in education that in turn was crucial for propagating the values of equality patriotism and unity In tandem the volume discusses the equally dramatic consequences of the Industrial Revolution for English society while England led the world by 1800 in trade commerce and industry a strict form of liberalism and minimal state intervention impeded the reduction of educational inequality This pioneering book will be of interest to students and scholars of educational equality as well as the history of education in France and England

Modern Educational System Detlef Müller, Detlef K. Müller, Fritz Ringer, Brian Simon, 1989-11-30 A pioneering socio historical analysis of change and development in secondary education in England France and Germany during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries State And The Rise Of National Education Systems Andy Green, 1990-05-22

Britain was the last major European state to create a national education system and is set to be the first to dismantle it In this wide ranging comparative study Andy Green examines the reasons for the uneven development of public education in England Prussia France and the USA The Cult of the Modern Gavin Murray-Miller, 2017 The Cult of the Modern focuses on nineteenth century France and Algeria and examines the role that ideas of modernity and modernization played in both national and colonial programs during the years of the Second Empire and the early Third Republic Gavin Murray Miller rethinks the subject by examining the idiomatic use of modernity in French cultural and political discourse The Cult of the Modern argues that the modern French republic is a product of nineteenth century colonialism rather than a creation of the Enlightenment or the French Revolution This analysis contests the predominant Parisian and metropolitan contexts that have traditionally framed French modernity studies noting the important role that colonial Algeria and the administration of Muslim subjects played in shaping understandings of modern identity and governance among nineteenth century politicians and intellectuals In synthesizing the narratives of continental France and colonial North Africa Murray Miller proposes a new framework for nineteenth century French political and cultural history bringing into sharp relief the diverse ways in which the French nation was imagined and represented throughout the country s turbulent postrevolutionary history as well as the implications for prevailing understandings of France today Schooling the Daughters of Marianne Linda L.

Clark, 1984-06-30 This first book length study of girls primary education in France gives a concrete picture of how Frenchwomen were and are prepared for their roles in society Until the 1960s the primary school provided the only formal education for the majority of French children Long recognized as a major inculcator of patriotic and moral values the French primary school also played the vital role of preparing girls for their expected adult lives Linda L Clark describes in detail this socialization process By analyzing a wide variety of documents from 1870 to the present textbooks curriculum materials students notebooks examination questions inspectors reports and teachers memoirs she has uncovered not only what was taught to girls but the social and political assumptions that lay behind the primary school s messages about feminine personalities and activities The book goes on to establish the relationship of feminine images to important aspects of French social economic and political life A chapter on the preparation of girls for the world of work for example reveals the discrepancy between formal teaching about femininity and women s actual participation in society From Martyr to Monument Janet T. Marquardt, 2009-03-26 After the French Revolution and the dissolution of the monastic orders the great Abbey of Cluny in France was closed and the buildings were sold for materials This process went on for nearly thirty years just as a romantic appreciation of the medieval past was gaining popularity Although the government was unable to halt most of the demolition work one transept arm with a large and small tower was saved from ruin along with a few small Gothic buildings and the eighteenth century cloister Efforts to preserve repair and reuse the remains waxed and waned for a century while historians wrote with regret about the abbey s demise In 1927 Kenneth Conant came from Harvard to excavate the site with American funding in order to prepare full scale reconstructive drawings of the abbey Conant s vision of medieval Cluny entered the art historical canon and placed Cluny at the center of debates about Romanesque architecture and sculptural decoration in Europe This study follows the discursive history of the site while investigating the role of memory in the construction of the past and the development of the conception of heritage and patrimony in France FOREWORD BY GILES CONSTABLE AND AVANT PROPOS D ERIC PALAZZO Marquardt s account of the modern resurrections of medieval Cluny is a riveting one her research urges a rethinking of the modern conceptual structures that guide our study and interpretation of medieval art and culture Marquardt meditates on the complex ideas histories events and touristic activities including the performance of pageants that contributed to the fashioning of Cluny as a memory site Kathryn L Brush University of Western Ontario Canada
