Mobilizing Capital Program Innovation :

Mobilizing Capital Peter Bearse,1982 Mobilizing Capital Peter Bearse,1982 Socioeconomic Impact Management John M Halstead,Robert A Chase,Steve H Murdock,F. Larry Leistritz,2019-07-11 The authors of this book present a comprehensive analysis of impact management for such large scale resource and industrial development projects as power plants mines and nuclear waste disposal facilities An overall framework for designing an impact management program is presented and specific recommendations for implementing management measures are provided This book is unique in that it provides a conceptual framework for choosing among alternative approaches in designing a management system as well as offering practical guidance for implementing such systems Housing and Planning References ,1983

The New Economic Role of American States R. Scott Fosler,1991-02-28 The growth of service and high tech industries in recent years has dramatically altered the geographical distribution of businesses throughout America Some states have had to attract new businesses to replace declining smokestack industries while others have experienced the trauma of rapid economic growth This collection of case studies of California Massachusetts Michigan Tennessee Arizona Minnesota and Indiana analyzes strategies and problems of economic evolution and the role of state institutions in the context of regional national and world economic change Debt Wish Alberta Sbragia,1996-05-15 Albert Sbragia considers American urban government as an investor whether for building infrastructure or supporting economic development Over time such investment has become disconnected from the normal political and administrative processes of local policymaking through the use of special public spending authorities like water and sewer commissions and port turnpike and public power authorities Sbragia explores how this entrepreneurial activity developed and how federal and state policies facilitated or limited it She also analyzes the implications of cities creating innovative special purpose quasi governments to circumvent and dilute state control over city finances diluting their own authority in the process Privatization Bibliography ,1989

Mobilising Capital for Emerging Markets Doris Köhn,2011-06-28 Is structured finance dead Many have asked this question after the financial crisis Or is structured finance evil and therefore should it be dead This book suggests neither nor Even if structured finance can be misused or applied under inappropriate conditions it can also be an effective tool for reaching development objectives The authors in this volume focus on the potential of structured finance in the aftermath of the financial crisis They explore the conditions under which structured finance is suitable for emerging markets highlighting both its benefits and risks The book combines professional and scientific perspectives and points towards various useful applications of structured finance in support of small and medium sized enterprises and microfinance This also includes activities as diverse as infrastructure development remittances rural livelihood and Shari ah compliant Islamic finance

Public Policy Across States and Communities Dennis R. Judd,1985 THE COLONY OF INNOVATIVE STARTUPS Bachir BRAHIM,2020-03-21 This book is the result of fifteen 15 years of learning research travel journey and successful case studies analysis about innovation and entrepreneurship in four continents A journey that reflects the pursuit of views beliefs and opinions around the degree of strength or weakness success or failure of different entrepreneurship initiatives worldwide Following their paths in the creation of a positive and suitable entrepreneurship environment for the development and growth of innovative startups The main purpose of this book is to provide policymakers corporate leaders young entrepreneurs and academic researchers with practical tools and guidance that may enlighten their visions A guide that will contribute positively to building a suitable environment for the development of entrepreneurship initiatives will able them to implement a sustainable strategy for cultivating and growing innovative startups The reader of this book may notice a slightly different approach used in describing the entrepreneurship and innovations ecosystems as the colony of innovative startups The main idea behind that is the awareness about the current situation of different business climates and the necessity for such a contribution to solving different problems that hindering the growth of innovative startups and the sustainability of different entrepreneurship initiatives worldwide I hope to achieve a maximum of success and growth that will have a positive impact on economic development

The Problem Entrepreneurship Initiatives Are Popping Up Dispersed and Disturbed There are thousands of entrepreneurship initiatives that pop up like mushrooms every day You can call them Excellent Polls Innovative Clusters Incubators Hubs Start up Labs Science Parks Tech parks etc Initiatives with the ultimate goal to create the Next X Silicon Valley An imitation effort to reproduce without a single understanding of the context the history the resources and the vision that led to the San Diego Silicon Valley home of multi billion tech giants Many concrete examples of these initiatives which are still subject to critiques and sometimes to controversy about their outcomes and real contributions to economic growth Cases from the Munich Smart City in Germany the Creative Cluster in Australia Kista and Ideon in Sweden Technology Triangle of Waterloo in Canada the Masdar of the UAE among many others All these initiatives have different structures and their ways of contributing to the country s GDP are also different However all of them have similar goals which is the creation of a successful business environment for startups An environment where several startups together with other stakeholders play a vital role in the development of their national economy Many of these initiatives are mainly consequences of the principle of Knowledge based economies Other are the results of a combination of interactions between different stakeholders inside the ecosystem following the Triple Helix Model Etzkowitz Leydesdorff 1995 Because they are geographically dispersed it is almost impossible to measure the value added by every initiative in a single country The focus is always on limited targets at a national level These initiatives are also characterized by limited resources and actors to cover large scale targets and have a significant contribution to the country s economic development

The Solution A colony That Consolidates and Reassembles Efforts This book is not introducing the secret formula to rebuild your own Silicon Valley It proposes a logical solution to enhance and build a suitable and positive climate for startups To consolidate multiple entrepreneurship initiatives in one project which will collect maximum resources and integrate a considerable number of players The mainstream inspiration of this book comes from the phenomenal of the self organized colony of ants such a biological ecosystem of social insects that run and sustain its growth perfectly A business model that inspires from the collective behavior of ants which generated the swarm intelligence A smart swarm reflected by tasks and labor organizations for every member within the colony This book will try to export the ants collective behavior Business Model into the world of entrepreneurship and innovation A model reflected by a new concept of building a positive environment for startups to grow and flourish which I call in this book A Colony of Innovative Startups It involves many stakeholders that interact together within a particular geographic space where they can cooperatively allocate considerable resources and contribute to achieving the colony objectives of growth and sustainability Innovation in Multilateralism Michael G.

Schechter,2016-07-27 The chapters in this volume identify and assess the political process and bases of support for multilateralism in terms of the shifting power relations in world politics institutional innovations in the United Nations and non UN multilateralisms They seek to answer the question What can and should be done to confront salient issues of the global problematic More specifically the essayists ask whether currently existing multilateral mechanisms are up to the challenge Energy Efficiency Ming Yang,Xin Yu,2015-02-21 This book discusses how energy efficiency benefits the global environment national energy security local pollution mitigation natural resource conservation and utility bill reduction In addition this book provides many hands on skills and knowledge to identify and develop energy efficiency projects The literature review shows that energy efficiency has become the first fuel in the world energy supply With empirical analyses this book indicates that without continued investment in energy efficiency neither China nor the U S could achieve their carbon emission reduction targets that were announced on November 13 2014 during the Beijing 2014 APEC meeting The authors argue that energy efficiency will become the first tool to mitigate climate change These include 1 identifying energy efficiency barriers 2 developing energy policies 3 investing in energy efficient technologies 4 undertaking project cost effectiveness analysis 5 de risking and financing energy efficiency projects 6 developing and managing energy service companies and 7 promoting urban transport efficiency Two case studies in energy efficiency improvement in electrical motors and industrial boilers are also presented This book is written for college and university students practitioners researchers consultants project developers and policy makers who want to dedicate their professional careers in global energy efficiency improvement climate change mitigation local clean air initiatives and energy bill reduction

Agri-Innovations and Development Challenges Vanessa Casadella,Dimitri Uzunidis,2023-08-31 Innovation is a major challenge for economic development and social progress Faced with the ecological and food problems that the world is currently experiencing the legitimacy of innovation takes on its full meaning particularly in developing countries As emphasized by international organizations UN FAO building skills and abilities in the agricultural and food sectors are necessary when launching innovation processes for the benefit of suffering populations This book deals with different experiences launched in many developing countries in these sectors and shows how local initiatives can provide answers to the pessimism of experts and the media Multidisciplinary analysis and practices explain how collective work creates value chains that can foster local and national economic development The authors revisit the innovation agri food models that contribute to economic development Agri Innovations and Development Challenges is composed of general presentations of innovations applied in developing countries as well as specific studies on the joint valorization of knowledge and experience in agri food engineering Proceedings of the IBA IEA Conference on Economics and Public Policy (Ecofluence 2024)

Prashant Kulkarni,Subhash Sharma,2025-07-25 This book is an open access This open access volume presents select proceedings of International Conference on Economics and Public Policy and National Economics Research Championship Ecofluence 2024 Innovative finance for sustainable landscapes Louman, B.,Meybeck, A.,Mulder, G.,Brady, M.,Fremy, L.,Savenije, H.,Gitz, V.,Trines, E.,2020-11-25 This publication explores some of the barriers that hinder external finance from making greater contributions to the sustainability of landscapes in the global south It provides insights into the potential of blended finance green bonds and crowdfunding structures to contribute to bridging that gap The document is meant for investors that are new to land based investments in the global south and are particularly interested in achieving social and environmental impacts It is also written for development organizations with little experience in leveraging private finance for local development and conservation and for future practitioners in this field The authors identified several gaps in knowledge and experiences and it is hoped that through this document the readers will be motivated to fill in those gaps in the near future contributing to scaling up finance for sustainable and inclusive landscapes Foreign Operations, Export
