Place Of Light Stories:

The Place of Story and the Story of Place Ernst M. Conradie, Willie James Jennings, 2025-02-06 This book is the third in a series titled An Earthed Faith Telling the Story Amid the Anthropocene. The series aims to offer collaborative constructive contributions to understanding the content and significance of the Christian faith from the perspective of Christian ecotheology given the challenges associated with the Anthropocene. The focus of this volume is on creation theology. The book addresses the following question: What difference does it make to the story of cosmic planetary human and cultural evolution to re-describe this as the creative work of God's love? Inversely, what difference does it make to the story of God's love to describe it in evolutionary terms? The ten contributors were selected in order to optimize a diversity of positions in terms of geographical context, confessional traditions and theological schools while also taking considerations of gender, race, age and language into account.

The Story of Light Hannah Spencer, 2014-04-25 A faint echo of the past, a memory crossing the mists of time, was Bridget's first clue of a life she once lived. The first step of the journey to understand the most pondered enigma of all time, life. Bridget's purpose is to find that spiritual talisman sought by people of all ages, the Philosopher's Stone or Holy Grail. Dependent on her success is her own salvation and that of the world. Using the accumulated wisdom of five millennia of human thought together with 21st century science, Bridget must learn the true nature of herself, life, and that vast being known by scientists as the Cosmos and the religious as deity, reconciling the fundamental paradoxes of life and death, good and evil, science and God. She undertook the quest before as an Iron Age priestess. Now history is repeating itself. The world again descends into chaos and Bridget must walk The Path once more.
