Regional Innovation Systems The Role Of Governances In A Globalized World:

Regional Innovation Systems Philip N. Cooke, Martin Heidenreich, Hans-Joachim Braczyk, 2004 Since the first edition was published in 1998 there has been a worldwide innovation led boom subsequent slump This new edition registers this change offers an interesting test of the robustness of the original arguments Regional Innovation Systems Hans-Joachim Braczyk, Philip Cooke, Martin Heidenreich, 2024-11-01 Since the first edition of this book in 1995 there has been a worldwide innovation led economic boom and a subsequent slump meaning enormous change has also occurred at the level of regional economies The new edition registers this change and provides an interesting test of the robustness of the original arguments in the book Not least more industrial policy making is influenced by the RIS analysis and many national and regional governments have adopted RIS approaches along with related instruments like promotion of industry clusters academic entrepreneurship regional venture capital and science led development strategies Regional Innovation Systems Hans-Joachim Braczyk, Philip N. Cooke, Martin Heidenreich, 1998 Globalizing Regional Development in East Asia Henry Wai-chung Yeung, 2013-09-13 Significant historical and geographical differences account for the many processes and trajectories of regional development in East Asia These historical and geographical specificities in East Asia have prompted serious re examination of existing theories in regional development and in particular the new regionalism approach associated with such ideas as the learning region institutional thickness relational assets and regional innovation system This book brings together a group of leading researchers specializing in local and regional development in East Asian economies Through in depth empirical studies of specific regions and localities these authors offer fresh and innovative perspectives on how regions evolve and develop over time in the world s most dynamic macro regional economy In particular their work points to the critical importance of local and trans local processes in shaping regional development trajectories The book is timely given that the debate on the nature and dynamics of regional development in both academic and policy circles has now moved on From the earlier focus on endogenous regional assets such as localized networks of association and trust scholars and policymakers are now analyzing the complex relationship between economic globalization and regional change This high calibre collection makes a significant contribution to the literature on local and regional development in Asia and provides an important resource for researchers students and policy makers interested in East Asia This book was published as a special issue of Regional Studies Innovation Governance in an Open Economy Annika Rickne, Staffan Laestadius, Henry Etzkowitz, 2012-05-04 In an increasingly globalised world paradoxically regional innovation clusters have moved to the forefront of attention as a strategy for economic and social development Transcending international success cases like Silicon Valley and Route 128 as sources of lessons successful high tech clusters in niche areas have had a significant impact on peripheral regions Are these successful innovation clusters born or made If they are subject to planning and direction what is the shape that it takes top down bottom up or lateral Linking Industries Across the World Eike

W. Schamp, 2019-06-04 Originally published in 2005 This book examines how regional industries use different networks on various geographical scales in order to withstand increasing competition in a globalising world It argues that new forms of global governance of networked industries are emerging in particular in those areas that have only recently been incorporated into the global economy such as Eastern Europe Asia and Southern Africa The book addresses a number of issues including the different forms of institutional arrangements that contribute to the formation of heterogeneous global industrial networks It also raises the issue of national institutions that still matter in network formation The focus of the book is on how to improve regional and sectoral competitiveness in a global context and it suggests this is best achieved by a close analysis of global linkages an evolutionary perspective on processes taking place and a more differentiated view on globalisation

Advanced Introduction to Regional Innovation Systems Bjørn T. Asheim, Arne Isaksen, Michaela Trippel, 2019 Over the past 25 years the regional innovation system RIS approach has become a powerful framework for explaining the uneven geographical distribution of innovation in space as well as for developing policies geared towards boosting the innovation capability of regional economies This Advanced Introduction provides a critical review and discussion of research on RIS to answer a set of core questions covering the origins of the concept and its theoretical underpinnings to the challenges for future scholarly work on RIS

New Avenues for Regional Innovation Systems - Theoretical Advances, Empirical Cases and Policy Lessons Arne Isaksen, Roman Martin, Michaela Trippel, 2018-03-01 This book discusses the latest theoretical advances in regional innovation research presents empirical cases involving the development of regional innovation systems RISs and explores regional innovation policy approaches Grounded in the extensive literature on RISs it addresses state of the art developments in light of recent theoretical advances in economic geography and related disciplines Written in honor of Bjørn Asheim's seventieth birthday the book includes novel and carefully selected chapters prepared by collaborators colleagues and former PhD students of one of the founding fathers of RIS research Further it makes a significant contribution to the academic debate on regional innovation and growth and offers valuable insights for scholars and policymakers alike

Asia's Innovation Systems in Transition Jan Vang, 2006-01-01 The success of Asian economies first Japan then Taiwan South Korea Singapore Hong Kong and more recently China and India has made it tempting to look for an Asian model of development However the strength of Asian development lies less in strategies that reproduce successful national systems of innovation and more in the capacity for institutional change to open up new development trajectories with greater emphasis on knowledge and learning The select group of contributors demonstrate that although there are important differences among Asian countries in terms of institutional set

Towards a Dynamic Regional Innovation System Wenying Fu, 2015-01-05 Embedding the theoretical discussion on the framework of evolutionary regional innovation systems RIS this book reveals the informal nature of the emerging RIS in China within which interactive learning is organized on the basis of social networks Furthermore in a comparative study in the Pearl River Delta China demonstrates that dirigiste governance in the initial industrialization phase leads to a more mature and developed RIS than does grassroots governance The theoretical developments and empirical investigation presented in this book will grant readers a deeper understanding of the specific features of RIS within the transitional context of emerging economies The Elgar Companion to Innovation and Knowledge Creation Harald Bathelt, Patrick Cohendet, Sebastian Henn, Laurent Simon, 2017-11-24 This unique Companion provides a comprehensive overview and critical evaluation of existing conceptualizations and new developments in innovation research It draws on multiple perspectives of innovation knowledge and creativity from economics geography history management political science and sociology The Companion brings together leading scholars to reflect upon innovation as a concept Part I innovation and institutions Part II innovation and creativity Part III innovation networking and communities Part IV innovation in permanent spatial settings Part V innovation in temporary virtual and open settings Part VI innovation entrepreneurship and market making Part VII and the governance and management of innovation Part VIII Handbook of Local and Regional Development Andy Pike, Andres Rodriguez-Pose, John Tomaney, 2010-11-17 The Handbook of Local and Regional Development provides a comprehensive statement and reference point for local and regional development The scope of this Handbook s coverage and contributions engages with and reflects upon the politics and policy of how we think about and practise local and regional development encouraging dialogue across the disciplinary barriers between notions of local and regional development in the Global North and development studies in the Global South This Handbook is organized into seven inter related sections with an introductory chapter setting out the rationale aims and structure of the Handbook Section one situates local and regional development in its global context Section two establishes the key issues in understanding the principles and values that help us define what is meant by local and regional development Section three critically reviews the current diversity and variety of conceptual and theoretical approaches to local and regional development Section four address questions of government and governance Section five connects critically with the array of contemporary approaches to local and regional development policy Section six is an explicitly global review of perspectives on local and regional development from Africa Asia Pacific Europe Latin America and North America Section seven provides reflection and discussion of the futures for local and regional development in an international and multidisciplinary context With over forty contributions from leading international scholars in the field this Handbook provides critical reviews and appraisals of current state of the art conceptual and theoretical approaches and future developments in local and regional development Metropolitan Innovation Systems Manfred M. Fischer, Javier Revilla Diez, Folke Snickars, 2013-03-09 This book presents the findings of a comparative study of three European metropolitan regions Vienna Barcelona and Stockholm The heart of the work consists of empirical studies carefully designed and developed in order to identify the main actors and mechanisms supporting technological innovation in each of the metropolitan regions The authors have also highlighted the similarities and differences across regions and countries investigating how these came to be and discussing the possible implications The introductory as well as the concluding Chapter was written by Manfred M Fischer who assisted by Attila Varga was also responsible for Chapter 2 on the Metropolitan Region of Vienna Javier Revilla Diez contributed Chapter 3 on the Barcelona Metropolitan Region Folke Snickars has provided Chapter 4 which examines the Metropolitan Region of Stockholm and All authors have reviewed and commented on the whole contents so that the volume represents a collective endeavour which has been rendered as homogeneous as possible A particular effort has been made to ensure that the study is based on a common conceptual framework

Smart Specialization Strategies and the Role of Entrepreneurial Universities Caseiro, Nuno, Santos, Domingos, 2018-11-02 One of the most pivotal tasks of a regional government is to find different and innovative ways to develop their economies Formulating universities in that respect potentially holds the key to competitive global economic success Smart Specialization Strategies and the Role of Entrepreneurial Universities is a crucial reference source that examines a new competitive paradigm where universities can act as a partner institution policy actor and producer of knowledge that can affect the potential for economic growth and development of regions While highlighting topics such as economic development entrepreneurship ecosystem evolution and regional competitiveness this publication explores the varying dynamics that are evolving toward the successful mobilization of university resources on regional economies This book is ideally designed for policymakers administrators researchers developers academicians marketers and business professionals

Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change: Path Dependency or Regional Breakthrough Gerhard Fuchs, Philip Shapira, 2006-02-17 Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change brings together papers from leading international scholars in the field of regional development and policy The contributors examine the interactions between path dependent developments institutions and governance structures that influence regional innovation capacity Up to date case studies present diverse theoretical perspectives from economics political science geography planning and public policy Taken as a whole the volume offers a broad and up to date perspective on the inheritance aspect of an area's future Without exception the chapters are insightful interesting and a pleasure to read Let us hope that this excellent work will find its way to the desks of authorities in charge for regional policy If anything the book still urges policy makers to start from the simple piece of wisdom that regions tend to go from where they are coming Paradoxically it is from this very notion of path dependency that most regional breakthroughs can be expected Gert Jan Hospers Regions Volume 256 April 2005

Innovation In Forestry Gerhard Weiss, 2011 Innovation is increasingly recognized as a key factor in environmental protection and balanced sustainable development within the forestry sector This volume provides a comprehensive theoretical foundation for the analysis of innovation processes and policies in a traditional rural sector as well as presenting empirical analyses of innovation processes from major innovation areas Territorial services of the forest sector are examined including various types of forest ecosystem services such as carbon sequestration or recreation and wood value chains including timber frame construction and High-technology Clusters, Networking and Collective Learning in Europe David Keeble, Frank Wilkinson, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This text presents a study of collective learning networking and high technology regions in Europe It first provides an overview of the subject area then goes on to discuss topics such as the role of inter SME networking and collective learning processes in European high technology milieux

Bargaining with Multinationals H. Loewendahl, 2001-07-19 In Bargaining with Multinationals Loewendahl scrutinises the relationship between multinational companies regional development and governments using an international political economy framework of bargaining between government and multinationals He critically analyses the role of foreign investment in economic development and examines how governments can link inward investment to regional economic development Based on extensive use of data interviews and case studies of Siemens and Nissan s UK investment the book shows why MNCs have invested in the UK in the past how they bargained with the government and what the impact was on the national and regional economies In particular through linking the strategy of multinationals to the location advantages of the UK it is argued that labour flexibility and incentives were crucial to investment decisions Loewendahl recommends a framework to integrate endogenous and exogenous approaches to developments and proposes a greater role for the region and the EU to control incentives and monitor multinationals The Routledge Handbook of Digital Sport Management
