Jackson,Paul T. Thacker,1997 Contains 12 articles which provide a variety of perspectives on Rangifer caribou reindeer and its use by prehistoric peoples in the northern latitudes of both the Old and New Worlds Papers cover such topics as the inherent biases in the man the hunter woman the collector view of Upper Paleolithic and Paleo Indian cultures the behavior patterns of and humans in the New World the Paleo Indian record of the earliest Gainey phase in Ontario and Michigan and a variety of Upper Paleolithic situations in Europe Lacks an index Thoughtful Foragers Steven J. Mithen,1990-06-29 Thoughtful Foragers is about hunter gatherer decision making The author explores the implications of the human mind as a product of biological evolution for the way in which humans solve foraging problems He draws on studies from ethology psychology and ethnography prior to turning his attention to prehistoric hunter gatherers He attempts to construct explanations for patterns in the archaeological record by an explicit focus on decision making by individuals Thoughtful Foragers will appeal to specialists in European prehistory as well as to those interested in archaeological theory and method It makes some very significant advances which will be of real importance for the field of evolutionary theory in relation to human evolution and the evaluation of human social systems The Benefits of the Cold and Domestication Florian Stammler,Hiroki Takakura,2025-04-28 This book explores cooperation between humans and animals in extreme environments and contends that understanding domestication is crucial to explaining how life is possible in such conditions The chapters draw on work from anthropology genetics law and geography with a range of ethnographic case studies from cold environments The contributors offer new evidence for rethinking the dichotomy of trust vs domination previously used to characterize human animal relations They show how humans and animals partner for survival and how a cold environment does not merely threaten existence but rather creates opportunities Domestication is presented as a continuous mutually beneficial human animal relationship of becoming familiar with each other and the surrounding environment which can lead to a symbiotic partnership of multiple agents for adapting to changes including a warming climate This volume will be relevant to scholars from anthropology geography and related disciplines interested in human animal relations ecology and the environment particularly in the North The Good, the Bad, and the Just Riël Vermunt, 2016-03-16 Drawing on multidisciplinary findings and ideas this book discusses fair allocation of social resources such as goods services and information in a novel and integrated way The role of the essential features of allocation behavior motivation cognition and emotion as well as morality and reactions to perceived unfairness are examined in the newly developed Justice Model The author offers explanations as to why how and to what extent people in an effort to attain justice allocate social resources between self and others and among others It is held that the allocation event featuring actor recipient and observer as well as the resources to be allocated by an actor can function as a guideline for the essentials of fair behavior The work explores the conditions under which an actor may deviate from a just division of social resources thus instigating a reaction from recipients and observers The study covers various levels of analysis ranging from the intra personal to the societal The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of crime law justice public policy and governance Europe before Rome T. Douglas Price, 2013-01-09 Werner Herzog's 2011 film Cave of Forgotten Dreams about the painted caves at Chauvet France brought a glimpse of Europe's extraordinary prehistory to a popular audience But paleolithic cave paintings stunning as they are form just a part of a story that begins with the arrival of the first humans to Europe 1.3 million years ago and culminates in the achievements of Greece and Rome In Europe before Rome T Douglas Price takes readers on a guided tour through dozens of the most important prehistoric sites on the continent from very recent discoveries to some of the most famous and puzzling places in the world like Chauvet Stonehenge and Knossos This volume focuses on more than 60 sites organized chronologically according to their archaeological time period and accompanied by 200 illustrations including numerous color photographs maps and drawings Our understanding of prehistoric European archaeology has been almost completely rewritten in the last 25 years with a series of major findings from virtually every time period such as tzi the Iceman the discoveries at Atapuerca and evidence of a much earlier eruption at Mt Vesuvius Many of the sites explored in the book offer the earliest European evidence we have of the typical features of human society tool making hunting cooking burial practices agriculture and warfare Introductory prologues to each chapter provide context for the wider changes in human behavior and society in the time period while the author's concluding remarks offer expert reflections on the enduring significance of these places Tracing the evolution of human society in Europe across more than a million years Europe before Rome gives readers a vivid portrait of life for prehistoric man and woman Arctic Archaeology Peter Rowley-Conwy, 2012-11-12 Examining human occupation of the arctic and subarctic zones irrespective of place and time this book explores a wide variety of fascinating areas and inhabitants along several points in history Beautifully illustrated Arctic Archaeology is essential reading for all those curious about how organisms survived in this life threatening environment

Actas del XXXIII Congreso Internacional de Americanistas ,1959 Life Strategies, Human Evolution, Environmental Design V. Geist,2013-11-11 Consider that you were asked how to ensure human survival Where would you begin Conservation of resources jumps to mind We need to conserve resources in order that economic activities may continue Alas this is a false start Resources are always defined by a given economic system and only it determines what is and what is not a resource Therefore conserving resources implies only the perpetuation of the appropriate economic system Conservation of resources as we know them has nothing to do with the survival of mankind but it has very much to do with the survival of the industrial system and society we live in today We have to start therefore at a more basic level This level some may argue is addressed by ensuring for human beings clean genes Again this is a mistaken beginning It is thoroughly mistaken for reasons of science It is a false start because malfunctioning organs and morphological structures are not only due to deleterious hereditary factors but particularly due to unfavorable environments during early growth and development Moreover eugenics is not acceptable to any but a small fraction of society Eugenics may not be irrelevant to our future but is premature and should be of little concern until we understand how human genes and environment interact Reading the Landscape of Europe May Theilgaard Watts,2009 Come along on a field trip with the esteemed American naturalist May Theilgaard Watts to see how nature history and culture have written their stories on the landscapes of Italy France Switzerland Germany Denmark Norway and Britain She makes a lively guide knowledgeable literary witty and opinionated drawing on botany ecology and geography as well as literature and folklore to explain how a place came to look and feel the way it does In this sequel to her popular book Reading the Landscape of America Watts explored the hills of Italy the grouse heath of Britain the Black Forest of Germany the limestone plateaus of France and much more explaining the forces that shaped these landscapes and continue to change them Illustrated with dozens of pen and ink by the author Includes a key to identifying the trees of Europe
