Population Diversity and the U.S. Army, U.S. Army Historical Directory Center of Military History, Military Review, 2017 The Army Modernization Imperative Andrew Hunter, Rhys McCormick, 2017-06-16 The U S Army currently faces a difficult truth without changes to its modernization strategy the Army risks losing qualitative tactical overmatch A lost procurement decade and recent significant modernization funding declines have resulted in an Army inventory that remains heavily leveraged on the Big Five programs originally procured in the 1970s and 1980s Meanwhile technology proliferation has made potential state and nonstate adversaries increasingly capable shrinking the U S overmatch advantage and in some cases surpassing it While current and projected future Army modernization funding is below historical averages necessitating increased modernization funding to ensure continued U S qualitative tactical overmatch the Army s modernization problem cannot be fixed only by increasing modernization funding Additional funds also need to be accompanied by an updated Army modernization strategy that presents a compelling case for modernization funding and sets clear priorities for fulfilling future operational requirements Military Intelligence Professional Bulletin, 2002

examines how civil military relations have been transformed in Russia Poland Hungary and Ukraine since the collapse of the Soviet Union and the Warsaw Pact in 1991 It shows how these countries have worked to reform their obsolete armed forces and bring them into line with the new economic and strategic realities of the post Cold War world with new bureaucratic structures in which civilians play the key policy making roles and with strengthened democratic political institutions which have the right to oversee the armed forces
