The Political Economy of Southeast Asia Toby Carroll,Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones,2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations institutions and time periods thereby continually enriching itself No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text Professor Amitav Acharya American University USA This book the fourth in a path breaking series demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia s transformation Across a wide range of topics the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies economies and politics of a diverse group of countries casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read Professor Edward Aspinall Australian National University Australia This book does what a work on political economy should do challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation This volume is distinctive in three ways First it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national regional and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance mass politics economies labor capital relations migration and gender relations across the region Second it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia's political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China's pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia Professor Adam David Morton University of Sydney Australia A vital book for all scholars students and practitioners concerned with political economy and development this volume combines cutting edge theory with rich and wide ranging empirical analysis It is terrific to see the continued success of this book with this fully revised fourth edition Professor Nicola Philips Kings College London UK The Political Economy of Southeast Asia has become a leading reference for students of the region With its breadth of geographic scope timely themes clarity of prose and rigour of analysis Carroll Hameiri and Jones have ensured that with this fourth edition the volume will continue its landmark status The book which brings together prominent experts in the field will not only be of immense interest to scholars studying Southeast Asia but also those seeking to understand the multifaceted nature of the political economy of uneven development in contemporary capitalism Professor Susanne Soederberg Queen's University Canada The Asia Research Centre at Murdoch University has long produced leading analyses of the social economic and political developments in Southeast Asia This volume carries on that wonderful tradition It brings together top class scholars to challenge our assumptions about one of the most dynamic parts of the world This collection is a crucial read for anyone interested in understanding trends in Southeast Asia's development today and into the future Professor Richard Stubbs McMaster University Canada This fourth volume in a distinguished series provides a welcome and timely update of the Murdoch School's distinctive approach to understanding the evolving political economy of Southeast Asia. Its theoretical depth and wide empirical scope will be of great value to scholars, students and practitioners seeking a systematic understanding of the political economy dynamics in the Asian region and more broadly of states and regions embedded in a complex, unstable global political economy. Professor Andrew Walter, University of Melbourne. This all new fourth edition of The Political Economy of Southeast Asia constitutes a state-of-the-art comprehensive analysis of the political, economic, social and ecological development of one of the world's most dynamic regions. With contributions from world leading experts, the volume is unified by a single theoretical approach, the Murdoch School of political economy, which foregrounds struggles over power and resources and the evolving global context of hyperglobalisation. Themes considered include gender, populism, the transformation of the state, regional governance, aid and the environment. The volume will be of interest to scholars and students across multiple disciplines including political economy, development studies, international relations and area studies. The findings of contributors will also be of value to civil society, policymakers and anyone interested in Southeast Asia and its development.

Singapore Studies Beng Huat Chua, Basant Kapur, 1986. This edition brings up to date a decade of research work, developments of the Faculty of Arts and Social Science, National University of Singapore, since the first volume was published in 1985. The state of the respective disciplines covered are reviewed in terms of notable theoretical and conceptual developments, major benchmarks during the past decade and research lacunae that need to be addressed as well as their substantive developments and contributions in the Singapore context and possible future directions, resulting in a collection of essays that places the Faculty's studies in an international comparative framework.

Data Governance and the Digital Economy in Asia Paul CHEUNG, LIU Jingting, Ulrike SENGSTSCHMID, 2024-12-31. Data governance is the cornerstone of digital economy growth, particularly in Asia, where both the digital economy and the policy space are fast expanding. The chapters collected in this volume delve into how diverse and rapidly evolving data governance models of ASEAN countries and their Asian partners are shaping the regional digital economy integration, particularly through cross-border data flows. The book begins with an examination of the diffusion of data governance rules globally and their economic impacts on a macro level. It then delves into a regional analysis, emphasising the interplay between data governance and economic development. Key discussions include data policies in India, China, South Korea and ASEAN countries, enriched with insights from industry leaders. The book evaluates the role of regional and international trade agreements in facilitating digital trade and explores the consequences of widely differing data governance models for the ASEAN regional economy with a special focus on implications for ASEAN's Digital Economy Framework Agreement Written for scholars of digital economy data governance and digital trade this book provides a thorough understanding of Asia's data regulatory environment Policymakers and industry professionals will also find the book's insights into the intricacies of digital economy policies and their implications useful in navigating the future of digital economic integration and growth in the ASEAN region International Real Estate David Kim Hin Ho, 2007

Solid waste management issues technologies and challenges are dynamic More so in developing and transitory nations in Asia This book written by Asian experts in solid waste management explores the current situation in Asian countries including Pacific Islands There are not many technical books of this kind especially dedicated to this region of the world The chapters form a comprehensive coherent investigation in municipal solid waste MSW management including definitions used generation sustainable waste management system legal framework and impacts on global warming Several case studies from Asian nations are included to exemplify the real situation experienced Discussions on MSW policy in these countries and their impacts on waste management and minimization if any are indeed an eye opener Undoubtedly this book would be a pioneer in revealing the latest situation in the Asian region which includes two of the world's most dynamic nations in the economic growth It is greatly envisaged to form an excellent source of reference in MSW management in Asia and Pacific Islands This book will bridge the wide gap in available information between the developed and transitory developing nations Planning Singapore Stephen Hamnett, Belinda Yuen, 2019-05-08

Two hundred years ago Sir Stamford Raffles established the modern settlement of Singapore with the intent of seeing it become a great commercial emporium and fulcrum But by the time independence was achieved in 1965 the city faced daunting problems of housing shortage slums and high unemployment Since then Singapore has become one of the richest countries on earth providing in Sir Peter Hall's words perhaps the most extraordinary case of economic development in the history of the world The story of Singapore's remarkable achievements in the first half century after its independence is now widely known In Planning Singapore The Experimental City Stephen Hamnett and Belinda Yuen have brought together a set of chapters on Singapore's planning achievements aspirations and challenges which are united in their focus on what might happen next in the planning of the island state Chapters range over Singapore's planning system innovation and future economy housing biodiversity water and waste climate change transport and the potential transferability of Singapore's planning knowledge A key question is whether the planning approaches which have served Singapore so well until now will suffice to meet the emerging challenges of a changing global economy demographic shifts new technologies and the existential threat of climate change Singapore as a global city is becoming more unequal and more diverse This has the potential to weaken the social compact which has largely existed since independence and to undermine the social resilience undoubtedly needed to cope with the shocks and disruptions of the twenty first century The book concludes however that Singapore is better placed than most to respond to the challenges which it will certainly face thanks to its outstanding systems of planning and implementation a proven capacity to experiment and a highly developed ability to adapt quickly purposefully and pragmatically to changing circumstances

Toward a Better Future Fredriksen Birger, Sing Kong Lee, Chor Boon Goh, 2008-04-18 Toward a Better Future provides a comprehensive analysis of education development in Singapore since 1965 giving particular attention to the strategic management that has enabled Singapore to transform its education and training system from one similar to that of many Sub Saharan African countries four decades ago into one of the world's best performing systems It is one of a pair of concurrently published books presenting materials originally developed for a 2006 study tour to Singapore and Vietnam for senior education officials from Cameroon Ethiopia Ghana Lesotho Madagascar and Mozambique The second book An African Exploration of the East Asian Education Experience presents five country studies as well as regional comparative analyses highlighting insights gained during the study tour and putting them in the context of Sub Saharan Africa Together the two books aim to foster knowledge exchange between Sub Saharan African and East Asian countries on good practices in the design and implementation of education policies and programs By facilitating the cross country fertilization of ideas between two regions with relatively limited contact in the past these books fill a clear gap in the current literature on development practice in education

Managing Global Risks in the Urban Age Yee-Kuang Heng, 2016-03-03 The first full length exposition of what it terms a global city global risks nexus this volume crosses disciplinary boundaries to draw upon research from Security Studies Geography Sociology and Urban Studies Innovative in its approach integrating theories about Global Cities with those positing a Global Risk Society Yee Kuang Heng positions this research in the midst of two concurrent global trends that will gain more significance in coming years The world is experiencing the consequences of not only rapid globalisation but also urbanization In 2008 the UN declared that more than half the world's population was now urban At the same time highly connected global cities like New York London Tokyo and Singapore also face rapidly spreading global risks such as pandemics and financial crises Unique in developing a typology of global risks that threaten a global city like Singapore beyond its Asian focus the book also draws out thematic and policy lessons pertinent to other global cities Global cities do not simply materialize They are dependent on a range of stakeholders at various levels that produce and re produce its command and control capabilities in the face of global risks Singapore's experiences managing global risks in the financial aviation and maritime domains are common concerns shared by many countries and cities that have or aspire to develop similar critical infrastructure

Deeper coverage of the strategies that need to be considered in respect of contract selection. Improved discussion of sustainability and the increasing importance of resilience in the built environment. Concise descriptions of some of the more important construction case laws. New Horizons for a Data-Driven Economy José María Cavanillas, Edward Curry, Wolfgang Wahlster, 2016-04-04 In this book readers will find technological discussions on the existing and emerging technologies across the different stages of the big data value chain. They will learn about legal aspects of big data, the social impact and about education needs and requirements. And they will discover the business perspective and how big data technology can be exploited to deliver value within different sectors of the economy. The book is structured in four parts: Part I The Big Data Opportunity explores the value potential of big data with a particular focus on the European context. It also describes the legal, business and social dimensions that need to be addressed and briefly introduces the European Commission's BIG project. Part II The Big Data Value Chain details the complete big data lifecycle from a technical point of view, ranging from data acquisition, analysis, curation and storage to data usage and exploitation. Next, Part III Usage and Exploitation of Big Data illustrates the value creation possibilities of big data applications in various sectors, including industry, healthcare, finance, energy, media and public services. Finally, Part IV A Roadmap for Big Data Research identifies and prioritizes the cross-sectorial requirements for big data research and outlines the most urgent and challenging technological, economic, political and societal issues for big data in Europe. This compendium summarizes more than two years of work performed by a leading group of major European research centers and industries in the context of the BIG project. It brings together research findings, forecasts and estimates related to this challenging technological context that is becoming the major axis of the new digitally transformed business environment.
