Florence 98, Destruction and Creation Personal and Cultural Transformation Mary Ann Mattoon,1999 The Fourteenth Congress for Analytical Psychology was held August 23 28 1998 in the ancient city of Florence Italy The theme Destruction and Creation Personal and Cultural Transformations is especially appropriate to the Italian setting with that nation's history of destruction both from nature and from human activity and its tradition especially in Florence of creative individuals and institutions. The theme is fitting also to the context of Jungian psychology with its emphasis on these and other pairs of opposites with their integral role in psychic wholeness. Acknowledging also that destruction is indispensable to creation, some Jungians prefer the term creative unconscious to the traditional collective unconscious. Genes on the Couch Paul Gilbert, Kent G.

Bailey, 2014-07-10 Philosophers and therapists have long theorised about how psychological mechanisms for love, jealousy, anxiety, depression and many other human characteristics may have evolved over millions of years. In the dawn of the new insights on evolution provided by Darwin's theories of natural selection, Freud, Jung and Klein sought to identify and understand human motives, emotions and information processing as functions deeply rooted in our evolved history. Despite this promising start and major developments in modern evolutionary psychology, anthropology and sociobiology, the last fifty years has seen little in the way of therapies derived from an evolutionary understanding of human psychology. The contributors to this timely book illuminate how an evolution-focused approach to psychopathology can offer new insights for different schools of therapy and provide a rationale for therapeutic integration. Genes on the Couch brings together respected clinicians who have integrated evolutionary insights into their case conceptualisations and therapeutic interventions. Various psychotherapy schools are represented and each author provides illustrative examples of the interventions used. Specific topics addressed include the nature of evolved mental mechanisms, regulation/dysregulation of internal processes, attachment and kinship in therapy, the importance of internalising warmth as a therapeutic goal, kin selection and incest avoidance, cooperation and deception in social relations, difficulties in working with certain male clients, gender differences in therapy and the roles of shame and guilt in treatment. Providing up-to-date summaries of recent thinking in this increasingly important but diverse area, Genes on the Couch will be of interest to psychotherapists, psychiatrists and a wide range of mental health professionals.

Many Voices Pamela Cooper-White, 2007 This book is a full-scale disciplinary framework for pastoral psychotherapists, pastoral counselors at intermediate and advanced levels of clinical training and also for experienced pastoral counselors and psychotherapists in professional practice. It harvests the great potential of postmodern sensibilities to help accompany and support individuals, couples and families in recognizing and healing especially painful psychic wounds and/or longstanding patterns of self-defeating relationships to self and others. Pamela Cooper-White's widely praised work which has always integrated cutting-edge notions from the social sciences into pastoral therapy here takes a distinctive and promising turn toward the relational and the theological. Pastoral psychotherapy she argues needs to find its framework in a strongly relational idea of the person, God and health. Illustrated throughout by four key case studies, Cooper-White shows in Part 1 how multiplicity and relationality provide a dynamic and exciting way of viewing human potential and pain. In Part 2 she unfolds the practical applications of this paradigm for a strongly empathic therapeutic relationship and process.
