Shared Houses Shared Lives The New Extended Families And How They Work:

Shared Houses, Shared Lives Eric Raimy, 1979 This book describes the origins of the communal household explores the significance of this growing phenomenon and offers the reader a comprehensive guide to joining or setting up a shared household Housing and Planning References, 1980 HUD Challenge, 1980 Shared Housing, Shared Lives Sue Heath, Katherine Davies, Gemma Edwards, Rachael Scicluna, 2017-10-25 With a growing population rising housing costs and housing providers struggling to meet demand for affordable accommodation more and more people in the UK find themselves sharing their living spaces with people from outside of their families at some point in their lives Focusing on sharers in a wide variety of contexts and at all stages of the life course Shared Housing Shared Lives demonstrates how personal relationships are the key to whether shared living arrangements falter or flourish Indeed this book demonstrates how issues such as finances domestic space and daily routines are all factors which can impact upon personal relationships and wider understandings of the home and privacy By directing attention towards people and relationships rather than bricks and mortar Shared Housing Shared Lives is essential reading for students and researchers in fields such as sociology housing studies social policy cultural anthropology and demography as well as for researchers and practitioners working in these areas Challenge!, 1980 Shared Housing United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Aging. Subcommittee on Housing and Consumer Interests, 1982 The 60s Communes Timothy Miller, 2015-02-01 The greatest wave of communal living in American history crested in the tumultuous 1960s era including the early 1970s To the fascination and amusement of more decorous citizens hundreds of thousands of mostly young dreamers set out to build a new culture apart from the established society Widely believed by the larger public to be sinks of drug ridden sexual immorality the communes both intrigued and repelled the American people The intentional communities of the 1960s era were far more diverse than the stereotype of the hippie commune would suggest A great many of them were religious in basis stressing spiritual seeking and disciplined lifestyles Others were founded on secular visions of a better society Hundreds of them became so stable that they survive today This book surveys the broad sweep of this great social yearning from the first portents of a new type of communitarianism in the early 1960s through the waning of the movement in the mid 1970s Based on more than five hundred interviews conducted for the 60s Communes Project among other sources it preserves a colorful and vigorous episode in American history The book includes an extensive directory of active and non active communes complete with dates of origin and dissolution The Business of Marketing, Entrepreneurship, and Architecture of Communal Societies in the 1960s and 1970s Rahima Schwenkbeck, 2021-11-13 This book provides an in depth history of three US based communal societies that operated in the late 1960s and 1970s Soul City Stelle and Twin Oaks with an emphasis on their financing marketing and entrepreneurship processes These communities reflect the diversity of people who were dissatisfied with the direction in which American society was heading often underpinned by concerns over racism sexism the environment and capitalism and decided to take the radical step of joining a communal society A moral economy approach offers a lens on how these communities were prevented from fully realizing their visions due to the confines of capitalism as embedded in banking practices zoning laws and systemic racism

Religious Vitality in Christian Intentional Communities Mark Killian, 2017-09-25 Through ethnographic research Killian examines vitality in Philadelphia and Berea two Christian Intentional Communities whose participants live in close proximity with one another to achieve religious values Pulling from Anthony Giddens theory of structuration Killian argues that the vitality of both communities cannot be reduced to deterministic structural individual or organizational causes Rather vitality in these communities is affected by all of these causes in relationship to one another In other words it s not that each explanation matters e g social structures matter organizational behaviors matter individual religious choices matter but that these explanations matter to each other e g social structures matter to individual choices individual choices matter to organizational behaviors and social structures matter to organizational choices etc To make this argument Killian develops the idea of the vitality nexus the interconnected relationship between the various explanations of religious vitality

West End Boys West End Girls Peter T. Stone, 2012-03 A French musical opens in London s West End While audiences see the final polished production the inner mechanics of the show are revealed as a turbulent mix of personalities and ambitions Through the individual voices and stories of the French and UK producers and performers we glimpse the torrid and fascinating world of theatrical misbehaviour the end of which is a performance If you have ever wanted to be part of a West End production without having to attend the audition this book will give you that experience I have always been told never disregard the little person for they may be the recorder of one s history This is that record

The Chinese Family Today Anqi XU, John DeFrain, Wenrong LIU, 2016-11-10 The Chinese economy is undergoing dramatic changes and the world is watching and changing along with it The Chinese family is also changing in many ways in response to the economic transformation that is moving the world's most populous nation from an agrarian economy to a global superpower This is the first book in English to describe and explain the social transformation of the Chinese family from the perspective of Chinese researchers Presenting a comprehensive view of the Chinese family today and how it has adapted during the process of modernization it provides description and analysis of the trajectory of changes in family structures functions and relationships It tracks how Chinese marriages and families are becoming more diverse and face a great deal of uncertainty as they evolve in different ways from Western marriages and families The book is also unique in its use of national statistics and data from large scale surveys to systematically illustrate these radical and extraordinary changes in family structure and dynamics over the past 30 years Demonstrating that the de institutionalization of family values is a slow process in the Chinese context this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese Studies Sociology Social Policy and Family Policy

A New Health and Care System Alex Fox, 2018-02-28 This book asks one of the key questions for future UK society how do we make our health care and public services more successful and sustainable In Escaping the Invisible Asylum Alex Fox outlines a new model for public services that offer long term support to adults based on the overarching goal of achieving and maintaining wellbeing rather than only reacting to crises or attempting to fix people The author draws on the experience and unique perspective gained through his leadership of the Shared Lives movement

RETHINK Design Guide Nicola Gillen, Pippa Nissen, Julia Park, Adam Scott, Sumita Singha, Helen Taylor, Ian Taylor, Sarah Featherstone, 2021-02-18 The world has changed How will society emerge post pandemic Will we take the opportunity to reset the status quo And if so what possibilities are there for architects to take the initiative in designing this new world This innovative design guide draws together expert guidance on designing in the immediate aftermath of the pandemic for key architectural sectors housing workplace civic and cultural hospitality education infrastructure and civic placemaking It provides design inspiration to architects on how they can respond to the challenges and opportunities of a post pandemic environment and how architects ensure they are at the forefront of the best design in this new world Looking at each sector in turn it covers the challenges specific to each and how delivering these designs might differ from the pre pandemic world As well as post pandemic design the vital issue of climate change will be threaded through each sector with many cross overs between designing for the climate emergency and designing for a world after a pandemic Both seek to make the world a safer happier and more resilient place Written by set of contributing design experts this book is for all architects whether sole practitioners or working in a larger practice As well as inspirational design guidance it also provides client perspectives crucial for understanding how clients are planning for the future too The Family in America Joseph M. Hawes, Elizabeth F. Shores, 2002-05-22 An incisive multidisciplinary look at the American family over the past 200 years written by respected scholars and researchers Family in America offers two powerful antidotes to popular misconceptions about American family life historical perspective and scientific objectivity When we look back at our early history we discover that the idealized 1950s family characterized by a rising birthrate a stable divorce rate and a declining age of marriage was a historical aberration out of line with long term historical trends Working mothers we learn are not a 20th century invention most families throughout American history have needed more than one breadwinner In the exciting new scholarship described here readers will learn precisely what is new in American family life and what is not and acquire the perspective they need to appreciate both the genuine improvements and the losses that come with change

Female Voices from an Ewe Dance-drumming Community in Ghana James Burns, 2017-07-05 Ewe dance drumming has been extensively studied throughout the history of ethnomusicology but up to now there has not been a single study that addresses Ewe female musicians James Burns redresses this deficiency through a detailed ethnography of a group of female musicians from the Dzigbordi community dance drumming club from the rural town of Dzodze located in South Eastern Ghana Dzigbordi was specifically chosen because of the author's long association with the group members and because it is part of a genre known as adekede or female songs of redress where women musicians critique gender relations in society Burns uses audio and video interviews recordings of rehearsals and performances and detailed collaborative analyses of song texts dance routines and performance practice to address important methodological shifts in ethnomusicology that outline a more humanistic perspective of music cultures This perspective encompasses the inter linkages between history social processes and individual creative artists The voices of Dzigbordi women provide us not only with a more complete picture of Ewe music making they further allow us to better understand the relationship between culture social life and individual creativity The book will therefore appeal to those interested in African Studies Gender Studies and Oral Literature as well as ethnomusicology Includes documentary on the downloadable resources

The New Conspirators Tom Sine, 2009-10-25 If you have faith as small as a mustard seed Jesus says in the Gospel of Matthew nothing will be impossible for you That sounds good but does it work in a world where seeds are genetically altered by an impatient few and hard to come by for countless others In a world where the gulf between the very rich and the profoundly poor is constantly growing can a mustard seed faith make any difference And can such a little bit of faith be sustained in a world whose future is so uncertain on so many fronts Tom Sine says yes and he has the audacity to try to prove it in his latest book In The New Conspirators Tom surveys the landscape of creative Christianity where streams of renewal are flowing freely from diverse sources The emerging church Contemporary monastic movements The missional church The mosaic movement Individuals and communities of faith are coalescing in and drawing energy from these four streams to retrofit the church as it leads serves and gives witness to the kingdom of God in the turbulent times facing us Read the book and you'll want to and be prepared to join God's conspiracy to create a better future

Sharing Lives, Dividing Assets Joanna Miles, Rebecca Probert, 2009-08-18 With many couples separating each year the question of how to determine the financial and property consequences of such separation has always been a problem area within family law Should the principles be the same for married and cohabiting couples Should the division of assets reflect the parties own expectations or norms imposed by society These are just two of the questions which the essays in this collection seek to explore Recent cases in the House of Lords have seen willingness on the part of the judges to seek out empirical studies to inform their deliberations but if the law is to engage with empirical data then much more information is needed both about the arrangements people make during their relationships and about the impact of the law when a relationship breaks down This inter disciplinary work brings together leading academics in the fields of law economics sociology and psychology in an attempt to provide some of the missing empirical information Part I sets out the legal framework and identifies the importance of empirical studies for this area Part II examines how couples whether cohabitants or spouses manage their money during their relationships Part III then considers the impact that the law currently has on separating couples examining how legal principles translate into reality and what their consequences are for the parties Finally Part IV considers the issue of legal rationality it may be rational for the law to be shaped by patterns of behaviour but how far will individual couples allow their behaviour to be shaped by the law
