

Modern Poems about Identity

By Maya Anthony

Pixels and Self

In a world of pixels, where do I stand?
Crafting profiles, with a careful hand.
Yet behind the screens, filters, and glow,
Is there more to identity, waiting to show?

Avatars dance, statuses change,
Yet the heart's yearnings, remain the same.
Seeking connection, in a digital tide,
Where do reality and virtual collide?

In the vast web, where lines blur,
Find the essence, pure and sure.
Beyond the pixels, the true self does reside,
In both digital and real, side by side.

Sharing The Same Identity Poems:

Lyric Poetry and Social Identity in Archaic Greece Jessica Romney, 2020-04-22 Lyric Poetry and Social Identity in Archaic Greece examines how Greek men presented themselves and their social groups to one another. The author examines identity rhetoric in sympotic lyric, how Greek poets constructed images of self for their groups focusing in turn on the construction of identity in martial-themed poetry, the protection of group identities in the face of political exile, and the negotiation between individual and group as seen in political lyric. By conducting a close reading of six poems and then a broad survey of martial lyric, exile poetry, political lyric, and sympotic lyric as a whole, Jessica Romney demonstrates that sympotic lyric focuses on the same basic behaviors and values to construct social identities regardless of the content or subgenre of the poems in question. The volume also argues that the performance of identity depends on the context as well as the material of performance. Furthermore, the book demonstrates that sympotic lyric overwhelmingly prefers to use identity rhetoric that insists on the inherent sameness of group members. All non-English text and quotes are translated with the original languages given alongside the translation or in the endnotes.

Southern Identity and Southern Estrangement in Medieval Chinese Poetry Ping Wang, Nicholas Morrow Williams, 2015-01-01 From ancient times China's remote and exotic South, a shifting and expanding region beyond the Yangtze River, has been an enduring theme in Chinese literature. For poets and scholar-officials in medieval China, the South was a barbaric frontier region of alienation and disease. But it was also a place of richness and fascination, and for some a site of cultural triumph over exile. The eight essays in this collection explore how tensions between pride in southern culture and anxiety over the alien qualities of the southern frontier were behind many of the distinctive features of medieval Chinese literature. They examine how prominent writers from this period depicted themselves and the South in poetic form through attitudes that included patriotic attachment and bitter exile. By the Tang dynasty, poetic symbols and clichés about the exotic South had become well established, though many writers were still able to use these in innovative ways. Southern Identity and Southern Estrangement in Medieval Chinese Poetry is the first work in English to examine the cultural South in classical Chinese poetry. The book incorporates original research on key poets such as Lu Ji, Jiang Yan, Wang Bo, and Li Bai. It also offers a broad survey of cultural and historical trends during the medieval period as depicted in poetry. The book will be of interest to students of Chinese literature and cultural history. Ping Wang is assistant professor of Chinese at University of Washington Seattle. Nicholas Morrow Williams is research assistant professor at the Mr. Simon Suen and Mrs. Mary Suen Sino Humanitas Institute, Hong Kong Baptist University. A long overdue appreciation of the South as a center for the production of medieval Chinese literature, as well as a focal point of Chinese cultural and intellectual reflection and identity, this collection of essays by a stellar roster of leading scholars offers an immensely rich contribution to the study of classical Chinese poetry. Martin Kern, Greg 84 and Joanna P13 Zeluck, Professor in Asian Studies, Princeton University. This book presents a systematic study of how the symbol of the southland was reinvented in medieval Chinese literature, taking readers on a cultural and geographic journey to survey the continuous rewriting of the South and its identity Yu Yu Cheng

BABAYEVA-SHUKUROVA,SHAHISMAYIL ISMAYILOV,CIHANGIR ISHBILIR,2025-08-25 The history of world philosophical thought is mainly based on the study and presentation of the development path of Western philosophy There is an objective reality here Because in Europe philosophy emerged at the level of science even before our era and developed at a great speed The famous Plato Academy which operated in Ancient Greece played an important role in the history of world philosophical thought The names and services of Socrates who is considered the teacher of Western philosophy and Aristotle whom Platos Academy gave to humanity are famous in the world For many years Aristotle has been considered the most powerful representative of world philosophical thought The foundations of the vast majority of scientific fields that exist in the modern world today were laid by Aristotle In the Middle Ages and later periods Western philosophy also had world renowned philosophers such as Georg Hegel Immanuel Kant Friedrich Nietzsche and others Along with all this philosophical thought in the Turkic world has emerged since ancient times and has undergone its own unique development However for several reasons the study and teaching and even the promotion of Turkish philosophical thought has remained in the background First of all since Turkish philosophical thought in ancient times arose and developed mainly through oral folk literature and folklore examples are rightly considered examples of fiction it has not been studied from a philosophical perspective for a long time In my opinion in the light of independence there is a sufficiently rich material for conducting research on philosophical thought in the oral folk literature of each of the Turkic peoples and writing monographs Secondly the socio political and philosophical movements of the Turkic peoples in ancient times and the Middle Ages were largely criticized and not included in the scope of scientific research during the Soviet era which was a strictly atheist society because they were of a religious nature Movements such as Hurufism and Sufism which had been active for a long time in the Middle Ages were generally considered religious vi mystical teachings and presented as reactionary movements outside the scientific circulation Thirdly since the concept of national philosophy was limited during the Soviet period and only the direction of forming a unified Soviet socio philosophical thought was considered a priority the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples was not even remembered Only since the eighties of the 20th century have efforts been made to bring the history of philosophical thought of individual Turkic peoples including Azerbaijan to the agenda In any case the department of History of Azerbaijani Philosophical Thought is one of the relatively young scientific institutions of the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of ANAS As is known since the period of independence along with the history of world philosophical thought a certain revival has been observed in the field of studying the path of development of the philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples However this process has been developed over the past thirty years with the expansion of the tendency to study the history of philosophical thought of each of the Turkic peoples separately Thus dissertations monographs and articles dedicated to the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic Uzbek Kazakh Kyrgyz Turkmen peoples as well as the history of philosophical thought of Azerbaijan or the scientific heritage of those who created philosophy in those peoples have begun to appear mainly since the period of independence This in turn has brought to mind the necessity of the emergence of the concepts of the history of all Turkic philosophical thought or Turkish philosophy

Identity-Focused ELA Teaching Richard Beach,Anthony Johnston,Amanda Haertling Thein,2015-03-05 Countering the increased standardization of English language arts instruction requires recognizing and fostering students unique identity construction across different social and cultural contexts Drawing on current sociocultural theories of identity construction this book posits that students construct multiple identities through use of five identity practices adopting alternative perspectives exploring connections across people and texts negotiating identities across social worlds developing agency through critical analysis and reflecting on long term identity trajectories Identity Focused ELA Teaching features classroom activities teachers can use to put these practices into action in ways that re center implementing the Common Core State Standards case study profiles of students and classrooms from urban suburban and rural schools adopting these practices and descriptions of how teachers both support students with this instructional approach and share their own identity construction experiences with their students It demonstrates how as students acquire identity focused practices through engagements with literature writing drama and digital texts they gain awareness of the ways exposure to different narratives beliefs and perspectives serves to mediate their own and others identities leading to different ways of being and becoming over time poetry to cyberspace narrativity American Poetry in Performance Tyler Hoffman, 2013-05-29 American Performance Poetry is the first book to trace a comprehensive history of performance poetry in America from Whitman through the rap meets poetry scene and to show how the performance of poetry is bound up with the performance of identity and nationality in the modern period This book will be a meaningful contribution both to the field of American poetry studies and to the fields of cultural and performance studies as it focuses on poetry that refuses the status of fixed aesthetic object and in its variability performs versions of race class gender and sexuality both on and off the page Relating the performance of poetry to shifting political and cultural ideologies in the United States Hoffman argues that the vocal aspect of public poetry possesses or has been imagined to possess the ability to help construct both national and subaltern communities In doing so American Performance Poetry explores public poets confrontations with emergent sound recording and communications technologies as those confrontations shape their mythologies of the spoken word and their corresponding notions about America and Americanness Decolonizing Middle Level Literacy Instruction Michael Domínguez, Robyn Seglem, 2023-06-30 This text offers pre service and in service teachers pragmatic strategies for teaching middle grades literacy in culturally proactive and sustaining ways By demystifying big ideas and complex concepts Domínguez and Seglem provide clear pathways and lessons for illuminating and engaging with race ethnicity culture and identity in the middle grade English Language Arts classroom While addressing social justice equity diversity and liberation can seem intimidating or unrelated to classroom practice the authors demonstrate how weaving such questions into instruction benefits students development The guidance strategies and lessons in this book provide an answer to the question What does decolonial literacy teaching look like Concrete but not prescriptive the authors encourage us to reconsider accepted logics of schooling so that we can better support adolescents as they navigate complex identity landscapes Bringing together disparate conversations around reading writing identity and decolonial thinking and specifically tailored to the middle grades this book serves as a comprehensive toolkit for praxis and covers such topics as cultural change community connections and racial literacy Each chapter features tips on reading and writing instruction Teacher Spotlights Planning Questions and Additional Resources to make it easy for educators to apply the strategies to their own contexts An accessible entry to addressing challenging questions around identity in the classroom this book is essential reading in courses and professional development on ELA and literacy methods as well as teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students For teachers looking to push toward equity and reshape literacy education so that it serves all middle grade students Domínguez and Seglem offer plenty of accessible and motivating places to start Identity Poetics Linda Garber, 2001-10-17 Queer theory asserts Linda Garber alternately buries and vilifies lesbian feminism missing its valuable insights and ignoring its rich contributions Rejecting the either/or choice between lesbianism and queer theory she favors an inclusive approach that defies current factionalism In an eloquent challenge to the privileging of queer theory in the academy Garber calls for recognition of the historical and intellectually significant role of lesbian poets as theorists of lesbian identity and activism The connections Garber shows are most clearly seen when looking at the pivotal work of working class lesbians of color whose articulations of multiple simultaneous identity positions and activist politics both belong to lesbian feminism and presage queer theory Identity Poetics includes a critical overview of recent historical writing about the women's and lesbian feminist movements of the 1970s discussions of the works of Judy Grahn Pat Parker Audre Lorde Adrienne Rich and Gloria Anzaldúa and finally a chapter on the rise and hegemony of queer theory within lesbian studies Éirinn & Iran go Brách Mansour

Bonakdarian, 2023-12-05 This book analyzes particular patterns of nationalist self configuration and nationalist uses of memory counter memory and historical amnesia in Ireland from roughly around the time of the emergence of a broad based non sectarian Irish nationalist platform in the late eighteenth century the Society of United Irishmen until Ireland's partition and the founding of the Irish Free State in 1922 In approaching Irish nationalism through the particular historical lens of Iran this book underscores the fact that Irish nationalism during this period and even earlier always utilized a historical paradigm that grounded Anglo Irish encounters and Irish nationalism in the broader world history a process that I term worlding of Ireland In effect Irish nationalism was always politically and culturally cosmopolitan in outlook in some formulations even in the case of many nationalists who resorted to insular and narrowly defined exclusionary ethnic and or religious formulations of the Irish nation Irish nationalists as nationalists in many other parts of the world recurrently imagined their own history either in contrast to or as reflected in the histories of peoples and lands elsewhere even while claiming the historical uniqueness of the Irish experience Present in a wide range of Irish nationalist political cultural and historical utterances were assertions of past and or present affinities with other peoples and lands The Architecture of Address Jake Adam York, 2004-05

The Architecture of Address traces the evolution of an American species of lyric capable of public pronouncement without polemic Beginning with Whitman Jake Adam York seeks to describe a kind of poem wherein the most ambitious poets including Hart Crane and Robert Lowell occupy and reconstruct important public spaces This study argues that American poets become civic actors when their poems imagine and reconstruct the conceptual architecture of the monument Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson Agnieszka Salska, 2016-11-11

Agnieszka Salska's illuminating study of the patterns of consciousness in the poetry of two major nineteenth century American poets borrows from Northrop Frye's phrase the structure of the poet's imagination Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson the first extensive book comparing the two poets builds on the shorter works by Karl Keller and Albert Gelpi and is further augmented by Salska's outside viewpoint from her native Poland Her extensive research in the United States in 1984 ensures the timeliness of the work and makes the study truly valuable That Dickinson and Whitman shared a common ground of aspiration for existential wholeness is made clearer to twentieth century readers by Salska's argument which traces the poets heritage from Ralph Waldo Emerson Although both poets begin with the same vision that the artist's mind is solely responsible for the organization of the universe their realizations of that image diverge radically Salska's keen judicious observations add much to our understanding of the poets both as individuals and as contemporaries Her book will be of great interest to students of Whitman and Dickinson poetry and American literature The clarity of style makes the book invaluable to undergraduates graduate students and scholars in general

Ottoman Propaganda and Turkish Identity Erol

Koroglu, 2007-07-21 The Great War was the first example of a total war in history reflected in the cultures and literatures of Europe in the shape of propaganda What began as civic patriotism developed into a weapon of war programmed and organized by the state to devastating effect In almost all countries writers of different ideological hues were ready to undertake the job of representing the war in accordance with the state's guidance War propaganda in the Ottoman Empire the most anachronistic belligerent of the war according to historians was condemned to failure In the underdeveloped and multi ethnic Ottoman Empire the Ottoman Turkish intelligentsia could not produce adequate propaganda to support the battlefronts and the home front Why did propaganda efforts die after 1915 Can this be explained with the laziness or cosmopolitanism of the cultural agents Or did the lack of propaganda derive from reasons that are more material Erol Koroglu seeks to address these questions in a unique interdisciplinary assessment of Turkish literature and propaganda interpreting literary texts written by the representative writers of the period These interpretations follow a literary cultural history method and give an analysis of the complex interaction between literary texts and the historical context Koroglu discusses the subjects of First World War propaganda Turkish nationalism and national identity construction He concludes that the unfavourable conditions in the Ottoman Turkish cultural sphere the literature of the years 1914-1918 even if superficially full of propaganda aims was essentially the continuation of a project to build a national culture inherited from the pre war years and never completed Turkish literature therefore did not reflect powerful propaganda but was more a difficult attempt to create national identity
