Another View From The Park Regis McCafferty,2003-07-23 These poems represent the musings of a man an intelligent man a world traveler a man in his fifties going slightly mad from booze and grief and a perception of a world in a headlong rush to a future he does not understand and has no wish to We know him only as Tweed But we re never sure whether he is speaking of Tweed himself or Tweed as alter ego and we see his world perhaps our world through his eyes We wander with him in the past sometimes in the present and very rarely in the future For him there is no future only the daily task of living it through and this collection is a journey with him

II Recovering obscure texts written in France Germany England and America Golston argues that Rhythmics was instrumental in generating an international modern art and should become a major consideration in our reading of reactionary avant garde poetry
